2 Crewmen Die In Train Wreck Near Grayville

Baggageman Hurt, 50 Passengers Escape Injury

NEW ORLEANS, May 16 (AP) — Two crewmen were killed and a third hurt but more than 50 passengers escaped injury today when Missouri Pacific passenger train plowed off the track.

The steam engine, its coal tender and a baggage car overturned near Grayville, La., about 37 miles north of here.

"It was a miracle that none of the passengers were hurt," said Robert Hubbard, a passenger on train from Iuka, Miss.

The engineer and the fireman were killed in the crash when the coal tender hurtled into the locomotive. A baggageman was injured.

Passengers sought to rescue the crewmen, but were turned back by escaping steam.

"Nobody could get through that steam," said Air Force Cadet Hugh Graham, stationed in Houston, Tex. "We just saw that nothing could be done."

He added, "We could see the two men down in there. I don't think they knew what hit them. Coal was piled on top of them. The coal must have slid out of the coal car in back of them."

The engineer, identified as Clyde M. Wright, 65, of Baton Rouge, was found by rescuers with his hand frozen to the reverse throttle of the engine. In 45 years of railroading this was his first serious wreck.

The fireman, Will Mills, 62, also of Baton Rouge, was crushed underneath the engine.

Baggageman I. H. Kerr, 66, of Houston, Tex., suffered minor bruises when the baggage car turned over.

Rescue parties still hadn't cut the bodies from the tangled wreckage early this evening.

Railroad officials said the line would be blocked until late today. They said they were rerouting traffic on the single track road over Louisiana and Arkansas railroad tracks.

The train was the Missouri Pacific's No. 10, which runs from Houston to New Orleans with a stop at Baton Rouge. From Baton Rouge to New Orleans it is operated on Illinois Central tracks by I. C. personnel.

MISS MONROE OF 1953?—Mrs. Roy Holloway, who is in charge of the selection of contestants for the Miss Monroe contest, slated here next month, is shown as she places a crown on the first to register for the beauty pageant, Miss Pat Parnell. Miss Parnell, who graduates from Neville High School this month, will compete with more than a dozen other beauties for the coveted title. She plans to attend the University of Arkansas next fall. ## Tornado Rakes Lewisburg; 3 Persons Hurt

Damage To Many Homes; Family Is Dumped In Pond

LEWISBURG, La., May 16 (AP) — Three persons were injured today in a pre-dawn tornado that ripped through this tiny farming community, damaging a score of homes and dumping a family of seven into a pond.

Lewisburg is located about 12 miles southwest of Opelousas in Central Louisiana.

St. Landry Parish deputy sheriffs said the twister dipped down out of the southwest about 4 a. m., cutting a 500-foot wide swatch through the little town, disrupting power lines, and completely leveling four homes.

About 20 other buildings — some of them business establishments — were damaged in the violent thunder and lightning storms that accompanied the swirling black funnel.

The injured were identified as Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hanks, who were asleep when their home was destroyed, and the wife of Weston Singleton, whose whole family had to be rescued when the twister scooped up their tenant cabin and dumped it in a plantation pond.

Lafayette Charity Hospital reported all three suffered multiple cuts, bruises and scalp lacerations. None was in serious condition.

Charles Bourque, reported to be the owner of the town's only telephone, said the tornado first hit on the plantation of Bernard Ray Jr., wrecking two tenant cabins, one of them occupied by the Singletons and their five children.

"We had to fish all seven out of the pond," he said. "But only the woman was injured."

Four Injured In Richland

Many Houses Wrecked By Heavy Winds

Punishing Weather Hits, Runs Through Northeast La.

RAYVILLE, La., May 16 (Special) — Four people were injured, one seriously, in storms which plagued the area last night. W. O. Frith, of Rayville, suffered a broken leg, and after first aid treatment was brought to St. Francis Sanitarium in Monroe.

Rebecca and Larry Green, both of Rayville, were treated for lacerations at the Ball - Ellington clinic after their home collapsed. Roberta Perkins, Negro of north of Holly Ridge, was also treated for lacerations.

Richland parish sheriff's office reported that four or five houses were demolished by the storm. A store and chicken hatchery owned by Fred Kidd, one mile east of town on route 80, were left in ruin by the winds. Kidd's home was also blown off its foundation.

Three houses on the Moore and N. C. Woods property were demolished and the front was blown off of Jones' Store. Several houses in the colored section of town were also wrecked.

Two automobiles—the sheriff's office was unable to identify the owners—were crumbled. One was said to have been blown about a quarter of a mile into a bayou, and the other about half that distance.

Telephone and power lines and trees were felled throughout the area. State police stated that route 80 in the vicinity of the stricken town may have to be closed until the debris can be cleared from the highway.

A small tornado struck the Timon plantation in Natchitoches parish, and blew the roof off a brick house and demolished six tenant houses, the Associated Press reported.

Sheriff Earl Morris stated that he saw a large truck blown over on Highway 20 between Natchitoches and Powhattan. Morris also said that the road between Natchitoches and Campti was littered with limbs and that the road to Saline, to the

Twin Cities Blacked Out, Flooded Temporarily In Heavy, Wind-Driven Rain

Heavy, wind-driven rains pounded the Twin Cities last night for several hours turning streets into temporary lakes, and tossing many sections into darkness.

The rain which fell faster than it could be carried off backed up and flooded most of the streets. Fred Hill at the City garage told the Morning World that all pumps on storm sewers were in operation and that the water would eventually be carried off.

Hill said that two trees were reported downed by the storm, one on Mulberry Street, the other on Jackson Street. The one on Jackson Street was cleared away, but the tree on Mulberry Street had fallen into power lines, and could not be moved until this morning The block was closed until the "hot" wires can be repaired.

A power failure during the peak of the wind-rain storm blacked out the entire north side of Monroe above Louisville, a Morning World survey showed. Several other sections south of Louisville were also tossed into darkness.

The power failure lasted for several hours.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration officials at Selman Field stated that at the height of the storm winds had reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour.

At 8 p. m. the City Police reported that they had received notice

STILL HARNESSED — Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins, whose retirement was to become effective today, will continue active on the Western district bench. The Monroe jurist will wait until President Eisenhower appoints a successor. Today marks his 29th year on the federal bench.

Retirement For Dawkins Is Blighted

Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins, of the Western district of Louisiana, becomes officially retired today but only in name. He will continue on the bench in this district until a successor can be named, he said last night.

Judge Dawkins announced last Dec. 21 that he planned to retire May 17, but fate worked against his plans. The subsequent death of Federal Judge Gaston L. Porterie put added demands on Judge Dawkins and placed him in the position of creating a second vacancy if he left the bench as originally scheduled.

Today marks the 29th anniversary of Dawkins' service on the federal bench.

Asked last night if he had any knowledge of when the two judgeships would be filled, Judge Dawkins said he had no idea.

The veteran jurist, still sharp, aggressive and alert, said in announcing his retirement last year that he felt physically fit to carry on in active service for years. But, he said: "With rare exceptions old people are the last to recognize or at least admit their feelings." He is 71.

When he originally announced plans to retire, before the death of Judge Porterie, Judge Dawkins

President Firm On $5-Billion In Funds Cut

Nod To Wilson Said Aimed At Political Critics

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported today to be in a mood to crack down on officials who may resist a proposed five billion dollar cut in Air Force funds.

Congressional leaders who have talked to him say they expect the President to devote part of his radio report to the nation Tuesday night to discussion of his administration's program for the Air Force. This program is described by its backers as designed to put more combat planes in the air while reducing former President Truman's request for long-range appropriations.

In informal talks, the President is said to have expressed the opinion that the Truman program for a maximum strength eventually of 143 wings represented only a "paper" goal.

Eisenhower is reported to have told lawmakers that his own look at the Air Force has convinced him it is just beginning to get in quantity the planes it needs. He is said to feel that the pressing job now is to fill up existing wings as fast as possible and let future goals take care of themselves.

There were clear indications the President has little patience with those who argue about these ultimate goals and who would resist, even covertly, the slicing of appropriations which would authorize future contracts. He apparently will brook no battle within his administration similar to the Air Force-Navy fight over B36 bombers during the Truman regime.

Eisenhower's reported intent to uphold strongly Secretary of Defense Wilson's Air Force cut apparently would be designed to meet Democratic criticism of such a move.

The President apparently has satisfied Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, and other big Air Force advocates among the Republicans that his program is safe from a security standpoint. At the same time, he seems to have blocked off their hopes for deeper cuts elsewhere in the arms program.

Tidelands Oil Measure To Get Ike Signature

WASHINGTON, May 16 — UP — President Eisenhower will sign the controversial tidelands bill Monday, giving coastal states title to offshore lands that may hide a multi-billion dollar treasure of oil and gas.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced the President's plans Saturday from aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, on which Mr. Eisenhower was cruising in Chesapeake Bay.

Former President Truman twice —in 1946 and 1948—vetoed similar legislation. The first time, Congress sustained the veto. The second time, advocates of state ownership did not even try to override Mr. Truman.

The bill passed Congress this time only after a bitter, five-week fight in the Senate. The GOP leadership accused opponents—a self-styled "little band of liberals"—of filibustering. Among them was Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.), who kept the floor continuously for a record 22-hour, 26-minute speech.

The political heat on the bill did not end with congressional passage. Only Saturday, 22 opponents made public a letter to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., demanding to know if he will bring a court test against the measure. They contend the bill upsets a series of Supreme Court decisions.

The same 22—Morse and 21 Democrats—also asked Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to outline international difficulties that may arise from the legislation.

11 Red Planes Downed By U. S. Fighter Pilots

SEOUL, Sunday, May 17 (AP)—Paced by the world's leading jet ace who bagged his 14th Red jet, U. S. Sabre pilots shot down 11 Communist MIGs and damaged six Saturday in day - long sky battles over MIG Alley in Northwest Korea.

On the ground, Allied troops and artillery killed and wounded more than 1,300 of 4,000 Chinese making heavy hit-and-run attacks on the Central Front, apparently aimed at killing as many U. N. troops as possible. U. N. losses were not announced.

The air and ground action, heaviest for a single day since last fall, coincided with agreement at Panmunjom to recess the stalled truce talks for three days.

In sky clashes with scores of Red MIGs, the three best-known U. S. jet aces of the Korean War each shot down an enemy jet Saturday. Capt. Manuel Fernandez of Miami, Fla., got his 14th after a close call in which he had to roll his Sabre over another MIG to avoid a collision.

Only a short time before that, Capt. Joseph McConnell of Apple Valley, Calif., had tied Fernandez at 13 by hitting a MIG pilot with his second burst of fire.

U. S. Allies Lack Ammo In Europe

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — House investigators reported today Allied forces in Europe lack enough fuel and ammunition to fight, and they quoted one high officer as saying nothing is being done to improve the situation.

Defenses of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will be "inadequate" until European nations "believe in, and are willing to organize and finance adequate logistic support (supplies)," said the report by a special House foreign affairs subcommittee.

European nations failed to provide enough money for logistics primarily because none of them had "any feeling that a Soviet attack was imminent," the report said.

Only the "presence, leadership and assistance of the United States," it added, prevents NATO "from becoming hopelessly bogged down."

The five-member group, after a two weeks' tour of France and Italy, recommended that "all foreign aid programs should be reviewed and evaluated" to determine if "they contribute materially to the defense of the United States."

Jes' Ramblin'

West Monroe had a big day Saturday for it marked the opening of the First National Bank there which is housed in an expensive modernistic structure recently completed and down-to-the-minute in appointments.

H. A. McDonald, president, with other leaders in West Monroe, have worked faithfully to establish this new institution which opens with capital of $250,000 and surplus of $50,000. There are 159 stockholders, and the institution starts off with every indication of success.

The schools of Monroe are now entering their baccalaureate and commencement week. This after-

Three Small Boys Escape Flaming Tower In Leap

STOCKTON, Calif., May 16 (AP)—A sobbing, horrified crowd watched helplessly today while three small boys, trapped on top of a blazing 75-foot tower, tried to choose between jumping into a firemen's net or burning to death.

They finally . . . well, this is how it happened:

The boys had climbed into an old abandoned water tower to celebrate Billy Clayton's 12th birthday with a few forbidden cigarettes. The dry, wooden structure caught fire and the boys were cut off from the ground.

As the flames swirled up from below, the terrified lads scrambled to the roof and huddled together. Within minutes, the fire was licking at their feet.

More than 500 people surrounded the tower, begging the boys to leap into a fireman's net rigged below. Many of the spectators wept as billowing smoke hid the trapped lads.

Firemen put up a ladder, but it

Thirsty Youth Robs Bank For Liquor Money

MAMOU, La., May 16—UP—A thirsty, 20-year old youth robbed the Guaranty Bank of Mamou of $9,678 Saturday, without a gun, then walked across the street to a bar, pounded on the counter and demanded: "Now give me that drink, here's plenty of dough."

The bartender at the Cazan Hotel lounge had just a few minutes earlier refused to give the youth, Luther Guillory another drink because Guillory was broke.

The youth left the bar, got a paper sack, wrote a threatening note then walked calmly into the bank.

City Is Notified New Fire Truck Is On Way Here

Fire Chief H. L. Hales announced yesterday that he had received a letter from the American La France Company in Elmyra, N. Y., which stated that the truck ordered for the new fire station on Forsythe Avenue had been shipped. It is due to arrive here Friday.

"The truck, which will probably be unloaded at the end ramp at Five points, will not become city property until it passes a strenuous test," the chief asserted. The test which will be witnessed by a representative of the Louisiana Rating and Fire Prevention Bureau, and an agent of the manufacturer, will consist of running the truck's pumps at full capacity for two hours, three-fourth capacity for one hour and one-half capacity for one hour. If the truck fails to meet the requirements of the test, it will be refused by the city.

The performance of all fire trucks purchased by any fire department in the state, with the possible exception of small volunteer organizations, must be approved by the LRFPB before acceptance.

Chief Hales, who was attending annual convention of the Southwestern Fire Chiefs' Association in Oklahoma City earlier this week, left for Monroe Tuesday before the meeting was ended, when he received the news that the Twin Cities had been alerted for an emergency. Hales was accompanied by the fire chief from Bastrop.

AERIAL MANEUVERS

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE, Miss., May 16 (AP) —Almost 400 planes from 13 Air Force and Naval air bases gave a day-long demonstration of acrobatics and tactical maneuvers today during the Armed Forces Day celebration at this big Air Force base.

Ellender To Oppose 'Shelf' Bill Rush

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) made it clear today he will not stand for any hurry-up consideration of a bill to grant the federal government jurisdiction over the submerged lands of the Continental Shelf.

The House approved such a measure earlier in the week in rapid-fire order. The bill was introduced one day and passed the next. It went to the Senate.

Brownell Pushes Government Job Selling Charges

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today announced a crackdown on alleged federal job selling in Georgia and said the practice will "not be tolerated anywhere by anyone."

The attorney general said a federal grand jury in Savannah had indicted six persons on charges of either soliciting money or offering money in connection with the post office jobs.

Brownell said he ordered the investigation April 2 immediately after Republican leaders in Georgia informed him of alleged job selling recommendations for postal appointments.

Truman Backs Armed Might For Security

KANSAS CITY ,Kan., May 16 —UP—Former President Truman said Saturday the welfare of the nation and the welfare of the world is "wrapped up in the fact we have the military services which will back up our demands for peace."

That, Mr. Truman said, is what it takes.

New Orleans Sugar Imports Rated Tops

NEW ORLEANS, May 16 (AP) — Harry Hardin Sr., president of the New Orleans Dock Board, announced today that New Orleans last year was the nation's first ranking port in imports of sugar, molasses and burlap and bagging.

Hardin's report was based on figures of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

New Orleans was second in imports of sisal, jute and other bagging and rope materials, coffee and bananas.

Back Into The Free World

Oatis Describes Red Prison Life, News Blackout

NUERNBERG, Germany, May 16 (AP)—Thin and pale, Reporter William Nathan Oatis returned to the free world today from Czechoslovakia's Pankrac Prison, where for two years he was so cut off from outside news that "I did not even know Stalin had died."

Stalin's picture "was still on the wall," the AP correspondent told about 100 reporters and photographers after driving through the Iron Curtain frontier under escort of officials from the U. S. Embassy in Prague.

Jailed because Czechoslovak leaders considered as spying his insistence on reporting accurately about their Communist regime, he was pardoned by President Antonin Zapotocky last night and was released this morning.

Bolstered by a fresh shave, a haircut and a hearty meal, the 39-year-old Hoosier faced the news conference in the ballroom of the Hotel Grand, a structure requisitioned by the U. S. Army.

He said he was not "subjected to terrorism or mishandled" by the Czech Communists and his treatment in general was good. He was in the prison hospital for a month for treatment of tuberculosis and said the disease disappeared. He reported he is "feeling great now."

"I am glad to be out of prison," Oatis said with a smile. "And I am thankful to all who helped me get out."

By President Zapotocky's announcement, the pardon was the result of a poignant letter from Oatis' wife. Laurabelle, who lives in St. Paul, Minn. Oatis is expected to return within a day or two to the United States for a reunion with her.

But Oatis declined to discuss his trial on charges of espionage, or his 10-year sentence, denounced by th U. S. State Department as a travesty of justice.

Asked by a reporter for the Voice of America radio network to "say a few words regarding your innocence and the methods by which your confession was obtained," Oatis said:

"I would rather let the record of the trial speak for itself as to the case. As to the methods used in investigating my case, I can say they were efficient and adequate."

"Were you subjected to open terrorism or mishandled?" a reporter asked.

"No, I was not," Oatis answered firmly.

But he said he was "interrogated under methods usual in some countries and unusual in others." He added "psychology was used."

Asked about his treatment in prison and whether it was the same throughout his confinement, Oatis replied: "The treatment varied from time to time, but in general it was good."

During most of his confinement, Oatis had a cellmate. But he received no newspapers and could hear no radio broadcasts.

His comment about Stalin came when he was asked if he noticed any change in the attitude of the Czech Communists that might be connected with the death of the Russian leader last March.

"Do you agree with the official attitude of the United States government that you were convicted for working in Czechoslovakia just like any other news reporter would have done?" one newsman asked.

Oatis looked at the questioner and said emphatically: "I am not going to express an opinion on that, please."

Another reporter asked Oatis to "say a few words about the thousands of Czechs and Slovaks still in prison for nothing more than loyalty to their old traditions, and about the recent general amnesty for Czech prisoners."

"I'm sorry for anybody in prison anywhere," Oatis said. "But I can't say anything about the amnesty because I never heard of it."

The Present World Situation
A Growing Crisis

On this May morning of 1953, there is growing concern among the free nations of the Western world as to how much longer the bonds of friendship developed during the past war can hold together. There are several fundamental differences which have creeped out of the Attlee statement made last week concerning the U. S. foreign policy. This was not apparent in the first hours after the speech but now has become more noticeable.

The first is the British opinion that Red China should be admitted to the U. N. This, the U. S. cannot allow. The second is the prisoner of war issue. The British are blaming the U. S. for holding up the peace talks and perhaps throwing them to the winds. The third, the British are demanding that the U. S. take part in the four power peace talks. On these three issues, the U. S. and the British are seriously and fundamentally split.

The Communists are playing this to the very best of their advantage. So are, unfortunately, the British newspapers. Also, the British and the French are split. The British are demanding that the French leave Indo-China after the war there is "over." They are demanding that there be guarantees to this effect. Far worse, they are making statements to the effect that the French should d r a f t men for that fight. The French are furious at such statements and have informed the British to keep out of their affairs.

The Arab states are in a serious state of unrest as the British have sent armed reenforcements to the Suez area. General Naguib has informed them that they have three months to "clear out" lest there be shooting. The British are expecting the U. S. to back them up, while the U. S. relations are severely strained with the Arab league nations concerning the Israeli question. Iran threatens daily to go to the Communists. There is considerable unrest in Africa and even more in the Latin and South American nations. On top of this, there is a serious financial crisis at hand in France, threatening to topple the franc to an even lower mark. Should this happen, the French government is expected to fall. The Swiss bankers are already selling the franc on lower margin in expectation of such a drop. This speculation does not help the situation.

There is a growing demand in the U. S. to cut foreign aid and reduce expenses. Should this happen, there are many European nations which will regard this as "desertion." They are demanding that the U. S. stop complaining about their trade with the Communist bloc nations. They are further talking about reducing their commitments to the NATO body. T h i s cannot be allowed.

Now, every American knows who this situation helps. In fact, it is "made to order" for the Communist rulers in Moscow and is considerably strengthening their position. This unrest and dissention among the Allies will most certainly prompt Malenkov and Beria into further expansion. A new crisis has developed from the already existing trouble. Far from the retreat which many newspapers erroneously advertised as being definite, the Communists have established great bases in Laos, not forty miles from the capitol of that embattled state. These bases, it is believed, are staging areas for the advance into Burma which is certain to follow as soon as the season of the monsoons is over. The British, who support Red China over Chiang are attempting to throw any "sop into the pail" which is Communist China, in an effort to stop Communist aggression. They are forgetting lessons learned in 1938 and '39 at Munich. Throwing Formosa to the Communists (which the British advocate) will be similar to throwing a two-ounce piece of steak to a lion. It only makes him hungrier. Not only that, it would destroy the Pacific defense perimeter.

At this time in the history of the world, there needs to be unity. The free nations must settle their differences in the face of certain disaster which will come unless a strong front is established. Every difference between the U. S. and her allies is seized by the Communists who shove their battering ram into the slightest crack to open the floodgates of disaster. As is the Ouachita river, the waters of this disaster are daily mounting and pressing against the dam.

Unless the British, the French and others can give up a little of their own preference and lean heavier to the U. S., which after all, is paying for the operation of this "cold war," there will be further differences. The main aim of Stalin, and one which he never lived to see, was a final and complete split between the two great friends; Britain and the U. S. When this happens, disaster will swiftly occur. As this paper has time and time again said, the Oriental philosophy of divide and conquer is a main weapon used by the Communists. The greatest victory for them would be to split the Allies into warring factions and pick them off, one by one. Lenin said that it would perhaps never be necessary to use armed revolution against the capitalists as those nations would fall to Communism by their own differences. His words as of this date, are being borne out. The Russians have many times used peace as a wedge to drive between the Allies. This, they are employing again; employing with terrible results. The European Allies are following the "Pied Pipers" of Moscow much as did the mice. Pipers Malenkov and Beria will lead them right into the flood of destruction.

Not since the days of Dunkirk has the free alliance been in such a serious predicament. Then, there was a certainty that Hitlerism had to be defeated. Now, the threat is worse. It is not in the present shape of shells and bombs, it is in what can happen in the future, and the lack of certainty on the part of many Allies that Communism can or should be defeated. The American people, who are relative neophites in this game of Machtpolitik are having to lead the parade. However, the parade is not following in the prescribed march manner. One platoon, which is the British, is going in one direction and the other, the French, is going the other. Uncle Sam, the parade leader, is pleading with them not to join that other parade, the one to certain defeat.

One can only hope and pray that God will give guidance to a brave American who sits in the leader's seat. American differences at home, in the face of this crisis, must be resolved and all attention be turned to giving assistance to Dwight Eisenhower in this, his finest hour. Never forget, Americans, what a great American once said concerning the dissolution of the nation which he loved, every state of it, "united we stand, divided, we fall." Keep this on your mind and keep informed as to the news. These are days of trouble and each and every American bears a terrible load on his shoulders.

On Loyalty

In these days of changing ways and modes, loyalty to one's firm or to the job which an employee holds seems a thing passe in many cases. The better the employer is to the employed, the worse the attitude of the latter seems to be toward the employer.

A job can easily make your life, or perhaps break it. Your attitude at work will make your reputation. Promotions and advances in salary are made not solely on "how much work one puts out" but on your attitude. If you can show your employer that you consider yourself part of his plan and part of the organization, willing and ready to work long hours for the organization without expectations of great increases in salary, eventually, those increases will come without your asking.

There is today, altogether too much emphasis on "over time" down to the last minute. If you charge your employer for every minute you stay at work over and above your required hours, he will honestly believe that you have no particular interest in your job no matter how much work you manage to put out. There is a growing feeling that this is only the case among non-skilled workers.

What an erroneous conclusion.

The non-skilled worker spends many hours learning his trade over and above the required amount of time. The office personnel in many branches of business is today perhaps more guilty than the manual laborer or the tradesman, of "punching the clock." It is realized that when the day is over, and you are tired and want to go home, that is the time to leave. However, it is only time to leave if your work is done to what you believe will not only satisfy your employer, but will please him.

There never was the person who in business, got ahead by trying to see how little he could do in the greatest amount of time. The employer knows your work for the simple reason that nine times out of ten, he has done that same job himself on the "way up." You are living in a fool's paradise if you think you are fooling him.

Business is to a great degree, like life. It is based entirely on cycles. Men start out young in business. If they are willing and able, they progress. As they progress, there must be someone to take their place. That may be you if you are willing and ready.

A good measure of examination for your ability to please the employer is to put yourself in his place. Would the work you do and the way you do it please you if you were in the boss's shoes? If you think that you are honestly trying to do a job in the best manner possible, it is certain that in most cases, the boss will agree with you. Far from the amount of work a man can produce as being a standard of judgement is that standard of dependability and the knowledge on the part of your company that can always depend on you.

If you do your job, over and above what is expected, it is certain that there can never be any condemnation of your work, only praise. In business as in anything else, quality and dependability is better than quantity and lack of trustworthiness.

These are days of tough competition. More and more men and women are graduating from colleges and universities trained in special skills. For each advancement, there is and will be, keen competition. All the college degrees in the world cannot take the place of a dependable man "who catches on quick" and does his job to the best of his ability. Sometimes, young men believe that they know it all and unfortunately, they attempt to tell their company officers and superiors of their greater knowledge.

If you have this superior knowledge, let them find it out; they will. Remember, you are part of your organization. It is part of you. On your capability, no matter in what position you are in, your company stands. You may mean the difference between the success or the failure of your establishment. That success is directly connected to your standard of living in the community and your possibilities of getting ahead. The loyal employee's motto is easily discerned as, "although I don't own any part of this company, it is part of me. I'll do anything I can to help it succeed." If that is your motto, you will never have to worry about personal success.

That's real loyalty.

Soviet Classes

In several articles about Russia in Fortune Magazine is included a descripton of Soviet society as set up by the Kremlin. Widely hailed as a classless society, the communist regime in Russia has set up classes more rigid and more widely split as to rewards than are to be found in any other nation.

The rich consist of high members of the dictatorship and their families. They number approximately 200,000. They enjoy every known luxury. Ranking next to these are managers, minor officials and others with some power of command. These, with their families, total 20,000,000. They have some of the luxuries and gadgets.

Next come the industrial workers, approximately 28,000,000 people, and the men in the armed services. Their standard of living is not good and has registered no gain since 1938. Generally the wife has to work so the family may eke out an existence.

At the bottom of the scale are the peasants numbering 100,000,000, poorly housed and with few modern comforts. Well, not quite at the bottom of the scale. That dubious distinction belongs to the estimated 8,000,00 to 20,000,000 persons in forced labor camps. The condition of these is difficult to describe.

The Lattimore Story

John T. Flynn has become America's foremost pamphleteer. At the drop of an argument, he sits himself down and writes a brochure setting forth the rights and wrongs of a situation. His "The Road Ahead" has become a best seller without the consent of the book reviewers, particularly t h e "New York Times" and the "New York Herald Tribune" experts who only too often fail to give a living book a favorable review, yet heap encomiums upon volumes that prove to be all wrong in good time.

John T. Flynn has written another pamphlet. This time it is called "The Lattimore Story." To avoid any misunderstanding, I counsel all my readers to purchase and to read this pamphlet and to see that the neighbors do the same. Very shortly a book by the Earl of Jowitt on Alger Hiss will appear on the market. (I already have a copy of the English edition of Jowitt's book and will write of it in due course.) If you read Flynn's book first, you will understand Jowitt's better. Flynn is telling the downright truth; Jowitt is a British lawyer butting into something about which he knows too little.

So much for free advertising, which I do because most of the professional book reviews have ceased to be scholarly appraisals of the worth of a volume. They are rather plugs for colleagues; they are too often a part of a vast propaganda effort. Certainly on Far Eastern questions there has been an interlocking relationship between authors and book reviewers, centered in the Institute of Pacific Relations, that is little short of scandalous. How the big reviewers, the "New York Times," the "New York Herald Tribune," and the "Saturday Review" justify the course they have pursued, I have never heard, but it seems ridiculous that the IPR crowd had a virtual monopoly on book writing and book reviewing on the Far East.

Flynn explains how it was done and why, but whatever he says on the subject—and he says plenty—shows how these great publications fell for this conspiracy within a conspiracy. And to prove how silly and unimportant these reviews are, two of Flynn's books, "The Roosevelt Myth" and "The Road Ahead," sold phenomenally in spite of them. Also, Joe McCarthy's opus, "McCarthyism," also moved along despite the general adverse comment of those who bothered to review it. I sometimes wonder if these special book review journals do anything important for a book; they certainly have damaged some good books.

At any rate, they can no longer kill off a book because there are plenty of columnists and commentators who decline to fall in line. They will write book reviews if they think the book has news value or deals with the forces and events of our days. When, therefore, Flynn writes about Owen Lattimore, I know of three or four columnists and commentators w h o have a larger and more responsive circulation in this country than the graveyard book review journals, who will go to bat for a good book.

Now, to say a little about Flynn's book. He has read the record of the Lattimre case and finds that it is "the most incredible conspiracy of our time." That Flynn puts on the top cover of his book. It is his opinion, after making a full study of the subject. He summarizes, in one place, the data from the record as produced before Congressional committees.

Lattimore is now before the courts on a perjury charge. Presumably, when Flynn wrote his book, he expected that the case would have been tried; instead it has been postponed until October. But Lattimore is a small figure in a vast operation undertaken by the Institute of Pacific Relations. Flynn feels that at a certain point, Lattimore was the effective head of this group. I am sure that at all times, E. C. Carter was the real boss and that Lattimore stood in a subordinate position to Carter. However this may be, the evidence is conclusive that perhaps 60 men and women, never elected to public office, obscurely situated, managed through the Institute of Pacific Relations not only to control the American policy in Asia, but controlled it in the interest of Soviet Russia.

This fact, rather than Owen Lattimore, is what is really important and what we need to understand. John T. Flynn makes it clear. (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

We take our hats off to spring—and hope we can afford a new one!

Sometimes a man postpones advertising to sell his goods until he has to do it to sell his store.

Spring always brings the time of year when boys will be boys—even after they outgrow it.

According to some wives, the only taste a man has is in his mouth.

A scientist says there is 257,000 horsepower in a spoonful of water. He calls it water?

Salary Increase For Congress?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Members of congress who believe almost unanimously that their salaries should be $25,000 a year instead of the present $12,500, with an additional $2500 for expenses, may have a chance at this session to demonstrate whether they will vote that personal conviction.

The salary increase bill has been reported by the senate judiciary committee, with the blessing of Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.-Nev.) former chairman of the committee, one of the few members of congress ready to speak right out in favor of doubling their salaries. That pleases the Republicans, who would rather have such a bill sponsored by a Democrat, in view of the economy pledges of the Eisenhower administration.

Another Democrat who has spoken up for higher salaries is Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, Texas. Poage has said that congressional salaries must go up "if we are to retain independent representatives of moderate means in congress.

He says that "the present salary of $155,000 is certainly far from being the best in our community and it does involve expenses far exceeding anything incurred by one who holds a comparable position at home."

However, not many members of house and senate are willing to be quoted on their stand on this seemingly meritorious measure. It's just bad politics, they figure, to be asking more pay themselves in a big economy year and in the face of a budget which will not be balanced, according to fiscal spokesmen, until 1955.

The McCarran bill also provides increases in the pay of federal judges and for U. S. district attorneys and their assistants. It would raise the chief justice of the United States from $25,500 to $40,000 (the amount now received by the vice president and speaker of the house) associate justices from $25,000 to $30,000, and U. S. District Court judges from $15,000 to $25,000. Pay of U. S. District attorneys would be increased from $12,000 to $20,000.

The gross cost of the congressional increase would be $5,300,000 a year, but after taxes, it would be a net of $3,600,600 a year. The net raise for members would be $6,458 after taxes instead of $10,000.

Congress for some time has quietly resented that salaries have advanced much more rapidly in the executive branch of the government than in the executive branch. A number of members took occasion to point out that the widow of a white house press secretary was receiving $18,000, and that there are more than a hundred jobs in the executive branch which pay over $17,500, not including the president, his cabinet and sub-cabinet officers.

The legislatives bodies became a little annoyed when the table of automatic pay increases put the salaries of administrative assistants to senators up to $11,646, or within $1000 of the $12,500 received by the senator himself. In the senate secretaries receive $10,407 and other clerical staff members around $8500. House members can employ office help with an aggregate compensation of $25,000.

The increased pay for congressional aides was largely the result of a study and recommendations made by Robert Heller & Associates, of Cleveland, Ohio, management engineers, who also recommended increases in the size of office staffs, which congress voted.

A majority of members of the house are men of modest income, with many dependent entirely on their salaries. Their scale of living in Washington varies from fancy hotel suites to unostentatious flats in ordinary neighborhoods. Their lives would be more satisfactory with a salary increase, and in numerous instances, men ostensibly better qualified would challenge the incumbent, which is the reason that a minority of members hesitate about voting for the increase.

One of the few times the late Senator William E. Borah (Rep. Idaho) was ever routed in debate was on the occasion of the passage of the bill increasing congressional salaries from $7500 to $10,000. Borah opposed the bill vigorously, said he personally would not accept the increase.

The late Senator Tom Heflin (Dem.-Ala.), jeering at the Idaho solon, was reminded of the story of Private John Allen, famed postbellum congressman from Mississippi, whose doctor recommended a mint julep for his health at a certain hour every day, said Heflin.

"Private John Allen pretended great reluctance, because his wife, who was opposed to liquor was listening, but he whispered to his nurse, "if I am asleep, wake me; if I won't take it make me." That is approximately the position of the senator from Idaho on this salary increase bill."

Hollywood Heartbreak

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA— Behind the Movie and TV Screens: "I'm beginning to realize what they mean by the heartbreak of Hollywood."

A starlet's lament? Yes, and a star's, too!

Jeanne Crain, off the Fox payroll after 10 years and headed for zippier roles, laid it on the line just after signing up to star in "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," to be filmed in London this summer.

"Fox was wonderful to me," Jeanne told me, "but I wasn't happy for the last few years. I wasn't permitted to go to other studios on loanouts—and I lost the leads in 'Quo Vadis' and 'Carrie.' Other girls were signed for roles I wanted at my own studio. I asked for singing and dancing roles, but the answer always says 'No.' Now, after 10 years , maybe I'll get my big chance."

George O'Brien, now 53 but as rugged and muscular as in the days when he was the screen's top adventure star, is about to take the television plunge with a telefilm s e r i e s based on authentic San Francisco police files. The series will be filmed in the Bay City, where George's father, Daniel J. O'Brien, was police chief for many years.

Zsa Zsa talked and Ingrid blushed! And that's a switch! The word's seeped across the Atlantic that Ingrid Bergman was absolutely shocked by some of Zsa Zsa Gabor's philosophy on love, husbands, marriage and diamonds. The more Miss 2-Z talked, the more Ingrid blushed.

Reason behind the headlines announcing that Paramount has dropped all 3-D production: High-echelon meetings, in New York and Hollywood, and a unanimous vote that the future of movies is in wide-screen epics not requiring polaroid glasses.

Tall, zippy Joan Shawlee, Bob Hope's new TV discovery, is being boomed as television's answer to Marilyn Monroe, who was movietown's answer to TV. Joan's been making a career as a femme fatale on guest shots. Moviegoers will remember her as Joan Fulton, who was headed for stardom five years ago at U-I when she married and retired as an actress.

Kathryn Grayson's mother is very ill—the reason the singing star hasn't been seen in public for a long time. . .A Marilyn Monroe pin-up book, made up of photos taken before her rise to stardom, will soon be on sale for 35 cents a copy.

Television's oldest actress—82-year-old Gertrude Hoffman— has been a regular cast member of "My Little Margie." Gertrude's a 20-year movie veteran!. . .The Beatrice Carlisle who gets designer credit for Marge Champion's 14-gown wardrobe at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas can't be found in a list of Broadway or Hollywood designers. She's actually Gower Champion's mother and Marge's mother-in-law.

When a woman wants to know if something is really clean . . . she uses her nose!

When a good housekeeper walks into a strange house, she hardly needs to look around to see how clean it is. The smell tells her.

It's the same with laundry. For ages women have judged it by its fragrance as well as by appearance.

It's not a superstition

Far from it. For your nose tells you what your eyes can't see. When your clothes are really clean, they smell clean. It's a wonderful smell.

This clean, sweet smell depends a lot upon the soap or detergent you use. Some products leave clothes with a stale smell, due to insoluble soaps. Some detergents leave a medicinal or chemical odor.

Every woman knows how her laundry ought to smell. It ought to smell as if it had been hanging outdoors on a fine Spring morning. And that is just exactly how it will smell when you use the SURF that's at your grocer's now.

For when you wash clothes with SURF, they smell like sunshine. They smell that way whether you dry them indoors or out, on a line or in a dryer. They smell that way in summer and in winter.

A promising invitation

You can prove this for yourself very easily. Buy a box of SURF and compare it with any other detergent. Use it for every cleaning purpose. Pack the kids off in SURF-sweet clothes. Button your man into a SURF-sweet shirt. Do up the dishes with it. And end the day in sheets that smell like a summer vacation.

Then, if you don't agree that SURF does a better job for you, send the box top to Lever Brothers, and we will return every penny you spent, plus postage—cheerfully.

Rain Halts Land Fill Demonstration

RAYVILLE, May 15—(Special)—Mayor Loy C. Cloninger postponed the scheduled Sanitary Land Fill demonstration slated to take place today in Rayville, Louisiana, because of rain.

Mayor Cloninger said that the demonstration would be held on June 2nd, weather conditions permitting.

The demonstration, sponsored by the United States Public Health Service and Louisiana State Department of Health, is part of a State-wide program to improve municipal sanitation.

City and parish officials, as well as Public Health personnel from Richland, Morehouse, Ouachita, Franklin, Caldwell, East Carroll, West Carroll, Union, Jackson and Madison Parishes are expected to be on hand for the demonstration.

was destroyed by flames before it could be set firmly enough for a rescue attempt.

Trying to brave the awesome leap, the boys looked down at the net, then drew back and held on to each other fearfully.

When the flames licked at 10-year-old Johnny Wright, he beat at them with his hands. Then, his fear of the searing heat overcame his fear of the dizzying height. He pulled away from the others and jumped feet first into the net.

Billy Clayton hesitated, then tearfully told his brother Bobby, 10, to follow him, and jumped.

Bobby looked down, then pulled back, tottering on the edge of the roof as the crowd held its breath. Lashing flames struck him in the face and hands and he leaped desperately.

The boys were rushed to the Stockton Emergency Hospital for treatment, but none was seriously hurt. Johnny had a sprained ankle and Bobby had second degree burns on his face and hands.

The three admitted they were smoking, but said they had put out their cigarettes. They said another boy, unidentified, set the fire, then left.

said he expected "to work as I always have." He said he would be open for call to service in other districts when he was needed.

"I had but one real time-off vacation in my life, a trip to Mexico in 1941. I don't see any reason to change my pattern of life," he said in December.

noon, the Ouachita Parish High School will hold its baccalaureate exercises in the school's auditorium at 3 p.m.

Rev. James T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will address the class on "Principles in Dealing with Self."

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Neville High School will have its baccalaureate in Grace Episcopal Church when the rector, Rev. John Allin, will deliver the message to the class.

An interesting family reunion was held the past week in Kelly, La., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Humphries to do honor to Mrs. Humphries brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Biggs from Whitaker, Calif., and daughter, Mrs. K. Socal, with her two children from Lima, Peru, being home on a furlough.

A pleasing occasion took place on the lawn when dinner was served. Mrs. Socal is a missionary teacher in Lima, and is associated with the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Her children, Johnny and Judy, entertained with musical selections which they sang in both Spanish and English. Their ages were four and five years respectively. They are to return to Peru with Mr. Socal in the fall. Mr. Socal is now in California but preparing to return with his family for another five year period. He is a laboratory technician as well as mission worker.

Life magazine, current issue, shows a picture of Robert (Bobby) Germany Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lealis Hale, who is now in the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. He is termed "chatterbox coxswain" of his crew.

Bobby was highly popular when a student in Neville High School and he seems not lacking in this respect in his new surroundings.

Saturday more than 70 delegates attended the first annual district convention of Civitan International in Hotel Caddo, Shreveport. The Monroe Civitan Club sent a delegation headed by Conrad D. Lee.

The assemblage was addressed by Rudolph T. Hubbard, Birmingham, Ala., the principal speaker. W. T. (Bill) Stephenson, Shreveport, district governor, presided and a banquet at 8 p.m. closed the day's activities.

R. C. Pittard, who operates an extensive day lily farm on Norris Lane, West Monroe, states that he gave Dr. H. H. Baur a Jes' Ramblin' plant of which the lily farm operator was originator.

The blooms brought to the News-Star office by Dr. Baur were not grown by him, but were ones that Mr. Pittard had given him. This statement is made to clear up any misunderstanding.

Happy Birthday!

May 17 — Noel Newell Nason, Mrs. W. F. Carson, Mrs. T. W. Bearden, Doxie Reitzell.

May 18 — Mrs. W. R. Mathany, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. George H. Sumrall.

of no less than ten auto accidents, which were attributed in part to the weather conditions.

In West Monroe Police Chief Jeff Caldwell ordered patrol cars to the station at the peak of the storm and assigned officers to "spot-checking" the city by telephone.

"Nearly every street in town is flooded," Caldwell said, "but no damage has been found yet."

"The worst storm that I've seen during the 23 years that I have lived here" is the way W. A. Calloway, plantation owner near Bosco, described the storm which hit that community. Calloway reported that the wind had toppled his garage and a tree in his yard. The plantation owner said he feared that all crops in the area were ruined. "All that is left of my garden," he asserted, "is the stakes for my tomatoes." It is feared that extensive hail damage was suffered by crops in the area.

G. P. Germany of the Brownville Baptist Church reported that the high winds had torn down the tent in West Monroe where the church was holding a revival meeting. Germany stated that several people were in the tent at the time, but that none was injured.

west, was closed because of trees blown onto the highway.

Heavy rains struck Winnfield flooding the low-lying sections and covering highway 167 with several feet of water.

Deputy Sheriff L. A. Boone of Winn Parish said the main thoroughfare between Ruston and Alexandria was knee deep in water in the vicinity of Dodson. No one was reported injured in the Winnfield area.

Unconfirmed reports said that several houses were blown down at Quitman, and that it was believed that one or two persons might have been injured.

At Columbia, highwater in the low-lying sections of the city required the evacuation of several families. Many of the streets were said to be flooded.

(Apparently in a state of confusion, the St. Francis Sanitarium here could not verify the identity of the injured Rayville man treated there nor could the extent of his condition be ascertained through the hospital.)

SLATES TWO SPEECHES — George E. Roper, Jr., director of world trade development of the International House in New Orleans, is slated to address two Monroe clubs this week. Monday night, he will talk to the League of Women Voters and Thursday, the Traffic and Transportation Club.

World Trade Man Plans Important Addresses Here

George E. Roper, Jr., director of the World Trade development department of the International House in New Orleans, will make two important addresses in Monroe this week.

Monday night the director will speak to the Monroe League of Women Voters at the regular meeting to be held at the Frances Hotel beginning at 7 p.m. and Thursday, he will address the Traffic Transportation Club of the Twin Cities.

Roper, who has nearly 20 years of experience in international commerce, is acting director of the department, having been appointed after serving as assistant director in charge of exports for five years. He joined the International House when the world trade development department first was organized and his work has accounted for many of the more than 2,000 trade negotiations made each month.

As acting director, Roper works with exporters and importers in the Mid-Continent United States and abroad to make trade contracts. He also carries on correspondence with executive officers of the Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations abroad in a program to inform the world's buyers and sellers that they can make their contracts through the International House.

Before joining the staff of International, a non-profit businessmen's organization to promote world peace, trade and understanding, Roper was with the Alcoa Steamship Company, where he was employed in various capacities in freight traffic and trade development for 12 years.

Roper has stressed in the past that Louisiana is a very real cog in the commercial wheel of the Mid-Continent and is expected to stress the importance of world trade to the standard of living, economic well-being and national security.

Date Announced For Graduation Program At N. E.

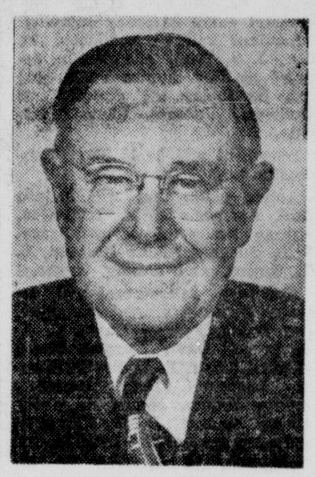
Monroe Furniture Boasts 55 Years Of Service, Good-Will

MRS. IDA KAPLAN
Wife of Founder

J. G. DURRETT, SR.
President and General Manager



LEON HAMMONDS
32 Years With Firm

The sprawling operations of the Monroe Furniture Company will pause today and look back on 55 years of successful service to the Twin Cities and the four-state area it serves.

Its Monroe Furniture's 55th anniversary and J. G. Durrett, Sr., president and general manager of the concern, is not bashful in telling the public that he is proud of the record his company has etched into business history.

"We are at this time the largest furniture outlet in North Louisiana," Durrett said on the eve of his company's 55th anniversary. The Monroe Furniture, in addition to operating nine retain stores in Louisiana, has grown to be one of the larger wholesale distributors in four states.

Supreme Bedding and Furniture Company, a subsidiary of Monroe Furniture Company, is located in Monroe. A fleet of large vans deliver furniture manufactured here to four states—Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and of course Louisiana.

In addition to carrying a complete line of Supreme Bedding and Furniture Company creations, the local retail operation is supplied with other fine furniture lines shipped into Monroe at the rate of a freight car load per day. "That is more than any other store in town handles," Durrett said.

Monroe Furniture was founded in 1898 by the late Sam Kaplan, whose widow still resides in Monroe on Pargoud Ave. Mrs. Kaplan, on the occasion of Monroe Furniture Company's 55th anniversary, said last week she had never ceased to watch the store's growth and admire the way in which the principles of her husband have been maintained.

Though the Kaplans have not held a monetary interest in the store for many years, Mrs. Kaplan said, she still feels that the Monroe Furniture Company is a part of her.

She philosophized a little when she recalled what her husband said soon after he established Monroe Furniture Company. She quoted Mr. Kaplan: "We can make a lot of money doing business one way and we can live and be happy another way."

Out of Mr. Kaplan's observation came the slogan "Quality considered We are Never Undersold." That slogan stuck and remains the by-word of Monroe Furniture Company chain eight years ago and has since added three retail stores.

The main store in Monroe was built prior to when the purchase was made by Durrett. However, the architectural design of the building put its appearance far ahead of many new structures being erected today. The spacious five-floor furniture mart provides display room for all types of furniture.

"We are truly equipped to serve a furniture-buying public," according to Mr. Durrett. He attributes his fast turnover to competitive pricing, service, and alert promotion.

Durrett also pointed out that Monroe Furniture Company's practice of buying in carload lots reduced freight costs and permitted the store to pass the savings down to customers.

Employing nearly 150 people, the Monroe Furniture Company has an annual payroll of almost half a million dollars a year in the Twin Cities. Durrett says his firm is a bigger taxpayer than any other furniture store in the Twin Cities, ranking high among the largest taxpayers in all industries.

Mr. Durrett, a native of Arcadia, has been in the hardware and furniture business all his adult life. He came to Monroe in 1919, after World War I.

His business success at a relatively young age has been attributed to the fact that he was "never afraid to take a chance." Only through some risk and alert business ideas could Mr. Durrett have achieved the shining record he holds today, one long-time friend said.

Another friend, Mrs. Kaplan in fact, declared that Durrett has built the Monroe Furniture Company to make it for Monroe that Marshal Fields is for Chicago.

Management of the Monroe Furniture Company is more than a one-man job. Mr. Durrett's two sons, W. D. and J. G. Durrett, Jr. assist their father in the sprawling operations.

The oldest member of the staff (in service) at the furniture store is Leon Hammonds with 32 years to his credit with the company. He joined the organization under Mr. Kaplan.

Commenting on his knowledge of the company, Mr. Hammonds said last week: "The Monroe Furniture Company has had the unique distinction of maintaining a continuous operation for 55 years without one days interruption. Even after the big fire in 1938. The store burned on Saturday afternoon and opened on Monday morning at the usual time in a next door warehouse."

Hammonds continued: "Today, this store ranks among the best in the south. Under the management of Mr. Durrett," Hammonds said, "we have added many new lines and our slogan of 55 years ago still remains 'Quality Considered, We are Never Undersold.'"

Mr. Hammond is more than a furniture salesman. His ranks among the most civic minded citizens in the Twin Cities. His Sunday's are never his own. His talents as an organist are always in demand at churches and various special events.

When not at work or playing for some public group, Leon dabbles with photography — and has evidence that he isn't an amateur with the shadow box.

The story of Monroe Furniture Company would fill many volumes. The management decided to tell a portion of the story now in progress during this 55th anniversary celebration and pre-inventory sale.

Students Given Awards At N. E. Honors Event

Northeast State celebrated the 15th annual Honors Day Friday in Brown Auditorium where students were given special recognition for achievement in scholarship, leadership and contributions to activities in various fields.

President Lewis C. Slater was master of ceremonies, and the Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, dean of men, gave the invocation.

Horace Thompson, senior journalism major from Bastrop, was recipient of the Student Council award presented by President Gene Clark to the most outstanding student. Thompson also won the News-Star—World trophy, given the second year for the best reporting done by a man on the staff of the Pow Wow, college newspaper.

James L. Ewing, III, of the News-Star—World, made the presentation, and he also gave a similar award to the girl who did the best reporting during the school year. The winner was Miss Thelma Parsons, sophomore of West Monroe.

Other journalism prizes included the Johnie Curry Johnson award for the best feature story of the year and the Annie Lee West Stahl trophy for the best editorial published in the Pow Wow. Judging of features resulted in a tie vote, so prizes were given to both Miss Nell Moore of Oak Grove and Rev. David Herrell, senior journalism major of Collinston. Honorable mention went to Richard Tyler and Perry Lassiter, both of Monroe.

Winner of the editorial award was Rev. Harold Reinhardt, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of this city, and a special student at Northeast State last semester. Honorable mention was given to Rev. David Herrell.

Binion Gerroid Fleming of Transylvania received the Demeter Fraternity award from Benny Freyer, president of the local chapter of the national honorary agricultural society.

The William Womack award, established in memory of Lt. Womack, former student of Northeast State who was killed during his service in the U. S. Air Corps, was won by Louis Phelps of Monroe for his outstanding work in business administration. It was presented by Ralph McKay, president of the Commerce Club. Frank McDonough of Monroe was winner of the accounting award presented by Harry Bell, secretary of the Northeast Louisiana chapter of Certified Public Accountants.

Joe Milner of Monroe was recipient of the Eloise Ethridge Slater award, a loving cup, given to the member of the Honor Society at Northeast who has rendered greatest service to the organization during the school year. Johnie Parkerson made the presentation.

Miss Gloria Ann Orr of Oak rove and Oscar Pace of Epps were awarded trophies by the college chapter of Future Teachers of America for their contribution to the organization. The gifts were presented by Kenneth Morgan, president - elect of the chapter.

Winners of music prizes were Miss Jonnie Bankhead of Stigler, Okla., and Robert Wagner of Jena. Joe Barry Mullins of the Northeast music faculty presented the music faculty award to Miss Bankhead and the Dew Music Company award to Wagner in recognition of their fine work in this field of study.

The annual trophy given by Les Marquises, college honorary organization of coeds, was presented by Miss Thelma Parsons to Miss Janie Graham of Monroe as the most outstanding senior girl. The group's outgoing president, Miss Merle Kilpatrick, also received an award.

Miss Jo Ann McDonald, freshman of Monroe, was the recipient of an award made by Gamma Zeta, social sorority at the college, for her outstanding contribution to the organization as pledge captain. Miss Margie Gulley made the presentation.

Trophies awarded to members of the ROTC rifle team were received by Donald Hicks, captain, of Monroe; Edwin Emory, West Monroe; Richard McConnell, Springhill; Kenneth Greer, Minden; Jack Reitzell, Monroe; Frank Swayze, Monroe; Thomas Hines, West Monroe, and Robert Murphy. Presentations were made by Maj. Alfred L. Singer, assistant professor of military science and tactics at Northeast and supervisor of the team.

Awards for proficiency in the Women's Recreation Association, intramurals and athletics are listed in the sports section of today's Morning World.

Knights Of Columbus Will Hold Retreat

The Knights of Columbus, Council 1337 of Monroe, will sponsor a retreat to be held at Maryhill Retreat Home in Pineville May 29-31.

More than 100 men from northeast Louisiana, both Catholic and non-Catholic, are expected to attend the annual retreat. Last year participants were recorded from Tallulah, Ruston, Vidalia, Bastrop, Rayville, Shreveport, and the Twin Cities.

Those wishing to make reservations can notify A. F. Canizaro, chairman.

Contempt Ruling Is Reversed By Circuit Judge

HATTIESBURG, Miss., May 16 (AP)—A contempt ruling by Forrest County Judge William Haralson against three Hattiesburg attorneys was reversed today by Circuit Judge Burkitt Collins.

Arlington Jones, Earle Wingo and James Finch were held in county jail about an hour last December before being released on bond pending outcome of their appeal to circuit court.

Martin McLendon of McComb, Miss., attorney for Judge Haralson said, "We'll likely appeal this thing to the state Supreme Court for final determination."

Collins ruled Haralson and the trio were both wrong — Haralson erred in finding the attorneys guilty of contempt of court and the attorneys were wrong in filing a motion asking Haralson to excuse himself in connection with a hearing on a whiskey selling case.

The lawyers in requesting a substitute judge in the case said Haralson was both prejudiced and biased in matters pertaining to whiskey and that he had testified before the county Grand Jury on the liquor situation.

HONOR STUDENTS — Mary Edna Deal, left, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Deal, has been named valedictorian of the 1953 graduation class at Start High School. Ann Williams, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Williams, has been named salutatorian. Commencement exercises will be held May 20.

Jones is a past president of the junior bar section of the State Bar Association and past president of the Forrest County Bar Association.

Finch is a former county attorney and president-elect of the county bar association.

Wingo, past president of both the state and county associations, is an author of a book on Mississippi criminal law.

Summer School To Be Held In Central

Summer school will be conducted at Central Grammar for pupils who need remedial work in the first grade through the sixth grade.

Registration Friday May 29 from 8:30 until noon. Classes start June 1. Registrants should bring their report cards. The summer session is to close July 17.

Mrs. Ann Lindle and Mrs. Eulalia McCoy will be the teachers.

Harper To Observe Silver Anniversary This Week

By YVONNE BRETT

Did you ever read a Horatio Alger story?

Here's a good parallel: Two score and one years ago come this July an Arkansas youth barely beyond the age of juvenility, named Bill Harper, disembarked from the Iron Mountain "southbound" early one morning and made his way to the railroad offices above what is now Morgan and Lindsay's store on DeSiard Street, but which was then the "corner Saloon" with wide open gambling in the rear, (the clank of poker chips being a familiar sound heard from uptown sidewalks in those days).

Entering the railroad office, Bill inquired for the chief clerk, who had written him to come down to take a job. A youthful appearing gentleman named Fred Vaughan replied: "I am the chief clerk." But Bill was accustomed to the "kidding" that prevails in railroad circles and was reluctant to believe this boyish - looking fellow was his new boss, as the chief clerk he had left behind in Arkansas wore a flowing moustache with plenty of "seniority" behind it. After being fully convinced of Vaughan's authority, Bill set to work and after careful tutoring by his new boss soon became one of the top clerks.

Although Bill had read some law back in Arkansas, his uncle being a lawyer and having presented him with some discarded volumes, he had no serious intentions at that time of becoming a lawyer. This reading had in fact been only a part of his "good reading" program to supplement an education unfortunately terminated in his sophomore high school year when Bill had to go forth as a breadwinner for a widowed mother.

Being of a restless and untiring nature, Bill became deeply fascinated by the work of the train dispatchers in an adjoining office. Likewise fascinated was Bill's fellow - worker, Doniel B. Weil, today proprietor of Weil's Cleaners), and together they studied telegraphy in their spare hours, often arriving at their offices as early as 4 a.m. to practice telegraphy on an inter - office telegraph line that the boys had rigged up between their desks in different offices. Both became proficient telegraphers. But Don soon left railroad service for greener pastures and organized what is today a thriving and successful cleaning and pressing establishment.

Bill remained and gained his goal as train dispatcher. But he did not relish the manner in which railroads in those days "kicked around" their officials, so looking into the future, Bill sought to enter the legal fraternity. He then seriously took up the study of law in his free time and after several years of intense study passed the bar examination and was admitted to the practice of law in April 1924. Bill opened a law office and for a while attempted to "double - head," that is, to work as train dispatcher by night and keep his law office open by day. But the railroad officials soon dissolved this arrangement by giving Bill his "choice" to dispatch trains or practice law. Bill burned the bridges and then ensued the suffering of the inevitable "starvation period" that confronts most beginners in the legal profession.

Bill's friends prevailed on him in 1927 to enter the race for judge of Monroe's city court; and he was elected in the first primary of January 1928 over several opponents. He was sworn in on May 23, 1928, and has held the office continuously for a quarter of a century, having successfully turned back all opposition, never having had to enter a run - off primary.

Since 1928 the office of judge of Monroe's city court has been increased in jurisdiction in many avenues. Under Judge Harper's leadership the court has become one of the state's most important judicial tribunals. In 1928 the civil jurisdiction was limited to $300. Today it is $1,000. Since 1928, and largely through Judge Harper's efforts, the court has become clothed with juvenile jurisdiction, which is a great aid in the juvenile problem because juveniles usually first encounter the law in city courts.

In criminal matters, to state it briefly, the city court has jurisdiction of all offenses classed in law as misdemeanors. Therefore, it does not deal with juries. With the mass of business handled by it, juries would be a serious handicap. This criminal jurisdiction extends to offenses against state laws as well as city and parish ordinances.

Appeals from the city court are to three courts, the supreme court, the court of appeal and the district court, the lesser in importance being appealable to the last named tribunal. However, appeals during Judge Harper's tenure have been very few. In fact, there has been no appeal taken from his decisions during the past two years.

Asked what phase of his court work he liked best, Judge Harper stated that he got the most happiness from dealing with juveniles, and felt richly rewarded when he observed a wayward youngster straightening up after receiving his counsel and advice. Judge Harper is also keenly interested in the public safety and in past years has conducted radio schools of the air in instructing the public pertaining to traffic laws and rules of safe driving. He has also held traffic schools of instruction in his courtroom and in other places over the city and parish. The drunk driver or driver of wanton recklessness is sternly dealt with in Judge Harper's court.

Judge Harper's advice is daily sought in matrimonial rifts and many couples have "kissed and made up" after hearing his wise counsel. In more aggravated family difficulties, serious trouble and possible bloodshed have often been averted by the judge's timely intervention and firm action.

Saturday marks Judge Harper's "silver anniversary" as judge of Monroe's city court, and since he became eligible for retirement two years ago, was asked by this reporter if he planned to retire soon, to which he replied: "No, not at all. In fact, my best years of service are ahead, and I intend to stay in the harness for many years to come. Knowing that my retirement has been earned is indeed a very fine feeling of security, for which I am deeply grateful to the good people I am honored to serve, but I have had to work hard since a mere youth and I believe inactivity now would soon be my undoing. I love my work and I love the good people I serve and I shall continue to work and will most certainly seek re-election at the end of my present term."

In serving the public, Judge Harper has not confined his activities alone to his public office, but in past years had identified himself with most of the worthwhile civic endeavors. His greatest enjoyment has been in his many years' service in boys' work, having serve the Boy Scout movement for a long time in many offices, including court of honor chairman and council president. During the depression years, Judge Harper headed a committee that rid the local Boy Scout council of an embarrassing debt of long standing, and re-organized the defunct council and started it on the road to its present successful and enviable status. For his service to boyhood, Judge Harper was awarded the Silver Beaver by the Boy Scouts of America.

He served the American Red Cross for many years as member and chairman of the various committees and was honored to head the chapter as chairman during one of its troublesome years. Judge Harper was particularly interested in the Red Cross blood bank program to which he gave much impetus in its early stages of organization.

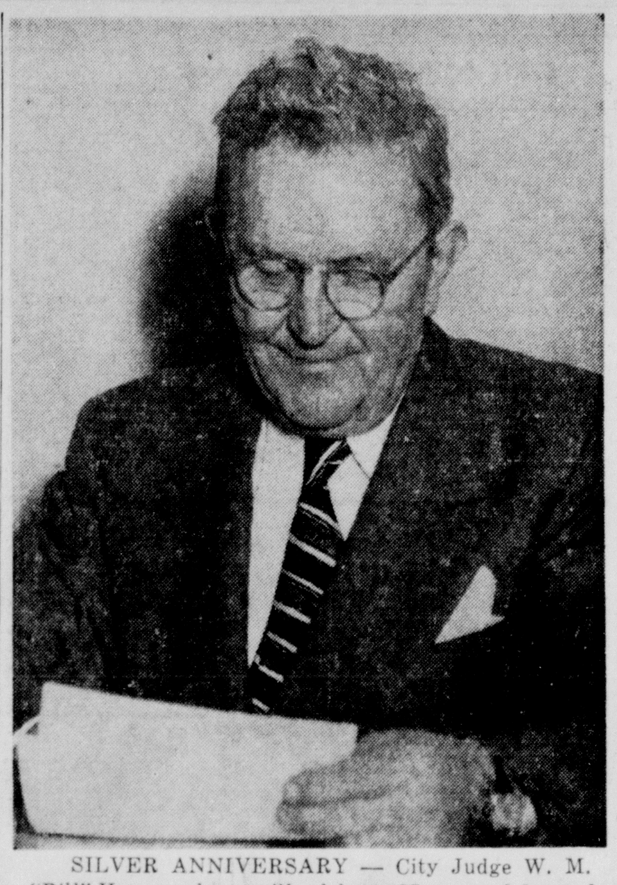
He served the Little Theatre of Monroe as board member for several years and for two years was president of that organization, during which time the membership was doubled. He served two years as member of the selective service board for Ouachita parish during the period of World War II, and is presently a member of the civilian advisory committee of the Fourth U. S. army. The Y. W. C. A. also claims him as a member of its advisory committee.

Judge Harper is a member of the juvenile probation advisory council for the state of Louisiana and holds membership in the National Juvenile Judges' Association fo rthe state of Louisiana. He has been an active Rotarian for 28 years, 23 of which have been with 100 per cent attendance. In the Rotary movement, Judge Harper has found great pleasure and has distinguished himself as a member of all the Rotary committees, vice president, president, district governor and for fourteen years secretary-treasurer of the Monroe Rotary Club. Upon his relinquishment of the latter office last year, he was honored by local Rotarians for his long service and presented with a diamond-studded Rotary emblem.

Judge Harper lives in the family home at 1412 Island Drive. His wife, Mrs. Vyvian Wallace Harper, passed away in 1951. He has three daughters, Mrs. Vyvian Frazier, Mrs. Alice Joy Marshall and Mrs. Billie Jackson, and three grandchildren, Oliver B. Frazier, Jr., Will Harper Frazier and Vyvian-Aleen Marshall. His only hobbies consist of working among his flowers and love of birds.

As a public service reaching beyond the call of duty, Judge Harper wrote, without remuneration of any kind, the present traffic code of Monroe and hopes to re-write the code in the near future. In like manner, and again without remuneration, he revised and rewrote 35 of the pertinent criminal ordinances of Monroe, so that today Monroe has a modern, working set of criminal ordinances.

In the West Monroe political crisis, Judge Harper offered to serve without pay as judge of West Monroe's city court until such time that a judge could be selected by special election.



SILVER ANNIVERSARY — City Judge W. M. "Bill" Harper, above, will celebrate 25 years of devoted service to the citizens of Monroe on May 23 with the recognition of his Silver Anniversary on the bench. Judge Harper assumed his duties on May 23, 1928.

Ferriday Man Receives Check For War Claims

By HAROLD M. CASE
Ferriday World Correspondent

FERRIDAY (Special) — "For inhuman treatment and forced labor as a prisoner of war," Master Sergeant James A. "Jimmie" Caire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beauvais Caire of Lake St. John, now stationed with headquarters squadron, 808th Air Base Group, last week received a check amounting to better than $1800 under the war claims act amended April 9, 1952.

The former Natchez high school football star is located at the Bergstrom Air Force Base, an Eighth Air Force installation, member of the Strategic Air Command at Austin, Tex. He and his wife and three sons plan to spend their vacation leave here early in July, according to word received by his parents. Sgt. Caire has been in the U. S. Army for the past fifteen years, having enlisted in 1938 and he plans to make a career of the army until retirement.

At the outbreak of hostilities in the second world war, Sergeant Caire was a member of the 17th Bombardment Squadron (L), (now the 523rd Strategic Fighter Squadron), and 27th Bombardment group (L), (now the 27th strategic fighter wing).

Sergeant Caire was captured by the Japanese on Bataan, Philippine Islands on the 9th of April, 1942, and was forced to march to Camp O'Donnell which was nearly 100 miles north of the point where he was taken prisoner. That march has gone down in history. . . . Many American were killed or died along the way, and their epitaph is written into the title of the "Bataan Death March."

Says Sgt. Caire: "We had just arrived there from Savannah, Ga. on Thanksgiving Day, and two weeks later war was declared. It was a hell of a Christmas that year," he recounts.

"We stayed in the peninsula until April 9 and we finally had to choose between annihilation or surrender. It was the later . ."

After stints at several camps, Caire was sent to the Japanese mainland at Camp Oeyama. Here he survived over 40 months in the prison camp before the day of liberation. One of his buddies, Master Sergeant Casimir T. Bobulski, of 27th Aviation Squadron, also stationed at Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., who was also with him on the "Death March" received his check for more than $1,800 at the same time as did Sgt. Caire.

Both served in prison camps and were liberated 30 days apart. Afterwards it was different roads for the two sergeants. But destiny interceded and in the year of 1953, month of April, Uncle Sam sent checks to the two sergeants — together again with the "old outfit" at Bergstrom Air Force Base.

But the story has an addition.

Now that a few American POW's have been exchanged in the Koean conflicts, the two sergeants hope all Americans will be exchanged in the very near future.

In a recent letter to his parents, Sergeant Caire put into one sentence the wishes of all Americans. "I know how they hope and pray for something to happen — maybe tomorrow — or the day after, that would return them to the United States — and freedom." And Sergeant James A. Caire knows. . . .

Highest Grades Are Recorded By Mrs. Anna Brown

The Ouachita Valley Vocation School has been notified that one of its students of practical nursing recently passed the state board examination with the highest grades in the state. The notification to S. W. Jackson, director of the school, was sent by Elizabeth Engeran, executive secretary of the board.

Jackson identified the student as Mrs. Anna Dell Brown, who passed her examination of April 7 and is now employed on the staff of the Wright-Bendel Clinic.

The letter from the executive secretary to Jackson read:

"The comparative scores are not ready for distribution to the schools yet, but I know you will be happy to hear that Mrs. Anna Dell Brown from the Ouachita Valley Vocational School of Practical Nursing scored highest in the entire state on the State Board Licensure Examination for Practical Nurses on April 7, 1953. Congratulations to your staff and Mrs. Brown."

Catahoula Will Graduate Class

JONESVILLE, May 16. (Special) — Catahoula's high schools will award diplomas next week to 94 graduates.

Harrisonburg, with 26 seniors, will hold commencement exercises on Wednesday night, with Dr. J. A. Hunter, L. S. U. registrar, as speaker. Thursday night exercises have been scheduled by Block at Jonesville, with 29 seniors, Sicily Island, with 12 and Enterprise, with five.

The two Negro high schools, Catahoula Parish Training School at Jonesville and Sicily Island Rosenwald, will have commencement exercises on Thursday night, also. There are 12 seniors at CPTS and 10 at Rosenwald.

Central High School, Catahoula's newest, held its first commencement exercises three weeks ago, with five graduating. Shelby M. Jackson, state superintendent of education, was speaker. Because of its location in the low river bottom area of Catahoula. Central began and ended its term earlier than other schools.

Graduating from Block will be: Rossie Bond, valedictorian; Nola Jane Bass, salutatorian; Walter Bradford, Fred C. Brock, Jr., Reba Lea Carlton, Hershel Chevallier, Bobby F. Collins, Peggy Diane Collins, Roxanna Conn, Edwina Maudelle Dowdy, Nellie Marie Edwards, Alma Rae Estis, Jarvis Nelson Fairbanks, Genevieve Froust, Johnny Sherman Johnson, Johnny Lee Luttrell, Rose Kathleen McEntyre, Thomas Wilbur McLawchlin, Barbara Aileen McNeely, Myrtis Mophett, Fred Dewey Parish, Jr., Alma Lene Pecanty, Ludie Renfrow, Valorie Sikes Smith, Alfred W. Tarver, Herman Ray White, Marie White and Albert Clarence Wurster.

Harrisonburg graduates will be: Una Mae Stutson, valedicotrian; Mildred Cooper, salutatorian; Joan Buswell, Bonnie Cruse, Marie Deville, Irma Evans, Alene Ford, Leland Gibson, Charles Green, Leona Hackney, Albert Hailey, Martha Hailey, Don Hair, Bernard Haygood, Patsy Johnson, Maud Ella Leonard, Melba McGuffee, Getice Meyers, Bonnie Morris, Evelyn Owens McMillin, George Richardson, Harold Routon, Freddie Smith Tommy Smith, Geraldine White and Clara May Wyles.

Sicily Island seniors are: Jerry Tarver, salutatorian; Sara Gambrell, valedictorian; Edmond Dobson, Travis Barron, Fern Dale Mitchell, Joy Miller, Gordon Vaught, Joan Cupit, Wanda Passman, Viola Nelson, Louise Wells and Peggy Bird.

Enterprise seniors are: Gwen Whitehead, valedictorian; N. H. Poole, Jr., salutatorian, Shirley Eubanks, Iva Lea Sanson and Benny Griffin.

Catahoula Parish Training School graduates are: Sallie B. Collins, Ruby L. Dunbar, Maggie Lea Pierce, Hurley L. Randle, Mabel L. Randle, Annie Mae Rhone, Clara B. Robinson, Violet O. Washington, Fred Barber, Leroy Barber, James Henderson and Rufus Johnson.

Sicily Island Rosenwald seniors are: Ruthie Mae Jenkins, valedictorian; Helen Marie Evans, salutatorian; Katie Swayzer, Geraldine Turner, Gloria Lee Williams, Stimmie Cooper, James Morris, Junior Woodside, Joe Willie Patterson and Albert Powell.

All schools will hold their baccalaureate sermons on Sunday.

Graduation Will Be Held At La. College May 24

PINEVILLE (Special) — Commencement exercises for seventy-seven May graduates at Louisiana College will begin Sunday, May 24, at 8:30 a.m., with the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Dr. James W. Middleton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shreveport.

The 47th annual commencement exercises, scheduled for May 26 at 8 p.m., will be held in the Louisiana College stadium. The graduation address will be delivered by Dr. James Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Monroe, Tuesday evening, May 26.

The complete program for graduation includes Alumni Day, Saturday, May 23. Alumni will spend the morning and afternoon in informal meetings in the Morgan Walker Student Center. The Alumni banquet will be held at 7 p.m. at Hotel Bentley.

Music students will compete for the Caudell Cup at 8:15 p.m. Monday, in Alexandria Hall. This is an annual contest for piano students.

Senior Class Day exercises are scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, Dean H. M. Weathersby will present the candidates for graduation to Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of Louisiana College, who will confer the degrees. In addition to the regular candidates for graduation, honorary degrees will be conferred upon Dr. Henry Lee Prather, president of Northwestern State College, Natchitoches; and Dr. James Horton, pastor of First Baptist Church, Monroe.

West Germany Gives Approval To Treaties

BONN, Germany, May 15 (AP) — Disarmed West Germany completed parliamentary ratification today of the twin treaties that are to give her near sovereignty and partnership in Western defense.

By government maneuvering which the opposition Socialists denounced as a trick, the upper house (Bundesrat) approved 23-15 the Allied-German Peace Contract and the related European Army Treaty under which this nation is to supply 500,000 soldiers for a six-nation command of two million.

Following up the approval of the lower house (Bundestag) March 19, the action today made West Germany the first European nation to ratify the bold defense plan.

Parliaments of her prospective partners—France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—still have to act on the Army treaty before West Germany can start recruiting troops.

The upper house decision, reached in a 40-minute special session, represented a victory for both Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Conservative government and for the United States policy of tying West Germany politically and militarily to the West.

It represents a defeat for both the West German Socialists, who are against rearming now as a matter of principle, and the Communist rulers of East Germany and Soviet Russia.

The army treaty's future, however, is still clouded by grave uncertainty. The Socialists have appealed to the Supreme Court to rule that arming German troops would violate the constitution. There is marked opposition to the treaty in the French Parliament.

The upper house vote came after an apathetic debate which reflected the weariness of the Germans over nearly twelve months of haggling about the army treaty and the peace contract.

STATE POLICE

Of the 31 persons arrested during the past week by members of Troop F, Louisiana state police, eight were for drunk driving and nine others for not having a driver's license. Also high in the lists of arrests were reckless driving cases, which numbered six.

Steel, Oil Production Climb To Higher Levels

By T. E. APPLEGATE

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Business and industrial volume held its steady high pace this week against a welter of varying opinion on our economic trend.

Steel and crude oil production, heavy construction contract awards and retail trade volume all climbed from the preceding week.

The economic differences centered on:

More inflation? Or a business recession?

The outcome may depend on government, industry and labor decisions of the next few weeks.

Business men will listen closely when President Eisenhower tells the people Tuesday night about the problem of keeping the nation secure and holding down the budget. Their ears will be turned especially for any probable timetable of tax reduction.

Tax relief could ease some problems involved in a seventh wage-price round, the pattern for which may evolve from negotiations now under way in the basic steel industry.

But some critics contend the administration's "tight money" policy is going to force cutbacks in business activity and may bring on a recession

Some reductions already are appearing, but they are attributed mostly to labor difficulties or changes in federal spending plans.

The Air Force has canceled proposed construction totaling 156 million dollars at 14 bases in the United States, marking a 13 per cent cut in work approved by the Truman administration.

And a rash of strikes in automobile or auto supplier plants is forcing reduced schedules of car assemblies, probably effective next week. Estimated output of 178,459 passenger cars and trucks this week, however, just about equaled last week's 179,621 units.

Some other business indicators pointed lower in the latest reports. Here were some changes from the previous week:

Freight carloadings—Down 16,-088 cars or 2.1 per cent.

Electric power output—Off 42,-284,000 kilowatt hours to its lowest since the week of Jan. 3.

Bank clearings in 25 cities—Down 11.4 per cent.

Money in circulation—Decrease of 18 million dollars.

But construction activity still runs high. Contract awards reported to F. W. Dodge Corp. in the first four months this year ran ten per cent ahead of the 1952 period.

The Treasury's position is that inflationary influences still predominate, and that it and the federal reserve are ready to act to prevent recession if one threatens.

Deputy Secretary W. Randolph Burgess told Mutual Savings Bankers the Treasury will continue to sell its securities "at the going rate of interest." Rates paid by the government play a big part in controlling rates on all other types of borrowing.

Effects of such moves as the recent increase to 3¼ per cent on long-term government bonds are still spreading in private lending circles.

Partial paralysis has taken place in some sections of the mortgage market as many lenders refuse any but prime investments, George W. Warnecke, New York building financier, reports. He attributes this in part to fears adverse criticism may cause the administration's "realistic" money policy to bog down.

Most sources agree there is plenty of investment money available—if you'll pay the price. There is plenty of confidence in business circles, too.

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 16 —UP—Harry Stevenson, 49-year old scrap dealer, was killed Saturday when struck by an automobile three miles west of here.

State police said the car, driven by Staff Sgt. Horace Gonzales, 35, of Lake Charles Air Force Base, went out of control after passing over a railroad crossing and hit Stevenson, who was standing by a parking lot near the highway.

MARKSVILLE, La., May 16—UP—Curtis C. Roy, 62-year old former mayor of Marksville, died Saturday in the Marksville Hospital. He was active in business, civic and church circles of Avoyelles parish.

Depletion Tax Grant Studied By Congressmen

WASHINGTON May 16 (Special) —Congress is again going to look into the twenty-seven and one-half per cent depletion allowance granted oil and natural gas producers in computing their income tax returns.

When Chairman Daniel Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee this week announced hearings would begin before the committee June 16 on a comprehensiive overhaul of the whole federal tax law, he listed existing depletion allowances granted producers of natural resources as one of the forty tax subjects that will be studied by the committee during its extended hearings.

This does not necessarily mean that the committee plans to make a change in the existing depletion allowance provisions for oil and natural gas. In fact, chairman Reed is one of the strongest advocates of the present percentage depletion allowance in congress. And the membership of the tax writing committee of congress is almost identical to that which flatly rejected a proposal by President Truman in the eighty-second congress to cut the amount of the allowance from twenty-seven and one-half to fifteen percent.

Nevertheless, it will mean that the industries will be called upon to defend the allowance again, f it is almost certain that some o position to continuance of t present rates will be submitted.

Oil producers testified this we before the house Ways and Mea Committee in support of quota lir itation of imports of foreign left Washington feeling that th have a chance of winning the fight in the committee when votes on various amendments the reciprocal trade agreemen act later this month. They co cede, however, that the vote will extremely close and possibly decided by a single vote.

Should the committee appro the limitation on oil imports, would virtually assure a simil approval by the house of repr sentatives since the bill is expe ed to be considered on the flo under a closed rule which wou forbid any amendments being fered except by the committee self. By the same token, if t committee turns down the quo amendment, it will be impos ble to get a vote on it in the hous

In the senate, however, the are no provisions for such ti rules for the consideration of le islation and a vote on the iss by the senate as a whole will d initely be taken. The present o look for the quota limitation that body, however, is not bri since President Dwight D. Eis hower has expressed his opposit to it and most of the Democra members of the Senate, o two less than a majority plan vote for extension of the recip cal trade act for another ye without any change.

Looking at these two photos with a mirror (see instructions) gives you a third dimension effect.

Try this third dimension trick at home

Hollywood is bubbling over with 3-D. Thousands of words have been written about the new miracle of third dimension movies. Cinerama, natural vision, cinemascope — all are becoming household words.

But, do you want to see third dimension right there in your living room?

Here's how:

In order to see the two pictures above from the forthcoming movie "House of Wax" in third dimen - sional form all you need is a mirror, preferably one at least as large as one of the pictures.

After placing this page of The Morning World on a flat surface, hold the mirror alongside your face, reflecting the surface on left, and aligned perpendicularly with the center line between images of the pair.

Look directly at the righthand image (2) with your right eye and at the reflection of the image (1) with your left eye. Now you should see two images.

Next, tilt the free lower edge of the mirror slightly to the left-hand image superimposed over the right-hand image. By manipulating the mirror and moving the reflection you can make the reflected picture fit perfectly over the non-reflected picture.

When you have lined the two images up perfectly you will see only one picture! And it will jump out at you because you will have achieved a single image in full three-dimensional perspective.

Just try it and see!

Geology Students Will Spend 6 Weeks In Ozarks

Geology students at Northeast State will reside in Arkansas for six weeks this summer to study the Ozark mountain area as a part of a required course, it was announced Saturday by John H. McCarter, assistant professor in geology at the college.

This is the first time that a local college group has attended summer camp. The course is not restricted to geology majors, however, McCarter pointed out. All persons interested in the field course are invited, he said.

Plans are to live in or near Fayetteville, Ark., home of the University of Arkansas. The group will study rocks, fossils and other geological structures of the area, while mapping the various regions at the same time. Six semester hours credit will be given for the six - week course.

Much of the survey and research of the mountainous area will be done on "side trips," that is, camping out, cooking meals and hiking in search of various geological structures. Many points of geological interest are to be found near Fayetteville, McCarter said, including coal beds, mineral deposits and fossils.

"We will work out the geology of a certain area, delving into its history, mapping its layers and studying the rocks and fossils we find," he explained. "Much of the work and study will include mountain climbing."

Approximate cost of the entire trip will run about $150.

Highway Work In Union Authorized

FARMERVILLE, May 16. (Special)—The State Department of Highways reports that Henry and Hall has been authorized to begin bituminous surfacing of 7.5 miles on the Terrills - Farmerville highway (state route 15) in Union Parish.

Fred Preaus of the Board of Highways said the cost of the project will be $106,895.89 under the contract.

He said a 20' bituminous surface treatment will be applied on the highway following grading, shaping roadway and application of a base course.

GULLIBLE

PORTLAND, Me. (UP) — Mrs. Joseph Grossman bought a steak for her husband's dinner while she was out on her lunch hour from her job in the Union Mutual Building. She placed the meat on a window ledge to keep it cool while she worked at a typewriter through the afternoon. She looked up in time to see a seagull snag the steak and fly away with it dangling in his beak.

Meat Truck Fire Inflicts Unscheduled 'Bar-B-Cue'

WINNSBORO, La., May 16 (Special)—The Brown-Edwards Packing Company, of Alexandria, was the unwilling and unfortunate host at a bar-b-que at nearby Ft. Necessity at 7 p. m. Friday. None of the guests ate the meat but all agreed that it was "well done."

The unscheduled event took place when Roosevelt Perry, Negro driver for the packing company, stopped at R. S. Bonner's store to fill his brake cylinders. The engine of the truck was running at the time and the heat ignited the brake fluid. The can exploded and spread flames over the truck and nearby gasoline pumps.

While Perry and Charles Winters and Price Turnage, both of Ft. Necessity, pushed the blazing truck out into the middle of the road, Bonner and several spectators smothered the flames which were engulfing the fuel pumps.

The Winnsboro Fire Department sent a truck to extinguish the fire, but they were unable to save the delivery truck from complete destruction.

Invoices carried by Perry showed the truck contained $257.84 worth of undelivered meat.

Alumni Banquet Reservations Still Available

Deadline for making reservations for the annual Neville High school alumni banquet has been reset for 2 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Sara Shafto, president, has announced. The deadline had formerly been set for noon today, but was changed when Shelby Meek of the Frances Hotel notified the association president, he would not need the definite information until Monday.

"This will allow us to get in more reservations," Mrs. Shafto has stated. "The Sunday deadline, which would have been observed if Mr. Meek had desired it, would prevent some reservations due to last minute calls. This day postponement will make it possible for us to have an even larger number than we formerly anticipated."

Frank Breese, Jr., master of ceremonies for the special occasion, which will be held Tuesday night on the roof of the hotel, yesterday publicly expressed his thanks to Stocker Fontelieu, who cooperated with Breese in working out a program "which will be unique and very entertaining since that is exactly its purpose — entertainment," Breese stated. Contrary to past practices, the banquet this year will have no set speeches and will be simply for "renewal of acquaintances and friendships" he said.

Joining with the graduating class of 1953 in the honor spotlight will be the class of 1903, which is observing its 50th anniversary. Five of the eight members of that class are expected to be present. This class, which included Morris W. Haas, Alvine Whitfield, Carolene Keller, Ella Keene Prophit, Mamie Massengill, Bessie Wetzel, Elizabeth Russell and Daisy Louise Russell, was the first one taught by Mr. E. L. Neville, former superintendent of city schools.

The present officess of the alumni association are Mrs. Shafto, president; Mrs. Bernie Wilenzick, vice-president; Joe Carso, treasurer; and Mrs. Dorothy Hodge, secretary.

In the event class representatives have not been able to get in touch with any alumni, persons desiring to make reservations are urged to call Mrs. Hodge at Neville High School or Joe Carso at 3-7120.

Highway Survey Will Be Studied By Committee

Senator James D. Sparks, of Monroe, chairman of the state highway committee, said today his committee would meet in Baton Rouge Thursday for a thorough discussion on the purpose and plans of engineering and financial road surveys in the state.

Engineers from the Automotive Safety Foundation, Washington D. C., who are conducting the engineering survey, and representatives of the division of business research of L. S. U., who are making the financial survey, will explain their plans for the study and the methods of approach. Representatives of the Police Jury Association, Louisiana Municipal League and other individuals and organizations interested in the road problem have been invited to attend.

Senator Sparks will also preside over a panel discussion at the southern regional conference of the council of state governments in Biloxi May 27-29. Theme of the discussion is "Highways in the Southern States; Current Trends and Problems in Highway Finance." The panel will be composed of Senator Harry Moats of West Virginia, Senator Charles Everhart of Tenn., Representative Albert Sklar of Maryland, and T. Ashby Newby, safety engineer, Virginia Department of Highways.

The two major questions facing the Louisiana road system today, Senator Sparks said, are the type of new roads we need and how to finance new construction. The two agencies authorized to make the survey are very anxious to obtain the ideas, suggestions, and cooperation of everyone interested in our road problem, Sparks said.

Grand Isle's Only Bridge Reopened

BATON ROUGE, May 16 (Special)—The Caminada Bay Bridge, Grand Isle's only connection with the Louisiana mainland, is now open to traffic following emergency repairs necessitated by the recent bridge fire, E. J. James, chief engineer of the Department of Highways announces.

James said the department's work crews were rushed to the bridge immediately after the fire on April 20 and the repairs have now been completed except for incidental work at an estimated cost of $20,000.

The only repair work remaining is surfacing and painting the hand rails, James said, but the bridge is open to all traffic and there is no load restriction as was placed on the facility after the fire.

The highway official said caps, stringers and decking were replaced but it was not necessary to replace the piling.

3.94 Inches Of Rain Fell Here In Past Week

Civil Aeronautics Administration officials at Selman Field reported yesterday that seemingly endless rains during the past week have actually amounted to less than 4 inches.

The CAA broke down the total lows: May 10, 1.4 inches; May 11, no rain; May 12, .47 inches; May 13, .17; May 14, .71, and May 15, 1.19.

The Ouachita river, which is expected to crest here on May 23 has continued to rise. At last report it was said to have reached a level of 39.7 feet, .3 feet below flood stage. Having raised 3.5 feet at Camden during the past 24 hours, the river is expected to crest there sometime today.

Flood gates on all storm sewers in this area have been closed, and pumps are in operation to handle all "run-off."

Cy Young of the local U. S. Engineers office reported Friday that the Mississippi river was unusually low for this time of year, and that high water in the Ouachita Valley would run off rapidly, without causing any damage.

Outdoor Drama Recounts Days Of Mounted Police

One of the year's most heralded outdoor spectacles, Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor production of "Pony Soldier," starring Tyrone Power, arrives Tuesday at the Tem Theatre.

Based on the authentic exploits of the early days of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, "Pony Soldier" recounts the story of a heroic Mountie who, in 1876, crossed the border into Montana and single-handedly forced the savage Cree Indians to return to their reserve in Canada. One of the most amazing displays of individual courage and initiative in the colorful history of the Northwest Mounties this true adventure has since grown to become a proud legend in the annals of the famed Canadian constabulary.

Under the leadership of Producer Samuel G. Engel and Director Joseph M. Newman, a location party of over 200 cast and crew members spent nine weeks in the rugged and picturesque canyon country of Arizona to film the picture.

Engel and Newman also lined up an imposing roster of actors to play the demanding parts required for the Technicolor action drama. The cast called for 23 starring and featured roles, in addition to hundreds of minor characterizations which were filled by natives of the location area or Indians brought in from surrounding reservations.

Full Color Film Output Said Near

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movies are looking rosier in Hollywood these days, but that doesn't mean that business is on the upswing. It's just that the film industry is moving closer to an all-color output.

All signs point to color. Observers note that there will be a paltry nine feature films shooting in town next week. That's the lowest figure since anyone can remember. Production will doubtless pick up a bit, but Hollywood may never again see the fat shooting schedules of the lush days.

The new-dimensional pictures appear to have more staying power than the flatties. Cinerama may have a two-year run in New York. "House of Wax" is playing extra weeks in all locations. Films like "The Robe" will probably have runs of many months.

Since pictures can be played longer, fewer will be made. And it is logical that most if not all of those will be in color.

Color advocates argue this way: TV is the movie industry's biggest competitor for the public's interest. Since TV cannot yet offer color, the films should give it to the public.

The new techniques are most effective in color. The aim of 3D pictures is the illusion of reality. The stereo effec. makes the screen have depth, but color is also necessary—so the viewers will seem to see life as it really is.

The wide-screen methods also aim at reality, for which color is necessary. They also feature scenes of great scope, action and beauty. Color is an essential element in the kind of spectacle which the wide screens will offer.

We may yet see the day when the black-and-white movie is as outdated as the silent film. . .

Theater men are getting worried about the low state of film production in Hollywood, and well they should. At the present rate, there won't be enough films to supply the current demands for new product. At least one company is unloading its "flat" pictures, having previewed six in the last two weeks.

The pinch will probably come in early fall. Theater men are beginning to fear they will have to play reissues entirely or close up, unless they have converted to the new processes.

They are also beginning to protest that the studios are pulling a squeeze play on them—to force them to get ready for the new dimensional pictures.

Airbase Worker Dies In Wreck

LAMAR, Colo., May 16 (AP)—Bobby N. Auburger, 20, of Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., was killed and two companions injured yesterday in a highway accident three miles south of here.

Marion Delt, 24, and Edward Burns, 23, both of Springfield, Colo., were treated for minor injuries.

The state patrol said the car skidded out of control and overturned into a pit alongside U. S. highway 287.

'Talent Scouts' Comb Parish For Beauty Entries

All members of the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce — some 216 strong — are acting as talent scouts to help find eligible contestants in the senior division of the Miss Monroe Beauty Pageant which will be held in the Neville auditorium on Friday, June 5.

"We are asking every citizen of the parish to help us find these attractive and charming young ladies," Gene Williams, general chairman of the Miss Monroe Pageant, said today. "The more contestants we can get in the contest the better chance we will have of sending an entry to the state finals who will stand an excellent chance of winning the title of Miss Louisiana of 1953."

Any girl who is 18 (or will be 18 by September 1, 1953) and not over 28 and who has never been married is eligible to enter the senior division of the pageant, which is being sponsored by the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce. The contestant will model an evening gown, swim suit or do a talent number which may be singing, dancing, playing a musical instrument, reading, speaking, modeling clothes, etc. The talent must be displayed within a three - minute time limit.

Any person who can suggest a possible contestant is urged to call Mrs. Roy (Freddie) Holloway at 3-1944.

The winner of the senior division will be the city's official entry in the Miss Louisiana Pageant in Lake Providence on July 3-4-5. The winner of the state pageant will be sent to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City where she will be competing for a $5000.00 scholarship, custom - built Nash automobile, wardrobe and about $40,000 in personal appearance fees.

Anniversary Sale Starts Tomorrow At Durrett's

Durrett Furniture Co., 105 St. John, will open it's doors tomorrow at 9 a.m. to its many friends and customers throughout the Twin Cities and northeast Louisiana for the gigantic "Anniversary Sale" which will offer to prospective buyers values never before presented in the realm of furniture displays.

Tradition with Durrett Furniture Co. is to offer annually an "Anniversary Sale" to the entire area of articles made by well-known furniture manufacturers at savings which cannot be equaled.

For the 1953 anniversary event a red carpet has been laid in front of the store by the management to exhibit the amazing rug test of the quality Aldon cotton broadloom carpet.

Harry Kuhn, merchandizing manager of the home owned furniture store, said that preparations for this year's sale have been underway for the past several months. Special factory purchases have been made in order to offer to home makers the newest and most modern designs on the market at the present time. Every item in the store will be put on sale with the exception of fair traded items. The store wide sale includes all departments.

The sale opens Monday at 9 a.m. and will remain open the first day until 8 p.m. Customers wishing to view the many sale items outside regular store hours can make special appointments with Mr. Kuhn.

Durrett's is affiliated with one of the largest wholesale and hardware appliance distributors, Monroe Hardware Co., in the south. They are exclusive dealers for Dillingham, Paul McCobb, Brandt and many other famous lines.

A cordial invitation is extended through this medium to all home makers to attend the Durrett Furniture Co. "Anniversary Sale."

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Tonight we've hit the mid-way mark in the final production of the 1952-53 season, "Out Of The Frying Pan." By now the word is out that this is one of the most hilarious comedies to come our way in some time—even the final Curtain Call for each performance has it's own special brand of whimsy. We have a feeling that the traditionally slow night Sunday will not be just a partially filled house.

The lobby is unusually decorated for this production, and we can again tip our hats to Velma and Russ Kettenring for the decor. The pond, which has not been used at all this season as anything more than a covered space to support the decorations, has again been opened, but this time it has become a well—A Wishing Well.

With the coming move of our Playhouse, and with the thought of money and goodwill needed to achieve it, Velma and Russ decided to recreate the pond into a wishing well, where good intentioned theatre-goers can throw something in. The sides of the pond are trimmed with fresh greenery, and the pond left empty of water to make it easier for scraping in the nightly collections. Naturally we could never raise enough to remodel the new Little Theatre this way, but it certainly is a friendly start.

I stood by the Wishing Well after Friday night's performance, doing a little plain and fancy wishing all my own. And just as the ringing sound of my silver coins died away, a familiar voice behind me said, "I know what you and I would do if we had about thirty thousand to spare, we'd toss it right in." Of course thirty thousand is a wee bit out of focus for Mr. Frank Breese or yours truly of "Curtain Call" but it was representative of that Breese spirit that held the Little Theatre together during one of the most hectic yeras of it's existance—Yes, we were just Wishing.

And don't forget, come on out tonight. We'll be packed to the rafters for the next three nights, so make your reservations for tonight. Just call Myrtle Carter between 2 and 7 this afternoon at 3-4263 and she'll fix you up. See you tonight.

RANDOM NOTES — Fred and Elizabeth Thurber's youngest daughter, Becky, who was hospitalized the greater part of last week, is now home and resting well. Fred's sister from Midland, Texas is visiting in the Thurber home now, also. Dr. Bill Epstein, who suffered a heart attack, is now out of the hospital and is home but is still not allowed to have visitors. Clyde Culpepper is on the mild sick list fighting a case of flu. Beth Breese is due home tonight from Georgia where she has been for the past week. She is being accompanied home from Georgia by her Grandmother who will be visiting in the Breese home for a part of the summer. By the way, the Baton Rouge Little Theatre concluded its seventh season May 11 through the 16th, with a very successful run of the play, "The Happy Time", which our director seriously considered for the Monroe Little Theatre, earlier this year. We understand that this "comedy of love in three acts" has proved itself to be one of the most popular Little Theatre comedies to be released for production this past year. In Louisiana it has been successfully done in New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Shreveport. Maybe our play reading committee will approve it for next year.

LITTLE THEATRE SKETCH

PAT GUERRIERO BROWN — A native Monroyan and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Guerriero, is making her first appearance with the Little Theatre this week in a very interesting role in, "Out of The Frying Pan".

She is an attractive graduate of Neville High School where she was one of the senior commanders of the Tigerettes; Home-coming Maid of Honor and very active in many campus activities. She also schooled at our Lady of The Lake in San Antonio, Texas, before returning to Neville to graduate in 1951.

Pat has attended L. S. U., Louisiana Business College and of late Northeastern, where she was majoring in music. She appeared recently in the college operetta, "Amelia al Ballow", opposite Sylvester Breard, and she was also a member of the floor show for the Jaycee Jaynes "Torrid Twenties".

A member of Lambda Sigma Chi and Delta Beta Sigma in high school, she pledged Aplhi Chi Omega in college. Wednesday, last Feb. 19, to W. T. Brown, who is now serving with Armed Forces in Korea. Pat is commercial manager for Radio Station KLIC. She is receiving rounds of applause for her excellent interpretation of the role of Muriel in, "Out Of Frying Pan."

CHARLESTON, Ill. (UP) — Charleston firemen didn't even wait for the alarm to sound before rushing to put out a fire late one night. The fire was downstairs from their sleeping quarters.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. John Gibson, science writer, has summarized researches at three universities showing that both men and women — at least in civilized countries — blush on body areas that are habitually exposed. Men blush only down to their Adam's apple. Women blush down to their neck lines — the lower, the further down they blush. Nudists, they find . . . just what would make a nudist blush is beyond the finite mind.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Apparently yes. Various substitutes have been tried, but the best one I have heard of is in Vancouver, Canada. There for several days each term substitute teachers take over while the regular ones arrange 15 minute interviews with parents of each child. Principals say it is aiding parents, teachers and children to mutual understanding and helpfulness. Dear children, let us pray it be adopted everywhere.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, if done as Tom Sawyer advised Huck Finn to do it —namely — in a graveyard just at midnight. At least a Denver skin specialist says if it relieved Huck of his "emotional stress" it would help, since many skin diseases are caused or increased by emotional disturbances. When I was a kid it would have scared me into having hives, warts, chilblains, athlete's foot, stomach ulcers and falling hair.

State Police Charged With Laxity In Work On Elizabeth Dispute

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 16—UP—A district attorney charged Saturday that state police have not supplied prosecutors "with one iota of information" concerning the hundreds of dynamitings, shootings and other violence outbreaks that have occurred in the strike-troubled town of Elizabeth.

District Attorney Ben F. Thompson of Rapides parish made the charge in a public letter to State Police Supt. Francis Grevemberg. Thompson's letter marked about the sixth exchange between prosecutors and police over who is responsible for the continued strike violence in the central Louisiana town.

Grevemberg stated nearly two weeks ago that the situation could be improved if district attorneys prosecuted law offenders more promptly. The state police superintendent said he knew of three men who were "obviously involved in one of the dynamitings" who were still at large to commit other offenses. He identified the men as Clarence Doyle, Wilmer Paul and Fred Paul.

Thompson said that one witness gave investigating officers a statement saying she had seen Doyle, Wilmer and Fred Paul near the scene of the dynamiting but that the witness later retracted the statement.

He said that Doyle and Wilmer Paul were now charged with battery and would be brought to trial on May 26, "the first open date on our criminal docket."

Thompson concluded his lengthy letter by saying:

"I definitely feel that before any law enforcement officer publicly criticizes another law enforcement agency, he should contact the agency with which he does not agree.

"In conclusion I advise you that your department has never, at any time, furnished my office with one iota of information concerning any act of offense connected with the Elizabeth strike."

Owners of the two struck paper mills and officials of the two AFL unions involved have agreed to meet next week in Gov. Robert F. Kennon's office in an effort to settle the eight-month old strike.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

World War II took baseball away from Monroe. When he conflict was over and the boys began coming home, those ho hadn't paid the sacrifice, the move was toward a return normal. That meant baseball, too, but by this time Monroe ad no park. First one plan and then another bloomed and aded until the L. B. Faulk Post of the American Legion de-ded to do something about it.

The Legionnaires made it a civic project and a baseball-oving public joined in to help build what is now Legion emorial Stadium, home of the Monroe Sports of the Cotton tates League. It took a mortage to finish the work as dona-ons didn't quite meet the expenses.

But they're going to burn the mortage here the night of May 28 just ahead of Monroe's game with Pine Bluff. That's 'Legion Night" at the park, when all gate receipts go to the L. B. Faulk Post. All proceeds go toward retirement of the park's indebtedness, and after three seasons and the third of the annual "Legion Night's" the slate is going to be swept clean.

Some major league clubs looked Monroe over as a possi-le farm site, but did nothing more when it was discovered e had no park. Finally, the Legionnaires began looking into ne park possibilities, found city officials agreeable to use f an idle stretch of Bernstein Park for baseball purposes, nd then started raising funds.

To begin with, the Legion post had about $10,000 salted way from donations received for a building project on its ome. Donors of this cash approved shifting the money to a ark fund, and then the public subscriptions for contributions o meet the full cost were undertaken. Public donations rought around $30,000.

By the time the work got underway on the park in the latter part of 1948, building costs had jumped so much that the fund available was not sufficient to pay all the bills. The American Legion obtained a mortgage to finish the work. By 1949 the stadium and field had reached the point where Bonneau Peters of Shreveport. getting it a wedge toward finally seating a professional club here, sponsored a Monroe semi-pro club in a "local" league that played its games in the park.

In 1950 the Shreveport Sports obtained a lease on the ew plant, acquired the Helena franchise of the Cotton States League, and brought organized baseball back to the Twin Cities. In addition to annual rental, the Shreveport group granted the American Legion one game each year at which ll proceeds would belong to the Faulk Post.

Our ball park, although used by the Monroe Sports, is owned and operated by a separate corporation, The American Legion Stadium, Inc., and members of the Faulk Post are members of this corporation, including a six-man board of directors, one of the ex-official commander of the post, and five others elected annually.

The Legion has been earmarking all proceeds from sales of "outside" signs at the park, rental, and net receipts from the "Legion Night" game to retirement of its indebtedness. Despite additional cost of improvements each year, the Legionnaires are preparing to celebrate cancellation of their debt.

Legionnaires have already received their tickets for the May 28 game through the mails, and the ticket sales in general are being made through this means rather than "beating the streets" in an effort to put the sales across.

Actually, burning of the mortage is a civic community-wide endeavor. The public has contributed, the city officials have contributed, and the Legionnaires sat in the driver's seat to put it across. And the ball park has been to the benefit of all — our high schools, American Legion Junior baseball, and other sports and civic affairs.

With any kind of response the folks will be leaving Legion Memorial Stadium the night of May 28 knowing it is debt free. The tickets for "Legion Night" are selling for one dollar straight. They can be ordered by writing "American Legion Stadium, Inc., P. O. box 1178, Monroe," or obtained at the ball park or Saul Adler's Garage.

Bayou DeSiard To Host City Amateur Tourneys

Bayou DeSiard Country Club will be host to all city amateur championship tournaments this year, it was announced last night by Club Pro Winnie Cole as he announced schedules for Women's Amateur, Men's Amateur, and Junior Amateur tournaments. Bayou DeSiard will also turn out its members next Saturday to participate in the National Golf Day program against Julius Boros, National open champion.

Defending champions in the city events will be Mrs. George Miller, women, and Clyde Nash, men. There was no junior event last year, but Jackie Rivers took the title in 1951.

Qualifying for the women's meet will take place at Bayou DeSiard Monday and Tuesday, May 25-26, and play will be in flights of eight. The first round is set for May 27, semi-finals May 28, and finals in all flights May 29. All matches will go 18 holes.

The juniors will qualify Monday, June 1 with 16 players in the championship bracket and first round losers dropping to the first flight. The first and second rounds of play are set for June 2 with nine-hole rounds in the morning and afternoon. Eighteen-hole semi-finals will be played Wednesday, June 3, and 18-hole finals will be Thursday, June 4.

Qualifying for the men's amateur begins Tuesday, June 2, and runs through the following Sunday. The low 32 will enter the championship bracket with first round losers making up the first flight. The first round of play will be completed by Saturday, June 13, and the second round will be played on Sunday, June 14. Quarter-finals are set for Saturday, June 20; semi-finals for Sunday, June 21; and 36-hole finals for Saturday and Sunday, June 27-28.

The object of play in the National Golf Day event will be to beat Boros, who will be playing on the Oakmont Country Club course at Pittsburgh, Pa. The event was first projected last year when the Sunday golfers sought to beat Ben Hogan, several here accomplishing the feat — with the help of their handicaps.

Greenville Here As Washed-Out Oilers Move On

The Monroe Sports, idle for a solid week, eyed last night's continuing rains with forebodings as they prepared for the coming of the Greenville Bucks for the scheduled opener of a three-game series here this afternoon.

Despite threatening rain, El Dorado's Oilers and the Sports were all ready for play at Legion Memorial Stadium last night. A sprinkling of fans were on hand as game-time approached, the public address had reeled off the starting lineups, and the umpires had walked out to the batters' box to accept the official lineups when the rains started again. Shortly after Manager Charley Harrington notified that the conditions were not favorable for a game, the downpour became harder than

FAITHFUL FANS REWARDED

Paul Manasseh, Monroe Sports' business manager, announced last night that the few faithful fans who were present Saturday night at the Legion Memorial Stadium for the rained-out Monroe-El Dorado tilt will be presented passes to a future Sports tilt, in addition to the game they are entitled to attend with their Saturday night rain-checks.

ary to hit this section during the prolonged series of rains.

Veteran baseball men declared they have never seen anything like it as far as Monroe is concerned at least. So far, no baseball fan here has been able to recall when a Monroe club has had so many consecutive playing dates rained out.

The Sports now have a total of nine games on their schedule of postponements, six of them coming on consecutive days since Monday and includ ng three at Hot Springs and three here with El Dorado. All told, Monroe has had ten out of 26 games rained out. One, with Jackson here, has already been made up in a double header. Others that have been postponed include one at Natchez, April 24; one at Meridian, April 29; and one at Jackson, May 3.

Weather and ground conditions permitting, Monroe and Greenville are scheduled to go into action here this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Bucks will be here for games Monday and Tuesday nights as well.

Wettest Season Since '41 Gives Loop Bad Start

DALLAS, Tex., May 16 (AP)—The Texas League has had its wettest year since 1941. Through May 14, a total of 32 games had been postponed.

There were four more games postponed last night.

In 1941, 37 games were postponed because of weather in the period up to May 14. That dates back to 1933.

One thing for sure, there'll be a new record established for the most consecutive games rained out.

Milton Price, secretary of the Texas League, said he doesn't remember more than four. Dallas and San Antonio have had five straight games rained out.

San Antonio in 1941 lost five consecutive home dates, but got in some games on the road in between home stands.

Through May 14, these were the number of games lost because of the weather:

1933, 16; 1934, 9; 1935, 29; 1936, 11; 1937, 7; 1938, 17; 1939, 14; 1940, 16; 1941, 37; 1942, 24; 1943-45, league suspended for World War II; 1946, 13; 1947, 21; 1948, 9; 1950, 17; 1951, 15; 1952, 11.

Rome's Boxing Fans Cheer Marciano Win

ROME, May 16. (AP) — Roman boxing fans stayed up all night to await the outcome of the Rocky Marciano - Joe Walcott fight and greeted Marciano's victory with wild enthusiasm.

Scores of fans stood outside the Associated Press office until they heard of Marciano's surprising knockout at 5:22 a. m. Rome time.

The schedule of Solunar periods printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best spot that each day has to offer.

Neville, Ouachita Games Postponed

Heavy rains at Baton Rouge washed out semi-final and finals play in the state high school baseb..ll championships with Ouachita and Neville of Monroe still in the running.

Coach Jim Hodgins of Ouachita and Coach Jim Coats of Neville returned home with their charges during the afternoon yesterday.

Coach Hodgins said the Ouachita team will return to Baton Rouge to play Istrouma High School at 10 a. m. Saturday morning. This game originally scheduled for 8 o'clock yesterday morning, is a semi-finals tussle.

Neville High will also return to Baton Rouge, though it is uncertain when their game is scheduled to begin Saturday morning.

Relay Scramble Heads Mat Card At Gus Kallio's

Joe Corbett, anxious to avenge his loss last week to the Baby Blimp, gets a measure of that chance in a tag team scramble at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night.

Corbett, of San Francisco, is bringing in Johnny Harmon, the former collegiate football player from Michigan, as his partner. The Baby Blimp, from the Great Smoky Mountains of Tennessee, will be sided by Don Martin, Lexington, Ky.

The relay tussle will be over a 90 - minute time limit route with two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall preliminaries will serve to start the night's card with Corbett taking on the Blimp or Martin in an early tune-up while Harmon warms up against the opponent Corbett fails to draw.

Native Dancer Beats 2 Rivals In Withers Run

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Native Dancer, beaten only in the Kentucky Derby, won his 12th race in 13 starts today as he ran away from two rivals in the 78th Withers Mile at Belmont Park.

Native Dancer, ridden by Eric Guerin, stepped the mile in 1:36 1-5 to finish four lengths in front of the Saxon Stable's Invigorator, the third place horse in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago. Real Brother, owned by Mrs. George F. Spear, brought up the rear another two and one-half lengths back.

The victory, worth $23,050 to Alfred Vanderbilt, brought Native Dancer's total earnings to $375,045.

The Dancer, trailing Real Brother during the early running, bounded to the front rounding the final turn and pulled away in the home stretch to win as Guerin pleased.

With only three horses in the field, betting was limited to win wagering and Native Dancer paid the minimum of $2.10 for a $2 win mutuel ticket.

Negro Red Sox To Face Barons Here Thursday

When Homer "Goose" Curry, manager Memphis Red Sox leads his diamond aces against the powerful Birmingham Black Barons at Legion Stadium Thursday night at 8 o'clock, baseball fans will see one of the best keystone combinations in Negro baseball.

The Red Sox have one of the most colorful catchers in the league in Pepper "Rocking Chair" Bassett, who can catch in a rocking chair and throw a runner out at second base, and around the horn the Red Sox have a hustling club. This is an official Negro American League game.

Simmons Misses No-Hit Game As Phils Triumph

MILWAUKEE, May 16. (AP) — Curt Simmons missed a no-hitter by only his opening pitch today, retiring 27 Milwaukee braves in succession after Bill Bruton's sharp single as Philadelphia beat the Braves, 3-0, and regained first place in the National League.

The young left-hander, pitching perfect ball after Burton's leadoff single, had a three-ball count on only four hitters as he threw the best game of his career. His top previous effort was a two-hit, 6-0 decision over Chicago in a night game at Philadelphia almost exactly one year ago, May 13, 1952.

Citadel Grid Coach Takes Business Post

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 16. (AP) —Quinn Decker resigned today as head football coach at The Citadel to accept a business position in Knoxville, Tenn. He will leave June 10.

Col. David S. McAlister, director of student affairs at the college, said the athletic council would meet later today to consider a successor.

Legion Juniors Open Workouts Here Thursday

Workouts for the Monroe American Legion Junior baseball team, defending state champions, will begin Thursday on the Northeast State diamond, it was announced by Legion Coach Woody Boyles, who also is the college baseball mentor.

The champion Legion diamondmen, who defeated the Tulane Shirts of New Orleans in the state finals last summer, will play their first game on May 28, opponent and site of play to be announced soon.

Coach Boyles said all youngsters who are interested in playing Legion baseball this summer are invited to try out with the team Thursday.

All last season's pitchers will be on deck. These include Wayne Causey, "Little Red" Swanson and Gene Barham. Coach Boyles classifies this trio as one of the nation's top Legion hurling staffs.

Only returning infielder will be Bill Hardy, second baseman, who is considered one of the outstanding combination men in state Legion baseball. Boyles said his only outfielder back from last season will be Ike McMullen, aggressive left-handed batter who holds down the left field position.

Causey, when not pitching, will bolster the infield. Hardy, McMullen and Causey have been foremost Legion players for the past four years.

Tommy Boyles, last year's reserve catcher, will have a job this summer filling Guy Gannaway's shoes, the coach stated. Gannaway was the Legion's top catcher last year.

Many of the Legion players are now playing high school baseball, many of which are with the Neville and Ouachita nines. Both high school teams were in Baton Rouge participating in state tournaments during the past weekend.

Florida Clinches SEC Track Title With Auburn 2nd

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16 (AP) —J. Lewis (Papa) Hall of Florida smashed the Southeastern Conference high jump record today and nailed down the Gators' first SEC track and field championship.

The big blond from Tallahassee cleared the bar at 6 feet, 7⅜ inches to break by ⅜ of an inch the mark set by Mississippi State's Elmo Branch last year. Branch equalled his 1952 leap of 6 feet, 7 inches.

Florida took the title with 47.29 points. Auburn was second with 27.1 Tennessee and Tulane tied for third with 25 each.

Summaries of the Southeastern track and field meet here today:

Shot put—1. George Cummins, Tulane, 49 feet, 8 inches; 2. Ed Culpepper, Alabama, 49, 1; 3. Art Alderson, Tulane, 48, 9½; 4. Reed Quinn, Florida, 46, 10¼; 5. George Rogers, Auburn, 46, 7½.

Chisox Steal Yankee Thunder, Rally For 5-3 Win

White Hose Just Half Game Off Pace Of Leaders

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP) — Tommy Byrne, a former New York Yankee pitcher pinch hit a home run with the bases filled and two out in the ninth inning today to left the Chicago White Sox to a 5-3 victory over the Yankees and cut the Yanks margin over the Pale Hose to a half-game.

The spirited Sox, winning their eighth victory in ten games and fourth of five against New York, came on with a five-run rally after starting Pitcher Vic Raschi had shut them out with two hits for eight innings. Raschi got two of the outs he needed in the ninth. But he was yanked in favor of Ewell Blackwell when Tom Wright singled home a run to make it 3-1 and he walked Jim Rivera to load the bases.

With the right-handed Blackwell coming in, Manager Paul Richards sent Byrne, a good-hitting pitcher, up to bat for Vern Stephens, who was acquired by the Scx during the winter to give Chicago some punch.

Byrne took two balls and two strikes without swinging. The next one was a fast ball down the middle and it went buzzing into the lower right field stands for Byrne's first homer of the season.

BOSOX NIP TRIBE

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)— After passing the first two batters with eight consecutive balls, Lefty Mavry McDermott settled down and put the Boston Red Sox into third place by shutting out the Cleveland Indians, 1-0, today with a two-hit pitching performance. George Kell's homer settled matters in the sixth inning. It was the Indians' fifth consecutive loss.

Walcott Camp, Certain Fans Claim 'Raw Deal'

By JACK HAND

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott's camp still was screaming "raw deal" and "fast count" today, demanding a rematch with Rocky Marciano, while the heavyweight champion looked ahead to a possible September defense against Roland LaStarza or Ezzard Charles.

Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, reversed pre-fight plans to retire the 39-year-old pappy guy, win or lose, and offered to donate his entire rematch purse to charity because he wanted no blemish on the 24-year record of Jersey Joe.

Bocchicchio and his lawyer, Angelo Malandra, planned to file a formal protest Monday with the Illinois athletic commission, claiming a quick count. They were going to ask the commission to see the movies of the fight to check the accuracy of the timing.

Both Mike Murphy, the knockdown timekeeper, and Fay Young, the regular timekeeper, insisted there was no doubt about the legal 10-count. Young, in fact, said it could have been 13 before Walcott was up and ready to fight.

Referee Frank Sikora, who counted out Walcott at 2:25 of the first round of last night's disappointing bout, said the old boy really was hit "a terrific right.'

"It's silly to say Walcott could have gotten up before 10," said Sikora. "He didn't know what he was doing or what was going on while he was down. Walcott said it was nine when he got up and his manager said it was seven. He got the full count. I picked it up from the knockdown counter at four. If I kept on counting it would have been 11 or 12 before he got up."

Walcott's version, retold at today's press conference: "I heard him count seven. I started to get up but he pushed me down and waved Marciano the winner."

Walcott's followers claimed he received a flood of wires from well wishers who saw the fight on television. Comments ran from "You were robbed" to "You're still champ with us."

There were protests in newspaper offices all over the country from the TV fans who didn't see the punch or thought the count was quick. The quick ending left a bad taste in nearly eveyrbody's mouth.

Walcott got hit with a right uppercut that dumped him on his back with his feet in the air. I saw the punch. Whether Jersey Joe missed the official count—fast or slow — the point is he did not get up. He was still sitting there on his haunches with one hand on the ring ropes when the referee counted him out.

There is no way of telling how badly a man is hurt. Only he knows. Many boxing people thought he could have got up. Walcott himself blames it on the referee.

Here's what Marciano had to say at a press conference this noon when asked to comment about Walcott's pre-fight foul and butting claims.

"I came out to do my fighting in the ring and I think that is what he should have done. I think I would have got up and fought."

Big Eight Makes Final Plans At Friday Meeting

RUSTON, La., May 16. (Special) —The managers and directors of the Big Eight League will meet in Ruston Friday to formulate plans for the opening of the 1953 season, turn in player lists, pass on umpires and transact such business as is necessary for the successful starting of the 1953 season. This year for the first time the league will play three games per week, with Bernice, Farmerville, Homer and Minden playing their home games on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. Bastrop will play on Monday Wednesday and Friday nights, and Ruston on Tuesday and Thursday nights and Sunday afternoon.

Four of the managers are former Louisiana Tech stars, Bob Brasher, Bastrop; Glenn Post, Farmerville; Pierce Didier, Homer and Ben Carroll, Bernice. R. E. "Slim" Cassibry, who will pilot the Ruston Ramblers, and "Lefty' Brandon, manager for Minden, are former Mississippi State players.

There will be some new faces in the different lineups but most of the teams will have practically all of their last years' players back. Benny McArdle, who won the "Best pitcher" trophy for two years will be back with Minden after a year with Homer. Glenn Post who has piloted the Bernice club for many years, will manage Farmerville this year. Six of last years players signed big league contracts, Bobby Carr, Didier, Bobby Elkins, James Farrar, Clell Hobson and Horn.

Ruston, Homer and Farmerville will open on Tuesday night, May 26, with Minden, Bernice and Bastrop as opponents. Minden's opening game will be May 28 with Homer as their opponent. The Red Birds are making elaborate plans for their opening which calls for Gov. Robert Kennon tossing the first ball. Bastrop will open at Bernice on Thursday night and will have their own opening game the following night, Friday against Minden. A trophy will be given to the team having the best opening day attendance. Most valuable player trophy will again be given by Raymond Heard, Inc., of Ruston, the "best hitter" award by Willis-Lane and the "best pitcher" award by Ruston Hardware.

Varsity And Intramural Athletes Given Awards

Thirty-five Northeast State football players were given jackets here yesterday for participation in the gridiron sport at the local college this past fall. In addition, jackets were presented to the team manager and the school's two cheerleaders. The letters were given as part of the school's annual Honors' Day program, held in the college auditorium.

Lettermen for badketball, track, baseball and tennis and golf were named by the respective coaches at the assembly.

Receiving maroon jackets emblazoned with the gold letters, "N-L," representing Northeast Louisiana State College, were the following:

Mary Lena Faulk Favored To Take Southern Tourney

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 16 (AP)—From the players themselves —and they should know—comes the tip that Mary Lena Faulk is the one to beat in the 38th women's Southern Amateur Golf Tournament which begins here Monday.

The Thomasville, Ga., shotmaker's game is sharp, the tournament players say.

So far this year, she has won the International Four-Ball at Hollywood, Fla., teaming with Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, and retained her title in the Helen Doherty Tournament.

She was runner-up to Louise Suggs in the Tampa, Fla., open.

The more than 125 tornament entries team with leading Chattanooga amateurs in a mixed four-ball match tomorrow.

The tournament proper gets started Monday morning with a qualifying round of 18 holes at the Chattanooga Country sclub where women's par is 37-35—72 for the 6,305 yards.

The 32 low qualifiers will make up the championship bracket.

The defending champion is Kathy McKinnon, Lakeland, Fla., who has the Southern Amateur reputation for "repeat winners" favoring her bid for a second crown.

Nichols Enters Finals Of Haas Event At Bayou

Curtis Nichols, Monroe automobile dealer, gained the final round of the Haas Memorial Handicap Golf Tournament at Bayou DeSiard Country Club, but still is awaiting a finals opponent. Meanwhile, the John Sherrouse Trophy tourney for women enters the quarter-final round.

Nichols gained the finals by defeating Dr. J. W. Schonlau, 8 and 7. His opponent in the title match will be the winner of a semi-finals match yet to be played between Harold Woods and Bert Sperry.

Pairings for the Sherrouse Trophy event for the quarter-finals of play were announced last night by Pro Winnie Cole as Thelma Faust vs. Kent Millsaps, Ethel Boardman vs. Lorraine McMahan, Helen Wheeler vs. Rosalie Fudickar, and Coma Prophit vs. Helen Campbell.

The week's activity at Bayou DeSiard saw H. G. Prophit join the hole - in - one fraternity when he bagged an ace Thursday on the No. 18 hole. Prophit's drive went 190 yards from tee to hole. He was using a No. 4 wood.

Franny Murray Fired By Penn To Climax Row

PHILADELPHIA, May 16 (AP) — Franny Murray was fired today as University of Pennsylvania athletic director.

It came as the climax of a long row over university athletic policies in which Murray appeared to be working to make Penn a national football power while other university athletic leaders sought to guide the university more closely into the eastern "Ivy League" circle.

Coach George Munger has appeared to be front man for the pro-Ivy forces. He wasn't even mentioned in the Penn announcement that Murray's "responsibilities . . . have terminated" and therefore apparently was sitting tighter than ever in the job he has held 15 years.

The Penn announcement, issued by acting President William H. DuBarry, was very carefully worded to avoid saying just how Murray's services were "terminated."

DuBarry later told a reporter Penn had made a "very generous" settlement for the remaining two years of Murray's contract, reported to be for $20,000 a year.

Murray himself said only that he had not resigned. In a statement telephoned to reporters by his secretary, Murray said "It is most unfortunate that the trustees decided to take this action at a time when the university is without a president."

Murray has been a storm center, also, in the controversy over televising intercollegiate football. He has fought hard for unlimited television of such games at the discretion of each school.

Speedway Trial Runs Postponed Because Of Rain

INDIANAPOLIS, May 16 (AP) — Scheduled opening of time trials for the 37th 500-mile auto race May 30 was rained out today at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, and it was just as well.

The death Friday of Chet Miller, who thought this was his year to win the big race after 16 unsuccessful attempts, was a severe shock, even to the accident-hardened racing fraternity.

One of the few pre-World War II drivers still competing, the quiet, professional Miller was the idol of the new generation at the track.

Lou Welch of Novi, Mich., owner of the 550-horsepower Novi in which Miller crashed into the south wall, said, "I never thought it would happen to Chet."

The 50-year-old Miller, Glendale, Calif., race car upholsterer when he wasn't racing, had survived a long series of spectacular accidents on the track where 43 persons have been killed. Although he held the Indianapolis qualifying record of 139.034 miles an hour for 10 miles, he was noted as a "brainy" careful driver.

"The only thing I can figure," Welch said, "was that Chet was trying to find a new groove in the track. He was trying to miss a bump in the southwest turn that had caused a couple of other cars to spin.

"When he spun into the infield he got the car straightened out momentarily. And then, instead of letting it go, it looked as if he applied power in an effort to get back on the track and save the car.

"It would have been all right if he had been on a paved apron but the traction was uneven and pulled him into the wall."

Welch said the accident was almost identical with the 1948 pre-race wreck that killed Ralph Hepburn, another veteran driver, in one of Welch's cars.

Another attempt will be made tomorrow to start trial runs, which will cut the 83 entrants to a starting field of 33 cars. Additional qualifications are scheduled May 23 and 24.

Middlecoff Clings To Lead In Round Robin Golf

Demaret 1 Point Off Leading Pace In Meadowbrook

WESTBURY, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Memphis' Cary Middlecoff stood off a bristling fourth-round rally by Jimmy Demaret today to cling to a one-point lead in the $17,500 Meadowbrook Round Robin Golf Tournament.

The tall Tennesseean shot a 67 over the 6,648-yard, par 70 course to pick up 10 additional plus points. This gave him a three-day total of 35, one more than Demaret.

Demaret, golf's dashing clothes horse who wore a cerise flying saucer cap and played with mink-covered gloves, blazed a brilliant 65—best round of the day—to add 18 plus points to his previous 16.

Middlecoff and Demaret played in the same foursome, along with Tommy Bolt, the renowned club thrower, and Byron Nelson, greying cattle rancher from Roanoke, Tex. Bolt authored a 69 and the 41-year-old Nelson, showing the strain of the rigorous test, skied to 77, the worst round of the tournament.

Thus, in this novel plus-minus event, Middlecoff lost two points to Demaret but picked up two from Bolt and eight from Nelson. The once-proud Lord Byron, now in semi-retirement, was the day's easy prey as his game completely collapsed.

Jack Burke, Jr., Demaret's boyish contemporary at Lake Kiamesha, N. Y., cooled off the torrid Lloyd Mangrum and moved into third place with 22 plus points, followed by Mangrum with plus 20.

Sam Snead, showing no ill effects from his old hand injuries, registered with a 67 and with seven points was the leader in a foursome which included PGA Champion Jim Turness, who shot a 70; Ted Kroll, with 68 and Ed (Porky) Oliver with 70.

Snead is 10th in the standings with a minus 6 score and with no chance of overtaking the leaders in tomorrow's final round.

Standings after four rounds:

Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, 70-64-66-67—267, plus 35.

Jimmy Demaret, Lake Kiamesha, N. Y., 69-68-65-65—267, plus 34.

Jack Burke, Jr., Lake Kiamesha, N. Y., 71-67-66-67—271 plus 22.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., 68-65-65-70—268, plus 20.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., 66-70-72-66—274, plus 6.

Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, 69-68-69-70—276, plus 6.

Bobby Locke, South Africa, 69-68-70-66—273, plus 6.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., 72-67-68-68—275, minus 2.

Tommy Bolt, Maplewood, N. J., 72-69-68-69—278 minus 4.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 69-70-69-67—275, minus 6.

Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., 72-65-72-71—280, minus 9.

Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., 70-68-71-70—279, minus 12.

Julius Boros, Mid-Pines, N. C., 70-71-70-68—279, minus 13.

Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., 70-73-72-70—285, minus 29.

Claude Harmon, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 72-69-69-71—281, minus 36.

Southwest Loop Declines To Add More Members

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 16 (AP)—The Southwest Conference today spurned Texas Tech and Oklahoma as members, voting to operate under the same membership it has had for 28 years.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, voted against a motion, believed made by the University of Texas and seconded by Texas Christian, that Tech, which has long been an applicant, and Oklahoma, which asked about membership last winter, be invited provided "satisfactory details for such arrangement can be worked out."

The vote in the executive session was not announced other than that the motion failed to get the required majority—five out of seven—for the league to expand.

The faculty committee also eased the scholastic requirements for athletes and "de-emphasized the de-emphasis" on football and basketball by allowing more time for spring training and adding more games to the schedule in basketball.

The qualitative scholastic requirement — that is the requirement that a student must make a certain grade—was removed. But the qualitative requirement — setting the number of hours work he must complete—was retained.

Northeast Footballers Given Position Shifts

Scrimmage has been the order of the day practically every day since spring football practice was resumed at Northeast State under the tutelage of Coach James L. Malone. With graduation eating into his line-up, Coach Malone has been in the process of a complete rebuilding program along gridiron lines. All the offensive team of last year and part of the defensive squad was lost, either through graduation or the running out of eligibility time on the part of many starters.

Many changes in positions from last year have been taking place during the recent scrimmaging on the Indians' field. In order to round out a successful one-platoon team, a number of last - season offensive players have been switched to defensive positions and vice versa.

Jimmy Childress, a Ruston product who has been playing in the backfield, has been moved to left end in order that his linebacking abilities may be utilized on defense.

Johnny Goodwin of Monroe, a three-year offensive center, is now spending his time backing the line.

Sammy Moore, New Iberia, a freshman linebacker last year, has been moved to offensive center position in changing the team's layout. This practice on offense will balance his defensive playing of last year.

Other dual role men in spring practice are Maurice (Red) Nix of Oak Grove, now working out as a linebacker; Jim Knox, Crowville who was voted the most outstanding freshman player of last year, has been shifted to left tackle from end. Knox now weighs 220 pounds and has shown great boost in the tackle slot.

Mark Boatright, one of the most all-around athletes at the college, was already a dual role man, playing both on offense and defense last year. Boatright has been calling signals in this week's practices, from the T-formation, the same line-up Northeast has used for a number of years.

With a line of about 75 per cent freshman talent, the 1953 Northeast football squad will continue workouts through Wednesday. Not more than 10 days actual practice has been held. Recent heavy rains in the area postponed the original plan to call grid men out week before last.

Two of the most promising looking freshmen at Northeast are James Hollingsworth of Newellton and Walter Reid of Ruston, both of whom have been switched in positions to stress the one-platoon system of play. Reid is now working out in the fullback slot while Hollingsworth is at left halfback. Tommy Leos, another freshman, who was one of the fleet-footed Neville high school backs last year, was also looking good in practice recently.

Other changes in line with the new ruling abolishing the two-platoon system in college football include moving C. J. Melancon, another New Iberia lad, to right guard. Previously, Melancon has been a linebacker.

Another freshman showing promise is a first-tryout player. He is Kenneth Morgan, who will be a sophomore next year and whose home is Start. Morgan has been workout out in the tackle slot, whereas in high school he played end.

Some of the scrimmages this week have been fairly rough, but no injuries of a serious nature were reported. One participant, scrappy James Blackwell of Newellton, did receive a cut on the mouth which required stitches.

Doris Hart Cops 3rd Net Finals From Akron Lass

GUILDFORD, England, May 16. (AP)—Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., defeated Shirley Fry of Akron, O., today in the women's singles finals of the Guildford Lawn Tennis Club Tournament—her third victory over her fellow American in the past four weeks.

Miss Hart won 13-11, 6-1. Besides defeating Miss Fry for the titles in the Connaught Club and the British Hard Courts Tournaments, Miss Hart also won the Rome International crown last week from Maureen Connoly.

Earlier today the American pair took the women's doubles championship from Mrs. G. Walter and Mrs. A. Dawes, both of Great Britain, 6-1, 6-1.

Redskin Cagers Busy Preparing For Gulf Debut

This may be the time of the year for warm weather, but don't bother to tell it to Northeast State's basketball team. They were holding workouts in the college gymnasium this past week as if it were January and February.

Climax of the practices was an intra-squad game held in the gym Friday afternoon.

Workouts included a set schedule of ball handling, running, passing, trying out various patterns of play and general scrimmage at the end of each day's practice. Many of the hoopsters on the floor were in fairly good physical shape, since many of them have just completed participations in recent track meets and baseball games at the college.

Northeast State will become a member of the Gulf States Conference this fall. Under conference rules, all colleges in the league are required to play all others in order to become eligible for championship honors.

Those working out for the basketball team were James Stuckey, Robert Fain, Bill Bigby, James Shively, Glenn Robinson, Arlon Adams, Robert Williams, Glynn McGuffee, Robert Bennett, Robert Phillips, Harold Davis, and Mark Boatright.

Britain's Running Star In Trial Run

WIMBLEDON, England, May 16. (AP)—Roger Bannister, Britain's star miler, ran a warm-up 2.59.8 three-quarter mile today in preparation for his "very fast mile" attempt next Saturday at White City Stadium.

Bannister's time was well off the best recorded clocking for the odd distance — 2:56.6 by Arne Andersson of Sweden in 1944.

Two weeks ago, the 24-year-old Bannister ran a 4:03.6 mile which put him fifth among the fastest milers on record. He is reaching a peak now and next Saturday, if weather conditions permit, Bannister may take his great effort toward that legendary clocking — the four minute mile.

Spas' Hal Martin Sets Pace For CSL Batters

By J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., May 16 (Special)—Hal Martin, Hot Springs outfielder, and Jack Maroney, Jackson second baseman, exchanged positions in the Cotton States League batting during the week ending May 12.

Appearing in only three games during the rain-weary week, the Bather buster blasted four hits in 10 times at bat, including his eighth homer of the season, to slip into first place with an outstanding .438 batting average, a loss of only six points.

Martin has all but hogged the specialized departments, too. He has the most hits, 28, scored the most runs, 25, compiled the most total bases, and batted in the most runs, 24, in addition to his home run leadership. He is tied with Charley Harrington, Monroe skipper (.311) and Frank Luchhesi, Pine Bluff Manager, in stolen bases, each with seven, attesting his speed and daring.

Maroney went into a sharp nose dive during the last period that cost him the loop's highest batting rating. He was able to connect safely only once in 11 trips to the plate, and that during the last Senator game. His plate figure is still a healthy .379, in contrast to .447 when the records were last released by the Friend News Service. His record to date shows 22 hits in 58 tries. He leads in triples with four.

Jack Landis, Pine Bluff outfielder, took advantage of the inactivity of Ray Rogers, Monroe catcher, to take over third place, despite a decline of 28 decimals. He has 61-23 for .377.

Hugh Glaze, Meridian second sacker, continued his batting climb with a tremendous surge that landed him in the No. 4 spot with .356. He clicked at a .500 gait—18-9—for the 63-point jump, five points ahead of Monroe's Rogers, who went hitless in seven plate chances and dropped from .419 to .351.

In the sixth slot is Louie Schaufele, Jackson outfielder and former University of Arkansas star gridder, who continued his batting skein to 11 in a row with four more that netted 18 points to .344. He has bagged the most doubles, nine.

Four batters are tied for seventh at .333, headed by Merrill Smith, Pine Bluff third baseman, who went hitless in the last three Judge outings that lopped 29 points off his mace mark. Luther Tucker, able Greenville catcher, showed a nine point gain; Manuel Moreno, Natchez outfielder, went from .182 to .333 with 21-8 for the week, while Reed Stephens, Monroe, took advantage of his assignment to a regular infield post with 17-6.

Frank Callahan, Pine Bluff, took over the pitching lead with his third straight win, a neat six-hitter over Hot Springs, May 9, while Marv Hatcher, Monroe, and John Paul Jones, Jackson, last week's 3-0 pace setters, were tumbled from the unbeaten ranks by Natchez and Meridian, respectively. Milt Ardrey, El Dorado, Al Ronay, Hot Springs, and Willie Morales, new Meridian moundsmen, have won two and lost none.

Bobby Harrison, Meridian, and Tom Pollett, Greenville rookie, each have 4-1. All of Harrison's decisions have complete games, including a pair of shutouts. Roy Jaynes, Natchez also has scored two blank jobs. Harrison is way out in front of the strikeouters with 43 in 45 innings. He has walked but seven.

Hot Springs has taken over the club batting with .274. El Dorado is best at fielding, .964.

Ali's Gem Nips Boomerang Boy For Top Money

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 16 (AP)—The Hollywood Turf Club finally got its multi - million dollar merry-go-round started today, five days late, and 44,500 racing fans flocked in to see Ali's Gem win the featured $25,000 Golden State Breeders Handicap.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker, riding his fourth winner of the day, brought the W-L Ranch's Ali's Gem in first in a head to head duel with Boomerang Boy, ridden by Pete Moreno.

Horsetrader-Ed was third in the field of six in a race clocked at 1:42 2-5 for the mile and one sixteenth.

The victory was worth $15,700 for the winning stable.

Farm, Economy Blocs To Collide This Week

WASHINGTON, May 16—UP—House farm and economy blocs collide next week in a test on 1954 appropriations, and the agriculture group Saturday claimed victory in advance.

The showdown will come Wednesday in key votes on the fiscal 1954 agriculture appropriations bill. Debate opens Monday:

As it stands, the bill carries $712,747,828 in direct appropriations, an increase of $8,942,086 over the Eisenhower administration's request; makes loan authorizations of $347,500,000, an increase of $42,500,000 over the administration proposal; and sets a $195,000,000 top limit on next year's subsidies for soil conservation, a hike of $55,000,000 over the administration request.

It is the sixth money bill sent to the floor by the House Appropriations committee and the first that would increase the pared-down Eisenhower budget requests.

Committee Chairman John Taber (R-N.Y.), leader of the economy bloc, said Saturday he is "very, very disappointed" about that. Taber declined to reveal his strategy, but it is almost certain he will make a floor fight to cut the bill.

"We've always beat them before and I think we can do it again," said Rep. Harold D. Cooley (N.C.), senior Democrat on the House Agriculture committee and a farm bloc leader.

Rep. H. Carl Anderson (R-Minn.) head of a subcommittee that drafted the bill, and Chairman Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agriculture committee, expected an attempt to cut the soil conservation fund to $140 million, as the administration recommended.

An attempt to cut it to that figure narrowly failed on Thursday in the Appropriations committee. The vote was 19 to 18. Both Anderson and Hope were confident any similar move on the House floor would fail.

Hope said he would not rule out the possibility an effort to whittle down the program might boomerang and result in the House voting to set the authorization above $195 million. The original Truman budget recommended $250 million. The level at which the program has operated for the last several years.

Foreign Assist Spending Is Hit

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) signalled a sharp, new attack on foreign aid spending today with a decision to dispatch a two-man subcommittee to the Far East for a country-by-country survey of military aid needs.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Appropriations Committee, said in a statement that two members, Senators Dirksen (R-Ill) and Magnusen (D-Wash), will leave May 27 "to look into the situation in Japan, Korea, Formosa, Indochina and the Philippine Islands."

Another subcommittee will be sent to Europe later.

The committee chairman said in an interview the subcommittees will be instructed to "bring back first-hand information by which the members can judge for themselves what the conditions are in these countries, so we can know what kind and how much assistance they need."

He added that the committee wants to get in the position "where we don't have to take the word of somebody else about these things"—apparently an indirect thrust at Harold E. Stassen, the mutual security director.

Club Enjoys Entertainers

The regular meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma was held recently at the Frances Hotel with Mrs. Birdie Mae Mulhearn, Mrs. Margaret Vincent, Miss Mary Annie Wall, Miss Mabel Lann, Miss Eloise Cann and Miss Bettie Oxford as hostesses.

The group was entertained by Mr. Sylvester Breard, who gave a humorous reading and by Mr. Eloy Fominaya who rendered two violin numbers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eloise Stanhope. Both of these numbers were enjoyed by all.

The business meeting was conducted by the president Mrs. Lewis Slator after which delightful refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Margaret Barker, Miss Harriet Boyle, Miss Sara Bres, Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Mrs. Alvine Duncan, Miss Clara Hall, Miss Mary Hester, Miss Gladys Latham, Mrs. Harry Lemert, Miss Hazel Mitchell, Miss Rosa Belle McDonald, Miss Juanita Porter, Mrs. Alfred Reid, Mrs. Cecil Schultz, Mrs. Lewis Slator, Miss Natalie Varnado, Mrs. Howard Willard, Miss Annie Windes, Miss Julia Wossman, Mrs. Ruby Crawford, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Sullivan Is Honored At Lovely Shower

On Friday Mrs. Carra E. Sullivan, the former Miss Evelyn Moss, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Jesse Whitlock with Mrs. Sam Brinson, Jr. and Mrs. Claude Sullivan as cohostess.

Guests were received by the hostesses, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. R. O. Moss.

Miss Zola Parish poured punch while Misses Sue Sullivan, Shelby McKnight and Marilyn Moss served the guests indivudually iced cakes, mints and toasted nuts.

A number of guests called between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. D. E. Woodin and Mrs. Ted Good of Fowles.

Scrub wicker furniture with a brush dipped in warm salt water. Salt keeps wicker from yellowing.

If you have too little wall space for your furniture, try bringing it out into the room and grouping it for conversation.

Prenuptial Parties Honor Miss Donna F. Montgomery

Among the parties complimenting Miss Donna Faye Montgomery, bride-elect, was a luncheon at the La Casa Tea room with Mrs. T. D. Reppond of Marion, hostess and a kitchen shower given by Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. J. R. Cullipher and Mrs. M. L. Padgett.

The luncheon table was centered with a miniature bride on a reflector with green and white tulle and white gladiolas. Streamers from the arrangement marked the place cards for each guest. At the end of the streamer was each guests' fortune.

The honoree wore a lovely irridescent nylon organdy dress with white accessories. The hostess presented Miss Montgomery with a handsome silver vegetable bowl.

Those enjoying the luncheon were in addition to the honoree and hostess, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Miss Pearl LeFevre, Mrs. J. O. Fleming, Miss Carrie Nell Spencer, Miss Violet Venable, Mrs. U. S. Gulley and Mrs. C. R. Reppond, both of Marion.

Miniature kitchen tools were used in the corsages of the honoree, her mother, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery and her grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Fleming, at the kitchen shower.

Red roses decorated the lovely tea table carrying out a kitchen theme. Artistic arrangements of roses and spring flowers were also used in the reception room.

Mrs. Alfred Ware presided at the punch bowl. A number of the honoree's friends attended the party.

Next time you make hamburgers for your family, give them a surprise. Put the hamburgers under the broiler until they are about half done on one side, well done on the other. Put a slice of cheese on each half done side and continue broiling until the cheese is melted and lightly browned. Serve at once in buttered toasted hamburger buns accompanied by pickles.

Suggestions For Care Of Silver

If you have silverware you will find that it will tarnish very easily. So every housewife should remove the tarnish immediately, advises Mrs. Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent, L. S. U. Agricultural Extension Service. The best way to keep silver free from tarnish is to use it, she believes.

"For regular care wash it in mild soap suds, rinse well and dry thoroughly," she suggests. "You should avoid soaking hollow handled silver pieces in hot water. The cement holding the handles may loosen. There are a number of methods and preparations which may be used satisfactorily for polishing silver.

"The electrolytic method is a quick, easy method for cleaning tarnished silver. Do not use this method, however, for silver pieces with hollow handles or for oxidized silver (with dark decoration.) Use a bright aluminum kettle or a large enameled kettle. If you use an enameled kettle put a bright aluminum sheet, foil or a shallow aluminum pan in the bottom. Fill the utensil with water sufficient to completely cover the silver. Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking soda and ½ teaspoon of whiting to each quart of boiling water. Stir with a wooden spoon. Put silver in boiling solution so that each piece touches either the aluminum or another piece of silver in contact with the aluminum. Boil 30 seconds to five minutes according to the degree of tarnish Remove silver with tongs or two large forks and place on a soft cloth.

"Polish silver with a clean, soft cloth—usually about 12 strokes on each piece is sufficient.

"(Any aluminum used for this purpose will become coated with a dark deposit. However, a utensil darkened in this way can be brightened by boiling a weak vinegar solution in the utensil and rubbing the surface with fine steel wool and soap.)

"Many commercially treated cloths and commercial silver polishes are available on the market," she asserts. "Then there are some ingredients which may be used to clean silver. They are 3 parts finest powdered whiting and one part denatured alcohol or ammonia. Apply the mixture with a soft cloth. Clean the engraving or uneven parts of the design with a soft brush and the paste. Avoid using a stiff brush on oxidized or on other decorations that might be damaged. After polishing, wash, rinse and dry," she points out.

Phi Mu alumnae of Monroe and surrounding areas entertained their national president, Mrs. Landon Freear of Fort Worth, Tex., last week with a lovely luncheon at Bayou DeSiard Country Club and a reception at the beautiful home of Pres. and Mrs. Lewis Slater.

The luncheon was held in the private dining room at the local country club. Flower arrangements consisted of spring flowers used at vantage points on the banquet tables.

Plans were made at the luncheon to organize a local alumnae club. Mrs. Prentice Gray was elected by the Phi Mu alumnae present as the first president of the new organization which will include membership from other northeast Louisiana towns.

Alumnae attending the luncheon were Mrs. Freear, Mrs. Prentice Gray, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mrs. Morgan Simonton Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Mrs. M. D. Hawley, Jr., Mrs. C. A. Hill, Mrs. Havs Clark, Jr., Mrs. T. R. Shackelford, Mrs. T. D. Naremore, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Miss Edwina Albritton, Mrs. Flood Madison, Mrs. C. E. McKenzie, Jr., Mrs. Foster Jones, Jr., and Mrs. J. E. Ball, both of Rayville, Mrs. Glenn Laskey and Mrs. J. C. Ritchie, of Ruston, Mrs. Webb Madison and Mrs. George Madison, of Bastrop. Guests for the occasion were Mrs. Harry Lewerd, Mrs. Lewis Slater, Mrs. Ruby Crawford, and Phi Mu active members from Louisiana Tech Patsy Twilley, Jane Connell, Carolyn McCormick, Annell West and Barbara Graham.

Reception

The reception at the college president's home was attended by both Phi Mu alumnae and members of Gamma Zeta, local Northeast State sorority.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Lewis Slater and were served delicious summer refreshments.

In the reception room the sorority flower, pink carnations, complimented harmonizing white floral arrangements in the dining room. Mrs. Neil McHenry served the punch with the three Gamma Zeta sponsors, Mrs. Harry M. Lemert, Mrs. Ruby Mae Crawford and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, assisting in serving of sandwiches, cakes, mints and nuts.

Members of the local sorority were dressed formally and in honor of Mrs. Feear the group sang the "Gamma Zeta," composed by the incoming president, Miss Jane Wallace, of West Monroe.

Garden Club Has Banquet

The Northside Garden Club of West Monroe had its annual banquet at the Barn. Each member was wearing a corsage of her own design. A barbecue dinner was enjoyed by: Mrs. Cline Averette, Mrs. H. D. Cannon, Mrs. Judson Moore, Mrs. J. W. Nettles, Mrs. James Tippit, Mrs. Jessie Webb, Mrs. A. W. White, Mrs. L. P. Williams, Mrs. Orland Chapman and Mrs. George Jones.

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a. m. on May 21st in the home of Mrs. James Tippit. The guest speaker, Mrs. Mildred Swift will give a talk on Patios. All members are urged to be present.

Girl Scout News

Flying up at the end of the fourth grade Brownie year is a milestone in any Brownie's life. Two troops, 12 and 44, made up of girls from Sherrouse School, held their fly-up ceremonies recently. Both used the traditional candle lighting ceremony and both awarded the honor of investing the girls to our executive director, Annis Klie.

Mrs. Faheam Cannon and Mrs. H. E. Lyons have been leaders of Troop 44. The following girls became Intermediate Scouts in the ceremony in Sherrouse Auditorium: Barbara Cannon, Brenda Lyons, Linda May, Rita Rivette, Judith Rushing, Diane Simmons, Lea Thompson, Linda Truett, Linda Lee Woods.

In their meeting room at College Place Baptist Church the following girls of Troop 12, received their Girl Scout pins after making the Promise: Patricia Austin, Sherry Bass, Linda Bradley, Carol Faye Bryan, Martha Foster, Gwendolyn Greer, Sandra Guyton, Gail John, Carol Slakter, Bettie Marie Sutton, Theresa Tolman, and Lynda Gaye Wood. Mrs. J. C. Bryan and Mrs. James Bradley are leaders of this group.

The latest project of troop 12 was the purchase of a shrub for the grounds of the church which has furnished a meeting place. A thoughtful gesture, certainly.

Excitement ran high last Friday afternoon when 23 girls of Troops 39 and 34 converged on Pine Wood. It was the first overnight for most of the girls and at least two mothers said their daughters hadn't been able to sleep the night before from sheer excitement.

By virture of having been on an overnight once before, Nancy Clare Noland, Gwen Reynolds, Mary Jo Strausser, Linda Wade, and Joan Williams had the honor of being the first campers ever to sleep in the new cabin just donated by the Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Since the fence has not yet been moved, it required quite a bit of effort to lug bedrolls and canvas cots over the stile. It was worth the effort, the girls say.

A picnic supper, singing around the campfire, games inside the building, and then bedtime, with cots lined up on the porch so that campers could look out into the dark, star-studded night.

It's hard to stay in bed when the sun comes up and the birds start chirping, but a good Scout stays quiet until the alarm goes off at the agreed-upon rising time. Breadtwists cooked to a golden brown over a bed of coals and filled with butter and jelly, are a favorite breakfast of most campers, and these girls carried on the tradition, their leaders say.

After the cleanups had finished, there was time for laying and following trails before lunch and the final cleaning up of the building so as to leave it spic and span. Then the girls held a last flag ceremony before leaving for home.

Girls who took part, other than those mentioned, are Dolores Calderone, Beth Fink, Bonnie Corder, Sue Ellen George, Gretchen Guelzow, Carol Haddad, Marilyn Hewitt, Helen Jackson, Linda Keller, Ruenell Ludwick, Carolyn McCleary, Stuart Miles, Doll Moore, Judy Neal, Nancy Snellings, Sara Womack, Rita Van Fossen, Mary Jane Young. Accompanying the girls were Mrs. S. C. Strausser, Mrs. Tom Keller, Mrs. Leon Noland.

This weekend Troop 31 had an overnight at camp and Troop 44 went out for the day, so it goes—no end to the happy times in Scouting.

If you keep "company china" stacked under a plastic cover, there'll be no need to wash off accumulated dust before using.

Spring Serenade Presented By Mrs. Sander's Students

Spring Serenade, and artistic event in which Estelle Sanders presented her voice students at Neville Auditorium last Monday evening was a brilliant success.

From the opening number, "Spring Serenade" through the finale "Where In The World But In America," a large audience showed their appreciation for drama and art in spontaneous applause.

The costumes were personally selected in New Orleans and Dallas. The scenes changing with every number were incomparable. Each number was an artistic triumph.

The program was as follows:

1. Easter Parade (Mixed Chorus), Berlin, Elaine Brothers, Carolyn Bagwell, Patricia Ann Rector, Pat Patterson, Ellis Bairnsfather, Rudolph Dozier, Johnny Goodwin, Jennings Wilkins.
2. A Little Song Of Life, Malotte, Louise Rhea Humble.
3. April Showers, Silvers, Louise Nelson, Martha Kay Williams Jo Marie Ellett, Mimi Clark, Evy Lee Ritter, Jessie Louise Mundo
4. Shortning Bread, Wolfe, Clyde Fulton.
5. The Night Is Young, Suesse, Soloist: Pat Patterson, Jane Blanchard, Janet Cash, Ann Eubanks, Louise Hays, Irma Grace Stevens, Shelby Southall, Betty Spurlock, Neil Spurlock.
6. Merry Widow Waltz, Lehar, Mary Lou Bairnsfather, Elvis Stout.
7. Deep Purple, Peter De Rose, Soloist: Patsy White, Jane Blanchard, Beverly Wilson, Max Dillingham, Bill Norris, Jennings Wilkins.
8. Morning, Speaks, Irma Grace Stevens.
9. There Is Nothin' Like A Dame, From South Pacific (Male Chorus) Rodgers Ellis Bairnsfather, Allen Coon, Max Dillingham, Rudolph Dozier, Clyde Fulton, Johnny Goodwin, Bill Norris, Fred Perry, Dewey Seale, Tommy Spurlock, Elvis Stout, Jack Wicks, Charles Wilder, Jennings Wilkins.
10. Snow Song, Loughborough, Nell Golson Spurlock.
11. Blue Moon, Rodgers, Soloist: Jack Wicks, Betty Spurlock, Janet Cash, Ellis Bairnsfather, Max Dillingham, Tommy Spurlock.
12. Carmena, Wilson, Ann Flinn.
13. I'll See You Again, from Bitter Sweet (Duet), Coward, Ann Eubanks, Jennings Wilkins, Sarah is having her last singing lesson before leaving England for her home in America. It is at this lesson that she and her voice instructor realize that they have fallen in love.
14. I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked, O'Hara, Soloist: Jane Blanchard, Flutist: Gloria Scott.
16. Stairway To The Stars (Girls Trio), Malneck, Soloist: Janet Cash Irma Grace Stevens, Patricia Ann Rector, Beverly Wilson.
17. One Who Has Yearned Alone - Tschaikowsky Betty Spurlock.
18. Mattinata, Leoncavallo, Jennings Wilkins, A beautiful morning is breaking with wonder and light; now the sun the whole world from slumber is waking, and kissing the flowers each one. Sweet raptures of life now are leaping; the roses have opened their eyes, but thou my beloved still are sleeping, in vain are my tears and my sighs. Wake my beloved each shadow rending, come like the sunshine golden and gay. When thou art absent night seems unending. When thou art near me, lo 'tis the day.
19. Musettes Waltz from La Boheme, Puccini, Ann Eubanks.
20. De Glory Road, Wolfe, Ellis Bairnsfather.
21. Ah, Fors E Lue, from La Traviata, Verdi, Estelle Sanders. Alone, after her guests who attended the ball have departed, Violette is meditating on the night's happenings. It is strange she says in the preliminary recitative how Alfredo's words have struck home to her heart. Would it be a great misfortune if she were to fall seriously in love? Shall she throw away this possibility of quiet happiness for the feverish follies of her present life?
22. Finale, Where In The World But In America, Rowell.

State Council

Ouachita Parish Home Demonstration Council had three representatives participating in the State Council meeting held at L. S. U. May 12-13th. These were Mrs. A. T. Stout, president of Ouachita Council, Mrs. James Pender, Logtown Club member, Mrs. H. H. Roberts, president of the Woodlawn Home Demonstration Club and the Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Euna D. Spielman who accompanied these representatives.

Among the many things planned by the State Council were: Getting a good representation to the National Home Demonstration meeting at Boston, August 31-September 2nd, and to the International meeting of the associatin of country women of the world at Toronto, Canada, August 13-23. These trips are being organized by Miss May Huson, Grand Cane, Louisiana. Any Home Demonstration Club desiring information call 3-2251 as reservations must be made immediately.

Clothing Leaders Meeting

Presidents of the Home Demonstration Clubs and clothing leaders are urged to see that each club has a leader attending the meeting May 19th at 9:30. Miss Margaret Brumby, Clothing Specialist, will be in charge of the instructions. Let's make this last meeting a 100 per cent attendance.

Council Meeting

Members of the Ouachita Home Demonstration Council enjoyed the demonstration given by Miss Irene McQueen, Foods and Nutrition Specialist of L. S. U., on "Let's Have a Party." Miss McQueen was assisted by Mrs. H. H. Roberts, president of the Woodlawn Club; Mrs. C. A. Culpepper, president of Drew Club; and Mrs. C. D. Henderson, president of Claiborne Club. These are the clubs winning Silver Services for the past three years.

See you next Sunday.

To clean silk or satin slippers, first stuff them with crushed paper to prevent denting and streaking. Use carbon tetrachloride and a soft brush. Dip brush into cleaner and shake off excess. Then go over slipper all in one motion so it won't dry in spots. Repeat cleaning before slipper has had time to dry.

A mature woman sometimes gives a masculine look to her appearance that is totally at variance with her true, feminine personality. She does this by wearing mantailored suits and fedora hats.

She believes these clothes to be neat and in classic good taste, but one wonders if she thinks of becomingness. They may become the younger woman, particularly if she is slender with excellent body proportions, but not the mature woman.

The stiff tweeds and worsteds of these suits and their broad shoulders and practical, straight skirts provide no softness for the mature woman, and softness is what she needs.

If you're a mature woman whose habit it has been to wear man - tailored suits, why not, the next time you shop for clothes, try on a dressmaker suit or dress? Select one made from a soft fabric, with flattering details and cut. The more youthful, and at the same time perfectly simple, the suit or dress is, the more likely it is to flatter you.

To wear with your new soft suit or dress, select a hat that's the antithesis of the fedora — small, shapely, simple and flattering.

The mature woman is right to want to be neat. Neatness is an essential for her — but it should be combined with softness and femininity.

Baking Soda Is Useful In The Care Of Baby

A sweet - smelling baby is so appealing and it's easy to keep him that way with simple regular procedures. Baking soda can be a big help to you.

Fill the diaper pail with a strong baking - soda solution, to help prevent ammonia odor from forming before washing.

Add some baking soda to the laundry water to help give baby's clothes a fresh smell.

To help relieve diaper rash, apply some baking soda as a dusting powder, and add a tablespoon to baby's bath water.

Keep his toys sanitary by washing them frequently in a solution of three tablespoons of baking soda per quart of water.

Add a teaspoon of baking soda to his milk bottle as soon as he has emptied it and fill with warm water. No hard milk film will form.

Keep his bathinette from developing a dank odor. Wipe it out with a baking soda paste, rinse and dry thoroughly.

School Ensemble Presents American Heritage Program

An American Heritage program was presented by the Ouachita Parish High school ensemble at the meeting of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book club.

In keeping with the theme of the meeting," I Hear America Singing," Mrs. J. Norman Coon reviewed Burl Ives' "Folk Music in Relation to our National History."

The installation of new officers climaxed the meeting. Mrs. E. C. Gibson installed the officers and delivered an installation message.

New officers are Mrs. R. H. Dollar, president; Mrs. Henson Coon, first vice - president; Mrs. Cyril Yancey, second vice - president; Mrs. James Eppinette, recording secretary; Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, secretary; Mrs. A. R. Doughty, treasurer; Mrs. Sidney Douglas, reporter; Mrs. A. J. Speer, historian; Mrs. A. S. Gunter, parliamentarian.

The ensemble, under the direction of Miss Romana Cormier, is comprised of Geraldine Weir, Sara Cloud, Sara Batton, Terri Fields, Jeannette Cash, Shirley Tousinau, Carol Eady, the accompanist, Bill Norris, Elvis Stout, Harold Bolton, Jackie MacMullen, Frank Mobley, Rodney Cannon.

In the review Mrs. Coon explained that the life of the growing country was reflected in the many kinds of work done. She pointed out that the workers found songs or made them up to fit their particular occupation. Examples of these she asserted were the lumberjack songs, the songs of the river boatmen and the canal boatmen, as well as of the cowboy, the miner and the railroad men.

Mrs. Ben R. Oliphant read excerpts from "An American Dream," a sermon from one of Catherine Marshall's books.

Members adjourned into the dining room of the YWCA where Mrs. E. Everett Lawson presided at the punch bowl. The table was centered with a gay May pole of pastel dolls with arrangements of spring flowers placed throughout the dining room.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis and Mrs. James T. Horton.

Other members present were Mrs. F. E. Black; Mrs. V. S. Garnett; Mrs. J. G. Hicks; Mrs. Morris Miller; Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, Mrs. Leola Nixon, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. L. V. Tarver.

Mr. And Mrs. Henry Mayo Are Hosts To Fine Arts Club

The final meeting of the Fine Arts Club for the year of 1952-53 was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mayo on Lakeside Drive.

Miss May Read, the president, called the meeting to order with the repetition of the collect in unison. Several members were absent due to their participation in a recital of local interest. A short business session ensued and affairs of the year were successfully concluded.

An informal program was presented by Mrs. Mayo. Mr. Roy Copeland, local artist, displayed some of his paintings. The Solitaire Player, a study in cubism was admired. He also showed the portraits of Mrs. Roy Fisher and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lealis Hale. They were of special interest to those present. Also in his group of paintings were The Model, and African Natives. Mr. Copeland made the explanation necessary to each study as they were presented.

Music for the evening was furnished by Mr. John Cale, Mr. Leon Hammonds, Mr. Max Kulcke and Mrs. Eloise Stanhope. Mr. V. C. Spatafora, who was the guest of the evening very graciously shared his European travels with the group by showing the movies he had made last summer while visiting in southern Europe.

Cookies and punch were served on the patio overlooking the lake to the following members and guests and the honorary members: Mr. and Mrs. John Cale, Mrs. Geraldine Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dalton, Mrs. Dolly Douglas, Miss Ladelle Duke, Mr. Leon Hammonds, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Inabnet, Miss Leita Mae King, Mrs. Adelaide Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Newman, Miss May Read, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Mayo, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mrs. Taunton Veazey, Mr. Max Kulcke, Mr. and Mrs. Lealis Hale, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Spatafora, and Miss Susan Spatafora, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dawkins, Mr. Charles Copeland, Miss Norma Jean Holcomb, and the host and hostess.

As a closing feature of Miss Read's year as president, she reviewed all the outstanding events that had been a part of the lives of the club members. It made an interesting and surprising close to another year of close friendship.

Miro Book Club Meets With Mrs. Roy Cole

The bi - monthly meeting of the Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. R. Q. Cole of 114 Pargoud Drive, at 2:30 p.m. The club was called to order by the president, Mrs. D. M. Moore, the collect was repeated in unison, and the pledge of allegiance was given to the flag.

A short business session was held with additional plans being made for the final meeting of the year. Thirteen members were present. In the absence of the chairman, the president announced the program for the afternoon.

The first and very interesting feature was a film, shown through the courtesy of Mr. E. L. Sanford of the health department. This most interesting film furnished by the Louisiana State Library was on the history of the country with reference to the wars that have affected it. The second number on the program was a well prepared summary of the year's study, "The Course of Human Events" by Mrs. Thomas Jett, program chairman, and read by Mrs. Sadie Pracher.

Mrs. Cole served a delicious dessert course to the following members: Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. Neal McHenry, Mrs. J. H. McCormick, Mrs. R. L. Wood, Mrs. F. L. Smith, and the hostess, Mrs. Cole.

TO WED— Miss Ruby Louise Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Day of Oak Ridge, will marry Jesse E. Wood, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood of Rayville on June 3. The wedding will be solemnized at 7:30 o'clock in evening at the Oak Ridge Methodist church.

News From Public Library

Among the new books of fiction added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the past week are books for almost every type of reader. There is certain to be something here that will appeal to you.

Mystery stories are among the most popular books at the library. Among this week's offerings there are three new titles. "The Cavalier's Cup" by Carter Dickson is another fascinating Henry Merrivale story. "Taste of Death" by Fenn McGrew is a very interesting story which has its scene in an exclusive girl's school. "Heather Mary" by J. M. Scott is a chilling, disaster-laden story of the voyage of a small yacht and her crew.

Within the past few years a complete new field of writing has grown up. That is the books written for teen-age readers. There are four of this type among the new books. "French Windows" by Geraldine Symons is concerned with the adventures of a young girl, who is left with a very unusual situation on her hands and how she copes with, in a strange city. Miss Symons writes well and one has the feeling of Paris after reading it. "My True Love Waits" by Lenora Mattingly Weber is the story of a love so great that nothing was allowed to stand in its way. The time is the early period of our country and the characters are well - drawn. "Vagabond Summer" by Anne Emery is the story of a teen-age group who spent their summer on a hostel trip. It sounds most interesting. "Sink the Basket" by Sally Knapp is the exciting story of a girl's basketball team and an interesting study in human relations.

"The Eagle and the Rock" by Frances Winwar is another splendid historical novel, based on the life of Napoleon. John Gunther says of it. "This is probably the best book on Napoleon that I ever read. It is stirring, authentic and vivid. In this book Miss Winwar combines the biographical form of her ealier work with the free technique of the novel, and the theme is the greatest of all possible subjects of historical novelists." Frances Winwar has already established herself as one of the most popular biographers of our time. This book should do much to strengthen her reputation as a novelist. Another book with a nineteenth century setting is "The Man From Brazil" by E. B. Garside. The scene shifts from Scotland, to Africa to Brazil and finally to New England. It is a story on the grand scale and deals with a man who is as true to his faults as he is to his virtues.

The other new books are more or less contemporary in setting. "The Angry Angel" by Lajos Zilahy is a sequal to the fascinating "The Dukays" which appeared last year. It is a very excellent picture of Hungarian life. "Battle Cry" by Leon Uris is a long novel, based on the exploits of the United States Marines. "The marriage of Elizabeth Whitaker is the story of a woman who might be your next door neighbor. It is the story of Elizabeth, staunch protestant who could not quite bring herself to marry a Catholic, even though she loved him. It is a book which will appeal especially to women.

A fascinating collection of short stories is "The Wild Honey" by Victoria Lincoln. Victoria Lincoln writes well and makes her characters thoroughly believable. "The Sparks Fly Upward" by James Ronald is the story of a young Scotchman in America. It is well written and interesting. The House of Strangers" by Edith Simon is a modern novel with its setting in Scotland. It deals with the adventures of a group of scientists, assembled here to work on a prehistoric treasure cove. There is a feeling of suspense and the story is thoroughly exciting.

Last among this week's new titles is "The Echoing Grove" by Rosamond Lehmann, author of "The Ballad and the Source." It is the story of two women who loved the same man. The story is presented from all sides and we get a complete picture of all the characters involved. It is a most interesting book.

There are thousands of books at the Ouachita Parish Library.

Young Couple Exchange Vows

The wedding of Miss Valerie Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. A. Fowler of Monroe, and Billy C. Copeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dock Copeland of West Monroe was solemnized in the First Pentecostal Church in West Monroe.

Rev. A. D. Varnado, pastor, performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The improvised altar was artistically arranged with large baskets of white gladioli and wood fern with an arch decorated with green foliage with scattered white carnations and branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Anita Fowler, niece of the bride, and Luther Ray Copeland, brother of the groom, lighted the candles.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Robbie Fuller gave a concert of music. She also accompanied Miss Janet Varnado as she sang "Oh, Promise Me." Miss Elise Lott sang "Ah! Sweet Mystery Of Life."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of white satin with scalloped lace yoke and self covered buttons down the front. The tapering, wrist length sleeves, were fitted at the wrist with self covered buttons. The skirt was gathered around the waist with a tapering train. Her veil was net edged with lace that fell below her waist line. She carried a white Bible cascaded with white carnations and green ivy and white satin streamers.

The bride's attendants were matron of honor, Mrs. Magdalene Howell, sister of the bride, who was attired in a gown of baby blue. Miss Pauline Fowler, sister of the bride, Miss Lortha Copeland, sister of the groom, and Miss Dennie Verl Howell served as the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of light pink and carried bouquets of green ivy with pink satin streamers. Little Miss Shella Rae Overby, niece of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a lavender gown. Little Johnny Rand Overby carried the rings to the altar on a white satin lace trimmed pillow with satin streamers.

Serving the groom as best man was William Page of West Monroe. Frank Durden, Gene Simpkins and Wayne Fordham served as groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fowler wore a dress of navy blue, trimmed in matching lace, and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a dress of navy blue nylon. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Polk street in Monroe.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth. Serving the cake were Mrs. J. D. Fowler and Mrs. Bobbie Stephens. At the punch bowl was Mrs. J. Z. Spears.

MARRIED IN MAY —Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Copeland were married recently at the First Pentecostal church in West Monroe. The bride is the former Valerie Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fowler.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER

(Chief Skilleteer)

L. J. Klug, Lexington (Ky.) Herald - Leader Chapter, joins the Skillet Club with this wonderful "Pork and Noodle Skillet." His recipe serves four.

3 tablespoons bacon fat
1 onion, thinly sliced
1 cup diced celery
2 cups diced cooked pork
1 cup beef boullion
1 cup cooked noodles

Brown the onion and celery in fat, add pork boullion and salt. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Stir in noodles and simmer 5 more minutes. It's top - notch! (We tried it once with 1 tablespoon of soy sauce instead of the salt, and 1 teaspoon MSG, which gave it an oriental touch and did no harm whatever.)

Another quick and delightful dish from Mrs. Grayce Burian, Scranton (Pa.) Times chapter serves four.

1 lb. ground beef
2 cans rice dinner, or cooked rice
1 small can eggplant appetizer
¼ lb. thin sliced American cheddar cheese.

Brown beef in skillet, then mix remaining ingredients except cheese, and pour in casserole. Top with cheese slices and bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. If you have trouble in locating the eggplant appetizer, make a reasonable facsimile by simmering the following together 10 minutes: 1 cup diced eggplant; 1 teaspoon capers; 1 teaspoon olive oil; 1 teaspoon cider vinegar; 2 tablespoons chopped celery; 2 tablespoons grated onion; 1 tablespoon catsup; 6 stuffed olives, sliced.

County Supervisor Frank A. Gibson, San Diego Union chapter, is justly proud of this "Pineapple Upsidedown Cake" which is really quite something. The first mixture:

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 slices pineapple
4 maraschino cherries
1 cup chopped walnut meats

Melt butter and sugar in skillet, remove from heat, and put in pineapple slices with a cherry in each hole. Spread walnuts between slices. The second mixture:

3 eggs, separated.
1 cup white sugar.
½ cup pineapple juice
1 ½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder.

Mix beaten egg yolks and sugar, and beat in juice, then add flour and baking powder, finally well-beaten egg whites. Pour batter over first mixture and bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. Turn out upside down as soon as baked. The luscious cake may be served with whipped cream, and will accommodate six to eight right handily.

Town And Country Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Brown

The Town and Country Garden Club held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Brown. Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst and Mrs. Fred Frazier were co-hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. David Garrett, Jr., Mrs. Leo Terzia reported on the club's project for the year.

Mrs. Burchal Liles introduced Mrs. Mildred Swift, who gave a very informative talk on Foundation Planting. Mrs. Swift showed the group different types of shrubbery and explained to them the places they would be most useful and attractive in their garden. After showing these shrubs she gave a test for the members benefit to see how many were able to identify them.

Members present were: Mrs. C. E. Searcy, Mrs. Robert Oliver, Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. J. B. Oakland, Mrs. J. D. Mullens, Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, Mrs. John Allin, Mrs. Harry Stone, Mrs. O. B. Frazier, Mrs. David Garrett Jr., Mrs. Leo Terzia Jr., Mrs. Lee Vanderpool, Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, Mrs. John Clay, Mrs. Burchal Liles, and Mrs. Walter Schubert.

Tanning Oil Is Perfumed

When you soak up your sunshine this summer, you needn't smell "medicated" or "greased up" because of your tanning oil. There's one on the market which will wreath you with the scent of a famous French perfume.

The makers claim that this tanning oil screens out harmful rays of the sun while it coaxes a smooth, even tan—all while you enjoy the worldly, sophisticated scent. Not only will you be evenly tanned — your skin will be silkier than ever, say the makers.

The same famous fragrance is available in other summertime products by Madame Schiaparelli. There's a tube of small, compressed discs which puff into full - size, perfumed washcloths when you wet them—a boon for vacationers who hate bringing home damp washcloths.

Eaton–Couch Troth Is Told

TALLULAH — Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Billie Ann Couch, daughter of Mrs. Harold Reed Couch of Tallulah, La., and the late Mr. Couch to Mr. Gregory Stone Eaton, grandson of Mrs. Ruth S. Eaton of New York City. Miss Couch attended Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex., and was graduated from Northwestern University's School of Speech, Evanston, Ill., where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta and Zeta Phi Eta, honorary speech fraternity. At the present time she is employed by the National Broadcasting Company in the Radio Recording Division in New York.

Mr. Eaton is a graduate of Williston Academy, Easthampton, Mass., and Northwestern University's School of Speech, Evanston, Ill. He served two years in the United States Navy and is television film production coordinator for the National Broadcasting Company in New York.

The wedding will be solemnized the afternoon of June 14th in the First Baptist Church of Tallulah.

When you're painting, can't finish the job in one day, and haven't time to clean the paint-soaked brush thoroughly, you can keep the brush soft for a day or two, if you wrap it in aluminum foil. Press the foil together at the edges to keep out all air.

Landscape Planning

Now that you're proud of your vegetable garden, all things considered, why not see how things are going out front?

Do some meditating on the appearance of your yard as you stroll along the front sidewalk. If the picture is not altogether pleasing you might like to consider some landscaping.

By doing the work yourself and selecting plants that grow naturally in your part of the country you can end up with a satisfactory job.

Many landscape failures result from poor choice of plants such as the tree in the foundation planting that grows up beyond the bedroom windows, shutting out light and air.

The front door should be the focal point of a foundation planting, so that attention is drawn to it. Beware of spectacular plants here, but use a few dignified lawn-growing specimens. Full grown, these specimens should always be lower than the plants at the house corners. These corner plants should reach about halfway between the ground and roof line.

Most front entrances need only two plants, one on each side of the door. This is especially true of small homes. Plants with rounded or spreading habits usually are best for this location.

Plants at corners serve to blend the building into the natural surroundings. This is done by concealing the inverted "T" where the vertical building line meets the horizontal ground line. Often one plant is enough — just be patient and wait for it to fulfill its purpose.

A larger home may need a tall plant near each corner plus a lower one at its base.

Where house and yard are both small the kind of trees used at the corners of large homes can be used

WELL CHOSEN plants in the right places make an effective landscape job, trees provide background.

You'll be prouder of them, in a few years, than you would of large shade trees that in time might make your house appear small.

Border and screen plantings are used to insure privacy rather than to keep out your neighbors. These are often useful, especially on city properties.

In choosing trees there's a whole list of items to check. Among these are: shallow and heavy feeding roots, dense foliage, branching habit, size, color of bark, falling seed pods and fruit, insect pests, diseases, rate of growth, color of foliage in fall and hardiness.

The problem is big enough, in short, to make some study worthwhile.

Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Tall Bearded Iris

As one travels over the Southern States and visits gardens, it becomes more and more evident that gardeners are not getting what they might out of their tall bearded irises. One reason lies in the fact that the irises are under-fed and another reason is that they are being transplanted and moved about so often that they never make large enough clumps to show for what they are really worth in the landscape. Bearded iris clumps take from three to five years to really reach maturity. Of course, if you are just interested in single stalks with huge flowers on them, it is easy to see how you might think that frequent division and new soil would produce results. Unless your soil is very rich, however, you can rarely achieve fullest development from irises in one year's growth from even the largest divisions. It takes several years of growth in the same spot in fairly rich soil well fertilized with bone meal to produce a big clump of iris bloom stalks that will knock your eye out!

Fear of iris rhizome rot and of borers seems to be one of the reasons why some gardeners are afraid to leave their clumps alone for more than a year or so before they divide them. Rhizome rot and borers are not such terrible dangers if you will elevate your iris beds above the surrounding level of the garden. Where the irises are planted in clumps they can be raised up on humps of soil a foot or more higher than the level of the beds where they grow. Old readers of the column have clipped the columns in which we explained how your columnist used to grow his irises in a fairly large collection. The iris beds were prepared like sweet potato hills in a field. Then these hills were raised further by scooping up some of the soil in between the rows and adding it to the tops of the beds because we knew that rain, erosion and walking as well as winter frosts would take the hills down several inches. As it turned out, this was wise, because the constant walking up and down the rows added to the weather's efforts did reduce the height of the beds till they were none too high at all. In your garden, if you are making a border of bearded irises alone, raise the spot where you wish to grow a clump and add a double handful of bone meal to the soil. Then bring a bushel basket full of good soil in and pour it out on top of this spot. Stir another handful of bone meal into the new soil and set some stones around the edge to hold the soil up above the surrounding level. Then plant two or three rhizomes on the hump—same kind, of course—pat the soil down with your hands, and leave it.

Bearded irises will have their best chance to grow undisturbed by rot or borers in elevated situations like we have described. In Europe they grow on steep mountainsides in great quantities. From this, we have taken the hint and planted them on banks. The trouble usually has been that we tried to grow them as bank holders on very poor soil, and they just could not flower well in such places. It is well to go over your irises and pull of the dead leaves and take out by hand all the trashy debris several times a year where they are thick. This will discourage the iris borer. If you do get either borers or iris rot, dig up the whole clump affected, clean off all the soil, cut away all the rotted rhizome, dipping your knife in a solution of bichloride of mercury after each cut. Then let the cleaned rhizomes dry in the shade or in dappled sun and shade for a few days before you replant them. The soil where you removed the clump should be dug out or at least soaked with the bichloride of mercury solution before anything is planted back there, and it is wisest not to replant the spot for a season but to let in the sun and air.

If you plant your irises in full sun where no shadows come across them all day long, you will probably be disappointed in them. In the North, this may be all right, but down South here, the spring sunlight and heat dries out and burns up the fragile flowers of bearded irises. The intense light is so strong that we can hardly open our eyes to see these blooms and enjoy them. The best location for irises, from the standpoint of enjoying them in a garden is a slope where the light can come through the petals. They are transparent flowers which need the light actually passing through them or over them to show up at their best. Some shade from high limbed trees will help to preserve the blossoms, and mottled shade and spots of light is the ideal for any flowers. On a slope, the drainage will be good, and the rhizomes of irises will not be as subject to rot as they are on flat beds.

For real landscape effect in a garden, the purest colors are always the best ones in irises as in all other flowers. They are easier to use than many of the show type varieties which one sees in the iris catalogues. Use the purest blues and the cleanest yellows which give the effect of a solid color at some distance. Some of the older varities are excellent for this. Old Princess Beatrice, Juniata, Gold Imperial and the pink Cecile Minturn are varieties you may find discarded somewhere by the hundred if you do not wish to spend the money for quantities of the newer ones.

Seeds Stored 20 Years

WOOSTER, O. (AP)—Agronomists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station have learned that a grain of corn can remain dormant for 20 years and still grow into a healthy vigorous plant when it receives the stimulating action of sun and soil. In 1933, they sealed a handful of seeds in glass tubes and placed them under refrigeration at about 25 degrees. Moisture content of the corn was 11 per cent. This spring, the agronomists broke open the tubes and found that 95 per cent of the kernels developed into normal plants.

J. D. Sayre, physiologist at the station, said there is no known record of successful corn seed storage for such periods as in this experiment. Now, he said, scientists are revising upward their estimate of how much vitality is stored in the tiny germ cell of a seed.

Just what this germ cell contains that makes a seed sprout into a plant is still the biggest mystery of science, Sayre observed.

Chemicals Can Be Dangerous

Chemicals that kill weeds and bugs in the garden are bringing the Pushbutton Age closer, but don't throw away your hoe.

Hold fast also to your caution and follow directions if you expect new compounds to do their best work for you, say Rutgers scientists. No doubt about it, they tell me, that many of the sprays and dusts with jaw-breaking names have made life easier for farmers and gardeners.

But you can get into trouble with some of them if you're not careful.

Take 2,4 - Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid for instance. Basic ingredient of many packaged weed killers especially effective against broad-leaved pests, it's known familiarly as 2,4 - D. But this new found friend that can help rid your lawn of dandelions and other plantain can also kill your tomatoes and almost any other plants with broad leaves within range of your spray.

Unbelievably small quantities of 2,4 - D can do good or evil. The story is told of a Rutgers researcher whose station wagon carried, among other items, a container of 2,4 - D that had been opened, and a ball of twine. When pieces of the twine were used to tie tomato plants to stakes the tomatoes showed the familiar 2,4 - D effects.

Vapors from the 2,4 - D apparently had been absorbed by the twine—just enough to affect the tomatoes even when only small bits of the twine were used.

Used as a fine spray, 2,4 - D can be carried many yards by the wind. Furthermore, it's hard to get the 2,4-D cleaned out of a sprayer that you may want to use later for insecticide.

Around here we use dime store paint brush to wipe out weeds. The little solution that the brush can hold is enough to apply to an unwanted weed in the lawn, and there's no danger of drift. If you don't like to stoop you can tack the brush to an old broomstick.

Some gardeners have taken over Junior's water pistol as a weapon against weeds, loading it with 2,4-D solution, but Dr. Ralph Engel, turf specialist, frowns upon even this apparently commendable use of the squirt gun. One shot may be too much of a dose, he says. He likes his paint brush.

The anti-bug warfare has made big strides in recent years, too, and commercial vegetable and fruit growers are making good use of new insecticides fresh from the laboratory. Most of them follow manufacturers' directions to the letter and so avoid the troubles that misuse can bring.

Actually, the home gardener can go lightly armed with insecticides and win the battle against bugs. So says Bailey B. Pepper, entomologist.

Most insect damage can be expected from the family of flea beetles, the Colorado potato beetle, Mexican bean beetle and cabbage worms. In fighting these you can get the upper hand by using products that contain pyrethrum, rotenone or methoxychlor, all effective, but with no health hazard. Get in the habit of reading the fine print on the label to be sure of what you're buying, and also to follow printed instructions, the scientific garden expert say.

If you have a particular insect, plant disease or wood problem, you can always get expert advice from your county agricultural agent or farm advisor.

You'll still find the hoe usefull for getting certain garden jobs done and as a symbol of common sense.

Garden Club Meets With Mrs. C. Ponder

The Bayou DeSiard Garden Club met recently in the home of Mrs. C. A. Ponder, Edgewater Gardens, with Mrs. Carl Slakter, co - hostess.

Mrs. Slakter gave an interesting discussion on "Miniature Arrangements." Just recently has the miniature arrangement grown in popularity with exhibitors as well as the general public at flower shows. The "miniature" is not to be confused with a "small" arrangement. Some authorities consider a miniature should not be more than three inches over all. Interesting containers may be used such as small perfume vials, a silver thimble, a walnut shell, or even lipstick tubes. Potter's clay can be modeled easily into small bowls or flat containers. The selection of the plant material depends to a great extent on the type of container. Tiny blades of grass, grape-hyacinth, and White Clover foliage may be used to good advantage.

At the conclusion of the program delicious refreshments were served the following: Mrs. Carter Ackel, Mrs. James S. Badley, Mrs. Mrs. J. S. Cage, Mrs. E. P. Chapman, Jr., Mrs. . T. DeMasterson, Mrs. P. N. Edwards, Mrs. R. C. Holler, Mrs. J. H. Huffman, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. W. G. Miller, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Carl J. Thompson, and the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Ponder and Mrs. Slakter.

The Home Shift With

Mildred Swift

This is being written a week ahead of publishing date as I'm taking one week of my vacation and therefore had to get ready for same. I very much need a vacation to try to get over the nervous "shakes" at thoughts of going on television. After I get accusomed to the camera and the many "don'ts" and "do's" of televising, I really believe it is going to be a most effective method of reaching more of you with the home information you want. The nice part about the television demonstration is — you get the information in the home where you can slip off your shoes and get comfortable in the easy chair. Please send me some suggestions as to what you want on these programs.

LEAF SPOT ON ROSES

Everybody seems to be having trouble with leaf spot. Make a note on your calendar to start fighting this fungus next February. Early spraying tends to control leaf spot. However, what you want is something to use, now. Either Bordeaux mixture or sulphur. The instructions on the container will give you the mixing proportion. You'll probably have to spray every week to keep this under control.

LAWN EXHIBIT

Did you see the exhibit of lawn grasses at the Monroe Garden Club Flower Show last Tuesday? This belongs to Mr. L. L. Price at Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Price still has this exhibit in his department and will be glad for you to come to the science building and see all the suitable grasses for lawns in north Louisiana. It's easier for you to decide just the one you want when you see them all toghether.

Remember to raise that mower as the weather gets warmer and drier. One and one half to two inches is not too high.

BLUE CLEMATIS

One day last week a pupil of Miss Kelso's brought some blue flowers for a coffee table arrangement. Mr. Price, Miss Kelso and I were all three looking for the young lady to find out if the blue flowers were clematis — and they were. She gave us the address for ordering, however, one of the nurseries had plants arlier. It wouldn't be advisable to put them out now, but we'll remember this next year.

A COMPLAINT

The home owners around the Old Country Club Drive have worked with Mr. Ellis and beautified the neutral ground on the right just as you enter the loop. They are proud of their accomplishment. But — my! my! There's always something to mar our Twin Cities beauty — it seems. Fishermen are driving their cars and trucks on the lawn of the small parkway, making deep ruts. Then — they're leaving their cans, boxes and trash. The home owners beg of you — when you're through with your picnic and fishing, please pick up your debris and don't drive on the lawn.

GARDEN JOBS

Your power mower will respond to a little attention. Stale gas left in the tank loses it's punch, the spark plugs get dirty and the engine gets gummed up. Plugs need cleaning every 100 hours of operation. Flush the old crank case oil and put in new, fresh supply of the correct grade. Replace oil after 25 hours of operation. Drill blades after damage grass.

You can continue to plant St. Augustine grass all through the summer. Spring plantings get off to a better start, though, because of the rains.

When you prune your climbing roses, cut the pruned canes up into three or four inch pieces. They'll fall to the ground and you won't have to tear down the entire rose bush to pull out the pruned limbs.

Planting the tops of bulbs makes the beds look neater, but — the tops don't get as much sunshine and this they need to manufacture blooms for next year.

DENIMS WITH A DASH

Designers and manufacturers are decorating denim in all kinds of fanciful ways — with braid jewels and stitching. Just make sure before you buy that denim dress that the label says "sanforized." Denims have always been washable but they shrink. Now the shrinkage is controlled so there is less than one per cent. They can go right into the family wash each week and be crisp and fresh in no time.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

Mildred Swift

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—We have been told that aluminum sulfate is essential to the growth of gardenias and blueberries. If so, how much should be used?

A—Aluminum sulfate is a good means of increasing and retaining the acidity of soils. For the gardenias, use a teaspoonful to a quart of water; for Blueberries spread 5 tablespoons evenly about each plant, cultivate and water in. However the soil in either case should be rich in peatmoss or similar humus.

Don't Overlook Azaleas For Your Garden

The roadside garden supply stands are filled to overflowing with trees, shrubs, perennial flowers and baskets of colorful pansies. Likewise prominent and readily disposed of, because they are evergreen, are the balled and burlapped arbor vitae, junipers, yews, pines, spruce, hemlock and holly.

Unfortunately the buying public overlooks the many splendid azaleas, passed by because they are not yet in flower or in leaf.

There are several important groups of azaleas and, with proper selection, azaleas can bloom in the garden for two months. First to come into bloom is azalea mucronulatum, a Korean variety prized for its pale rosy purple flowers. Next to appear are the first fragrant rosy-pink blossoms of a handsome azaela with the tongue-twisting name of schlippenbachi. This excellent plant has most colorful autumn foliage, an important reason for including it in your planting.

For a brilliant azalea display we choose the mollis varieties, with their undreamed-of colors and shades in yellow, orange, apricot, salmon, burnt orange and flame. This Chinese azalea is a neat, compact shrub with splendid foliage following the fading flowers. Plants will bloom when but a few inches in height. The ultimate height is about six feet and if given a chance, the shrubs will develop a spread of six feet and more.

The gardener must bear in mind that the azalea demands an acid soil composed of equal parts of loam, gravel and humus. Well-rotted manure is the ideal fertilizer at planting time. A mixture of one part of cottonseed meal and two parts of superphosphate worked into the soil each spring will provide sufficient plant food.

A half cup of this mixture should be given the average plant (two feet); the fertilizer is spread about the plant in a circle under the ends of the branches, cultivated and watered in.

Drainage must be provided as these plants will not tolerate constantly wet roots. Much moisture should be supplied during dry summer weather, however, to permit the plants to set buds for the next spring's display.

Azaleas should be planted where they will be seen to advantage, either in the foundation or border planting or as a specimen in the lawn. Always allow ample room for future growth. Azaleas want considerable sunlight and seem to appreciate a southerly and easterly exposure. Lack of sunlight will result in few and dull blooms.

When planting be sure to provide a pit at least a foot broader than the spread of the ball and six inches deeper. Place the plant so that it will stand an inch or two above the surrounding grade. Never fill soil up about the trunk or branches.

The evergreen azaleas which deserve a place on your list are: Hinodigiri, two to three feet tall and twice as broad, with scarlet-crimson and fiery-red flowers; and Ledifolia alba, my favorite because it develops the finest of white blooms.

Garden Odds & Ends

If crocuses are naturalized in the lawn, avoid mowing over those spots until their foliage has yellowed down. Cutting the leaves will reduce next year's blooms.

Morning glories and four o'clocks may be planted now — but for earlier blooms, a few plants may be bought at the nurseryman's.

Continue sowing annual seeds which now may be put into the ground where they are to grow. The long list includes zinnia, marigold, larkspur, shirly poppies, snapdragons.

Tomatoes, sweet corn, peppers, melons and most vegetables can be freely planted or transplanted now. Only lettuce is a poor bet, for it dislikes hot weather.

Take the houseplants out into the garden and plunge them to the rims of their pots in shady, moist corners. Even cactus — provided the weather is permanently warm —will appreciate a period outdoors and good drainage, lots of sand and some little shade.

Make a weekly round, armed with markers and pencil, to spot plants you want to move, divide or rip up when they've finished flowering.

Don't let anything, even visitors, interfere with the spraying schedule, and keep the rose bed cultivated as an extra precaution against pests.

Try something new — like planting Witloff chickory, and save the roots for forcing in sand in the cellar during the winter. Result: French or Belgian endive, which last winter cost 60 cents a pound in the stores.

Feed fruit trees heavily if heavy fruiting is desired.

Stake plants early, when it is an easier job.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED— Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Pickens, Sr. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Donald Lewis Gannaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Gannaway of Sterlington. The wedding will be solemnized at two o'clock June 6 at the First Baptist church.

TO MARRY IN JUNE—Mr. and Mrs. John Etheridge Ewing of Jonesboro, Louisiana, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie Elaine Ewing, to Ned Edward Duval, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ardis Caldwell of Monroe. The wedding will be solemnized June. 20.

Banquet And Tea Climax St. Francis Homecoming

Highlighting the first homecoming celebration at the St. Francis Sanitarium Tuesday was a lovely informal tea in the gardens behind the Sisters Home and a banquet at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Artistic arrangements of Easter lilies, pink gladioli and maidenhair fern centered the tea table which was overlaid with a handmade cut-work cloth. Purple and gold streamers, symbolized the class colors.

Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. Cora Wilkerson, Mrs. Dot Biggar, Mrs. Margaret Odom and Mrs. Josephine Tucker.

Mrs. Faye Haile was in charge of the guest book. Following the tea, Miss Josephine Cascio entertained with a cocktail party in her home on Emerson Street.

More than one hundred and thirty nurses and alumni attended the tea and banquet, representing all years except four and with the 1938 and 1947 classes, having the largest registrations.

Spring flowers were used at the banquet and corsages of purple carnations with gold ribbons marked the places for the nurses. The corsages were presented by a group of doctors.

Mrs. Grace Cooper delivered the invocation and Miss Josephine Cascio, alumnae president, gave the welcoming address. She also served as master of ceremony, assisted by Mrs. Jimmie Blasengame.

Miss Sibyl Renaud, the first alumnae president, welcomed the graduates to the first homecoming.

Charter members were later introduced by Miss Renaud.

Mrs. Betty Smelser Echols was introduced as the first baby born at St. Francis to graduate as a nurse from the training school.

Mrs. Ada Hudson addressed the group on "Aims of the Alumnae."

Mrs. Frieda Cannon lead the singing of appropriate class songs, accompanied by Mrs. Joyce Pardue at the piano.

Piano Pupils Present Their Spring Recital

OLLA — Miss Grace Newlin Sloan's piano pupils will present their spring recital at 8 p.m. Monday in the LaSalle High School auditorium in Olla.

The program is as follows: "Poet and Peasant Overture," Pat David and Janell Burnett; "The Bell Tower", Martha Ann Brooks; "Chinese Dance," Lewis Newell, Jr.; "The Ice Skaters," Gem Wells; "The Pirate Story," Danny Brockner.

"The Pond In the Wood," Donice Hayes; "Surprise Waltz," Emily Ann Russell; "Southern Sonatina," Bobbie Crick; "Serenade (Student Prince)", Alice Elias; "Susans Spinning Wheel," Virginia Ann Bray; "Kiss To Spring," L. T. Stennett; "Valse Mignonne," Danny Lou Cockerham.

"Mr. Turkey Goes To Town," Elayne Wright; "The Convent Bell," Thad Putman; "Amarylis," Frances Nugent; "Home On the Range," and "Smokey, The Bear" Mike Burris; "Country Gardens," Lynn Gaines.

"Feur Elise," Betty Cooksey; "Narcissis," Sue Sims; "The Whistler and His Dog," Jean Jones; "Liebestraum," Pat Davis; "Indian Love Call," Alice Elias; "Deep Purple," Charlotte Tannehill; "Prelude in C Minor," Janell Burnett.

Mrs. Sterling To Be Garden Club's Guest

The Welcome Garden Club will hold its regular meeting for the summer at 2:30 p.m. Monday at the Youth Center in West Monroe.

Mrs. James Leake Sterling of St. Francisville will show slides and give a talk on Audubon Park. Mrs. Sterling is well known throughout the state for her lectures. The garden club president urges all members to attend.

Fort Miro Chapter D. A. R. Meets With Mrs. E. K. Theus

The E. K. Theus home overlooking beautiful Bayou DeSiard was the setting Saturday afternoon for the business meeting of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Receiving in the foyer with Mrs. Theus were Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Jr., Mrs. Eloise Slater, Mrs. W. B. Inabnet and Mrs. Aylmer Montgomery. Others on the hostess committee were Mrs. E. S. Girault, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. J. L. Jones, Mrs. H. W. McSherry and Mrs. F. F. McNeely.

In the absence of Miss Frances Flanders, regent, Mrs. George M. Snellings, Jr., presided. Following the pledge to the flag, the invocation was given by Mrs. C. E. Faulk. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Eleona Brinsmade after which Mrs. Snellings presented a letter from Mrs. W. E. Hicks of Shreveport, thanking the chapter for their endorsement of her candidacy for state regent in 1954, and expressing pleasure that Miss Flanders had agreed to serve as librarian on her ticket, which will mean that the state D. A. R. Library will be located in Monroe in 1954.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk installed the following officers to serve for the incoming year: Miss Frances Flanders, regent; Mrs. George M. Snellings, Jr., first vice - regent; Mrs. Lewis Slater, second vice-regent; Mrs. J. N. Harvey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. W. C. Oliver, librarian; Mrs. Floyd L. Martin, treasurer; Mrs. Fagan J. Cox, chaplain; Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., registrar; Mrs. Milling Bernstein, historian; Mrs. O. M. Grisham and Mrs. James R. Wooten, counselors.

Mrs. J. C. Liner, Jr., who recently returned from the Continental Congress in Washington, brought the highlights of this event which included a trip to Valley Forge where D. A. R. members erected a five - hundred thousand dollar memorial tower; a trip through Constitutional Hall, and a reception at the White House with Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower receiving. This was made the more interesting to all delegates by the fact Mrs. Eisenhower was recently admitted as a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Liner also told the group of a memorial to the late Mrs. Gladys B. Sperry by a friend from Texas.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Liner's talk the group assembled in the dining room where coffee and a variety of confections and sandwiches were served to: Mrs. W. L. Husted, Sr., Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. J. R. Coulter, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. S. W. McLean, Mrs. O. M. Grisham, Mrs. Ivy McDonald, Mrs. L. C. McGuire, Mrs. F. L. Martin, Mrs. W. E. Leigh, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Liner, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Lewis Slater, Mrs. J. B. Carlton, Mrs. C. R. Russell, Mrs. George M. Snellings, Jr., Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs. E. K. Theus, Mrs. W. S. Inabnet, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, Mrs. C. E. Faulk, Mrs. E. G. Calvert and Mrs. Roland Brown.

Etch In Lines For Beauty

Eyebrow pencil is a much abused though useful cosmetic. The most frequent mistake is that of using a black pencil when one is a blonde or brownette. Unless the eyebrows themselves are really black, a black pencil line will stand out on the face.

Another mistake is carrying the line down at the end rather than up. Downward lines are aging. Carry the brow out a fraction of an inch and lift it up, very slightly.

You can't work well with a blunt or too - soft pencil. Have yours very sharp and just soft enough to make a mark on your skin without discomfort. You can sharpen it on a piece of sandpaper or, with some pencils, on a piece of plain paper.

Master the art of feather-stroking in fine, light lines, in imitation of nature, rather than drawing one continuous line that hardens the expression.

Soap scum that forms in hard water and clings to clothes will form grease spots on them during ironing. To avoid this, always use a water softener in the second sudsing, following with at least two clear rinses. Washing soda can be used on cottons and linens; use only ammonia or borax on delicate fabrics.

Chaplains Are To Assemble For Retreat Period

CAMP POLK, La. (Special) — Camp Polk has been selected to serve as host to the Protestant chaplains of the military installations in this vicinity for a chaplain's retreat to be held May 19 through May 21, 1953. These retreats will be held on week days between May 15 and June 30, 1953 at military installations throughout the United States and are sponsored by the general commission of chaplains and the joint department of evangelism of the National Council of Churches.

The speakers for the occasion at Camp Polk will be Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of the First Baptist church, New Orleans, who is also president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. R. Bruce Brannon, director of evangelism for the Synod of Texas, Presbyterian Church, U. S. Both guest speakers are outstanding leaders in their field of endeavor and hold positions in national and international organizations pertinent to their work.

Guest Chaplains from Camp Leroy Johnson, Alexandria AF Base, Barksdale AF Base and the VA Hospital, Alexandria, will be present to participate. Civilian clergymen from communities adjacent to Camp Polk are extended an invitation to attend.

Ira Cagle To Head Housing Authority Here

The annual meeting of the commissioners of the housing authority of the city of Monroe was held May 16.

Ira Cagle was elected chairman and Sam Rubin was elected vice-chairman.

Fred Fudickar, Jr., who served as chairman for the past year, was given much credit for the splendid work accomplished during his tenure in office. Louis Lock Homes and Carver Homes were completed during the past year as well as the preliminary planning and purchase of land for LA 6-5.

The housing authority of the city of Monroe owns four projects in the occupancy stage. These projects total 326 units. George Breece Manor, for white people contains 50 units; Dr. Arthur Johnson Manor for colored, 76 units; Louis Lock Homes, 100 units for white people, and Carver Homes, 125 units for colored people.

Bids will be opened on May 27 for the construction of the fifth project of 175 units, scheduled for colored occupancy.

At this meeting, Mrs. Helen B Wasson was appointed assistant secretary of the board.

The commissioners of the authority serve on a voluntary basis. The board is comprised of the following members: Ira Cagle, chairman, Samuel Rubin, vice-chairman, Joseph S. Guerriero, commissioner, Fred Fudickar, Jr., commissioner and J. Arthur Smith, Jr., commissioner. Frank F. Smith is executive director of the authority and Henry Bernstein, Jr. is attorney.

Minister Group To Meet Monday

The Ouachita Parish Ministerial Association will meet Monday, May 18 at the First Presbyterian Church. Coffee is to be served at 9:45 a.m. and the session will open at 10 a.m. and last one hour only.

Dr. Hugh Bradshaw, president, urges all the ministers of the parish to attend. The association is for all ministers of the parish, not for those of the Twin Cities only.

The coffee period is a time for fellowship when ministers can become better acquainted.

BROTHERHOOD WILL MEET

The men of the Edgewood Baptist Brotherhood will meet next Monday evening at 7:30 to hear Rev. Eljean Spencer, pastor of the Cheniere Baptist Church. The meeting will be held in the banquet room of the Highway Cafe, 806 Cypress, W. Monroe. This men's organization meets once a month. W. A. Bennett is presidenet and E. N. Vidrine is secretary.

Inspect your living room before retiring or going out at night. See that no cigaret butts are left burning under sofa cushions or on tables.

---

Druggists To Go To Convention

Druggists from throughout the state and their wives will attend the Louisiana State Pharmaceutical Convention to be held in Shreveport May 24, 25, and 26.

A large representative group from the Twin Cities and northeast Louisiana will be on hand for the annual meeting which is marked as the 71st convention of the association.

Nationally known speakers on the professional side of pharmacy will be featured on the three-day program. Three of the most interesting speakers scheduled are R. T. Sanner, manager of trade relations for Parke, Davis and Co., Detroit; Don R. Rapy, trade relations department of Eli Lilly and Co., Indianapolis; and John A. McGuire, former congressman from Connecticut and author of the "McGuire Fair - Trade" bill.

Gov. Robert Kennon and Congressman Overton Brooks from the fourth congressional district have also been invited to speak on the official program.

L. B. Faulk Post American Legion Meets Monday

A regular meeting of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, will be held at the Legion Home, Forsythe Avenue, Monday at 8 p.m.

Plans for the decoration of the graves of deceased veterans will be completed at the meeting for the observance on May 30, national Decoration Day.

Post Chaplain Ernest Duncan Holloway will attend and give one of his highly inspiring talks suited to a day that all revere.

It is also planned to make a presentation of the Sea Scout troop charter at Monday's meeting.

A committee will be nominated by Commander Orchard to assist in selecting the officers for the coming year. The election is to be held at the time of the second meeting in June.

Commander John Bailey has arranged to serve refreshments.

Woodlawn School Gets First Approval

J. W. Walters, principal of the Woodlawn Elementary School, on the Jonesboro road, has announced that the school has been placed on the list of state approved elementary schools for the 1952-1953 session.

The rating was based on annual reports made by the school and on observations made recently by a representative of the State Department of Education.

All parts of the school and its program were considered, but special emphasis was placed on "qualifications of teachers, size of each class, quality of teaching and learning materials, suitable school building and a challenging, interesting, well-planned school program."

Being a new school, Woodlawn has just this year become eligible for approval.

Fly-Up, Court-Of-Awards Ceremony Held On Sunday

One of the most impressive ceremonies ever held at Pine Wood, the Girl Scout troop camp, was the combined Fly-up and Court-of-awards held on Sunday. In a big circle around the flag pole, the Brownies in uniform on one side, the green-uniformed intermediates on the other, and the leaders at one end, the members of Troop 10 each escorted a Brownie to her leaders, Mrs. E. C. Slaughter and Mrs. Earl Cobb, who gave here the Brownie wings. In turn, Mrs. A. W. Lewis, and Mrs. B. O. Yeldell, leaders of Troop 10, presented Girl Scout pins, after each girl had given her Promise.

Flying up, that is, becoming intermediate Scouts, were: Sharon Baxter, Kay Branch, Sandra Cararos, Lenora Carso, Charlene Cascio, Brenda Cobb Bonnie Dupuy, Ruth Duvall, Alma Faulk, Sue Hill, Carol Anne McDonald, Diane McGee, Jennifer Parsons, Susie Quillen, Jean Slaughter, Lynn Smith, Jan West, Nancy Wilson, Linda Ruth Bird, Mary Grey James.

Presentation of badges completed since their January court-of-awards followed. Each girl in Troop 10 received My Troop, First Aid, and Hostess badges, which the Troop had worked on as a whole. Several individual badges showed particular interests of the girls. Lynn Lewis and Betty Slaughter had earned First Aid to Animals badge with the help of Dr. Einhorn.

In working on the Hostess badge, the girls went to the home of Mrs. Milton Culley, where they practiced table - setting, table conversation, learned the use of the different pieces of flat silver, as one of their requirements. For another of the ten requirements on the badge, the girls invited Troop 43 to a regular meeting so that the girls could get better acquainted before their joint ceremony. Ruth Johnston, Ann Trousdale, Katie Young, and Lynn Lewis served cupcakes which they had made themselves. Ruth Johnston, who lives in the country, had earned Farm Safety. Martha Higgins received Basketry and Saundra Knowles, Musician.

First Aid as a troop project had been carried on for about a year, with Mrs. Yeldell, one of their leaders, who is a nurse, and Mrs. Martin Schain, a Red Cross Instructor. As part of this work the girls assembled a troop first aid kit, painting the container themselves and shopping for the contents.

Prior to the ceremonies, families had come out after church, bringing picnic lunches, which they ate on the grounds. More than a hundred people were present for the affair.

The picnic and ceremony were the culmination of a two-day troop camp for troop 10. These girls, who are fast becoming experienced campers, did foil cooking for the first time, did all the planning and kaper charts, and most of the shopping for the trip.

Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Yeldell, and Mrs. J. W. Young were the adults who accompanied the following girls: Ginger Culley, Joan Dillon, Lucy Ann Fletcher, Sherry Harrist, Martha Higgins, Ruth Johnston, Saundra Knowles, Sandra Lea, Lynne Lewis, Patty Prophit, Betty Slaughter, Ann Trousdale, Ellen Wedemeyer, Frances Yeldell, and Katy Young.

CUTE BABIES — Placing first in the Larry Robinson baby contest recently was Pamela Tripp, left, nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Tripp, Jr., of Monroe. Her grandmother is Mrs. Robert H. Goza. Winning second place was Paula Karen Bell, center, fifteen-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade C. Bell of Monroe. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Fox of West Monroe and Mrs. W. C. Bell, Sr., of Greenwood, Miss. In third place was Diana Jones, right, eight-month-old daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Iva Jones of Fairbanks. The mother is the former Earlene Welch of Fairbanks. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch of Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones of Wilmot, Ark.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: In a recent article you wrote about the mother being a "free maid" to her daughter's family. Well, I have been one for eight years in similar circumstances. Everything was just jim dandy until I took sick, when I was told to move on to one of my other three children. Fortunately, my illness was a temporary one and I am well and strong again. I learned, however, what would happen! I am now employed and am a "paid maid." I have a bank account, one day off a week and am independent. Nobody to tell me or insinuate that they are supporting me. My only regret is that I didn't get a paid job eight years ago.—Happy Paid Maid.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Excuse the expression, but I think your advice to Mrs. W. N. was all wet. I've been married for six long years and my husband has never shown me any respect, understanding or consideration. I have tried everything, even going to a marriage counselor, but you can't teach an old dog new tricks. We have four children and I don't think he realizes they belong to him, too. If I were Mrs. W. N. I would leave him. She may yet find happiness with someone else. I am waiting for the day when they give all the wives guns and have an open hunting season on husbands. Of course, Mrs. W. N. can wait until he falls off the ship, but it will be just her luck some porpoise will push him safely back to shore. — Another Unrespected Wife.

Dear Mrs. Landers: My husband too, gave me only $25 a week to feed our family of four. When my third child arrived, he still maintained it was enough, but I got fed up.

One day I placed on the table a bowl of water in which I had put a piece of soap and a sponge. He asked me what that was and I told him it represented soup, potato and meat and that he did not want to continue on the same diet he had better wake up to the fact that food cost money; that either he gave me enough to cover food expenses or he could eat elsewhere. I received an increase in a hurry. There is one problem, however, that I have never solved. Why are all husbands under the impression that wives are supposed to beg or fight for every penny they need whether it be for food or clothing?—Lottie.

Dear Mrs. Landers: Though my children are only 1 and 3 (which might make a difference from Mrs. M. M.'s situation), my groceries including the milk bill is only $23.50 per week for our family of four. I am very careful about good nutrition and do not feel that we suffer in any way. It is not easy, but, to me it is a challenge to be on the lookout for ways to keep the weekly food bill within this amount.

There are many cookbooks on the market that help. Sometimes, too, cooking economically may include teaching one's family to eat foods they formerly just "thought" they disliked.—Janice M. B.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I also agree with Mrs. M. M.'s husband that she is extravagant by not being able to feed a family of four on $25 a week. The fact that she spends $6 a week on milk proves it; that sounds entirely too much. She probably does not know how to buy, to budget or to plan well-balanced meals. Other families do it on even less and are well fed. —Mrs. M. C.

Dear: I like your column; I think it's keen; Especially folks who write. . ."If you know what I mean!" — Gene G.

P. S. If you know what I mean.

Our Dear Mrs. Landers: Even though I am a grandpa and have been married to the same wonderful woman for 43 years I am one of your constant readers. In regard to the club of six girls who call themselves the DOES, I wonder if parents know what goes on with those movie dates? I am employed in one of the large theaters and believe me what goes on between 12 and 14 - year - olds would make your hair curl; smoking, petting, cutting up the seats and viewing off - color photographs. It's the same in every theater on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon. Parents should visit once in awhile and then insist that the boys and girls meet at their homes instead.—B. G.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of Morning World.

Scrub Elbows To Keep Them Soft

When you wear short sleeves, do you ever think of the appearance of your elbows? They are constantly visible to others and, if uncared for, their gray, pebbly wrinkled look can make you seem years older than you are.

To keep elbows smooth, soft and snowy, every day use a complexion brush to scrub them with thick soap lather, using a firm rotary motion. Bend your arm frequently during the process.

For very bad cases, use pumice or a fine abrasive powder of the type used to clean bathtubs.

When you put on your night cream, scoop a little extra from the jar for your elbows. Massage upwards to help take off the overhanging lump of fat that collects above many girls' elbows.

Constant resting of the elbows on tables and chair arms helps cause the darkening. So eliminate this as much as possible.

To bleach elbows, cut a lemon in half, squeeze the halves, but not too thoroughly, and rest your elbow in them.

Nuptial Vows Set For July

NATCHEZ—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Junkin of Natchez, Mississippi announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Laura Sophie to Anatole Charles Gauthier, Jr., of St. Martinville, Louisiana, and Natchez. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anatole Charles Gauthier of St. Martinville, La.

Miss Junkin graduated from Natchez High School, and attended St. Mary's College of Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind. She graduated from the University of Mississippi where she was a member of Chi Omega social sorority.

Miss Junkin was queen of the Confederate Pageant, Natchez Pilgrimage in 1949.

Mr. Gauthier served as a navigator in the Army Air Forces in World War II. He graduated from Louisiana State University as a Petroleum engineer where he was elected to membership in Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity. He is presently in the core analysis business and is a partner in the petroleum engineering firm of Gauthier and Heard in Natchez.

The wedding will be solemnized early in July at St. Mary's Cathedral in Natchez.

Desk - Derrick Club Hears Mr. Colligan

The regular meeting of the Desk and Derrick Club of Monroe was held at the Hotel Frances at 7:00 p. m., Tuesday, May 12 at which time Mr. J. P. Colligan, division supervisor of Personnel Relations, of Freeport Sulphur Company, presented a lecture on the story of Sulphur. Mr. Colligan has had eleven years of service with the aforementioned company and his office is located at Port Sulphur, Louisiana.

Sulphur might seem very uninteresting to the average person but it is truly a magic element of the earth to which early man attributed religious miracles and which today is producing miracles for industry, medicine and agriculture. In fact, almost everything we use each day can thank the yellow mineral for its existence. Here in the United States, some 9 pounds a year are consumed for each man, woman and child.

It was in the state of Louisiana that the Frasch method of mining sulphur not as a solid, but as a liquid was established after eight years of painstaking trials and disappointments. There are vast deposits of this mineral in the state, especially in the southern part, and every day research is being conducted to have more sulphur and more products made therefrom.

Fish fillets are good enough for a company supper if they're served with an almond sauce. To make the sauce, melt six tablespoons of butter or margarine in a skillet; add a half-cup of slivered blanched almonds and stir constantly over moderate heat until the almonds are delicately browned. Spoon the sauce over four servings of broiled fish fillets.

Want to make a quick getaway ?

THE nearest we can come to word-picturing for you how it feels to drive a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow* is this:

When you toe the gas treadle, you can get away like silked lightning in a silent hurry.

More specifically, you can sweep your speedometer needle from zero to a legal 30 mph in the time you normally take two breaths.

Equally important, you get this dazzling getaway with whisper quiet—and with one smooth, progressive build-up of velvety power.

The literal truth is—no other car in all the world can get away with the combined quickness, quiet and utter smoothness of a 1953 Buick with TT Dynaflow.

It takes more than the advanced new engineering of this fully automatic transmission to produce such thrilling performance, of course.

It takes power, too.

And that's here in full measure—the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in Buick's fifty great years—with the world's most advanced V8 engine powering the SUPER and ROADMASTER.

There's a lot more you get in any 1953 Buick in generous and hard-to-match measure—room, comfort, ride steadiness, visibility—and, above all, value.

But these are things you must discover for yourself—as you must the greatest Buick performance in history.

Why not drop in on us real soon? We'll be happy to put you at the wheel of a new Buick and let our points prove themselves.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

All set for Summer

WHICH OF THESE REASONS DO YOU HAVE FOR BUYING A HOME?
*CROWDED?
*UNDESIRABLE LOCATION?
*LANDLORD DIFFICULTIES?
*TOO FAR FROM SCHOOL?
*HIGH RENT?
*FUTURE SECURITY?
WHATEVER THE REASONS WE SUGGEST YOU SEE THE FOLLOWING:
$10,500—YOUR children are married and you want a smaller home in a nice, quiet section. Here's the answer! A nice two bedroom home located at 2510 Hawthorne, just a block off Park Avenue. It has a living room and separate dining room, brick fireplace with mirror over mantle, metal cabinets, two car garage and attic fan. Will FHA for $8,000.
$15,000—WITH the advent of warm weather, three air conditioning units are not to be sneezed at. This 3 bedroom home at 2510 Chaucer (just off Loop Road) has air conditioning as well as: central heat, nice pine paneled den, car porte, tile bath with shower, nice size lot (92'X 150'). Call for appointment.
$9,500—HERE'S an older home in excellent condition with the yard itself worth the asking price. Three bedrooms, a nice, large screened front porch, hardwood floors, large dining room, new aluminum tension screens and other features galore! The location: 421 Howard St. (Will FHA).
$17,550—ATTENTION all men! If your wife is in the market for a home, by all means hide this from her now! Just a peek at the pine paneled kitchen does it, for who can resist a GE dishwasher or GE disposal? . . . Or three bedrooms with central heat, hardwood floors, attic fan, TWO tile baths, 40 gal. water heater? And to top it all, it in brick! Men don't you dare drive by 1622 Milton!
$13,750—THIS one will G. I. for $1350 down! Three bedrooms, all copper plumbing, 30 gal. water heater, copper gutters and down spouts, underground conduit system for electricity and telephone, floor furnace and attic fan, plus a Bendix! It's located at 1409 Forsythe!
$14,500—ONLY $1900 down moves you into a new 3 bedroom brick home with TWO tile baths. Hard to believe? Well, that's not all! Central heat, attic fan, hardwood floors, storage in car porte, 40 gal. water heater, metal cabinets in kitchen AND this price includes the street paving. See on Essex St. in Marie Place.
$7,500—IF YOU'VE been looking for a neat 2 bedroom home with large bedrooms, here's your answer. At 3802 Dick Taylor, this home, which is less than 5 yrs. old, has a nice 75 X 150 lot with a fenced back yard as well as a spacious kitchen with a double sink, Venetian blinds, metal gutters & downspouts. $2,089 down and assume monthly payments of $50 per month.
$14,000—IT'S unbelievable, but that's what this three bedroom brick home on Broadmoor Blvd. is selling for. Check these features and you'll agree! 6 rooms, enclosed garage with storage, carpets on living and dining room, a spacious, well arranged kitchen with breakfast area & sliding door closets. This NEW home has over 1600 sq. ft. of floor space and what's more it's on a large lot 112'x125'. Already financed.
$8,818—FOR $1750 you can move into this three bedroom home at 313 Georgia St. It has plumbing for auto. washer, vent-a-hood, double sink, back yard fenced, floor furnaces, attic fan & hardwood floors. Monthly payments, $50.
$9,450—ONLY $1300 down makes the move you've been debating for some time, that is the move from under high rent and into a home of your own! This honey of a home at 1403 McGuire is brand new and ready to make some one happy . . . and that won't be hard when you see the kitchen with loads of cabinet space and large windows, or the attic fan & panel ray heat, or the storage space in the car porte or . . . well, we could go on and on, but why bother. One look is worth a thousand words.
$8,615—IT'S been reduced for a quick sale, but that's secondary when you see how thoroughly it's been re-decorated! New paper and painting in all 5 rooms as well as the hardwood floors refinished. It's located at 309 Riverbend in West Monroe.
$15,200—HERE'S a SOLID brick home with three bedrooms, two baths, carpeting on living and dining room, den which looks out over covered patio, central heat, metal fencing around back yard and for the man whose been looking for a place to put his dogs, there's a fenced dog yard at the rear of the lot. Speaking of the lot, it's 75x x 200' with shrubs and trees a-plenty. The location is 108 Ozone St. in West Monroe.
$9,800—This one is growing fast on Eason Place in North Monroe. Two bedrooms with a tile bath, wall heat, attic fan, lots of kitchen cabinets, double sink and washer plumbing in storage. Drive by and take a gander.

All Sets Equipped With UHF and VHF

New RCA VICTOR television

Finer than ever... Finest of all...

in these 5 ways

1. "Magic Monitor" circuit system

The exclusive Magic Monitor has been improved to a peak-point of efficiency to bring in the finest TV pictures possible—and hold them —AUTOMATICALLY! Here's what it does:

1. Screens out static from planes, cars, appliances—2. Steps up power, holds picture brightness constant—3. Ties best sound to clearest picture —all automatically.

2. "Deep Image" picture tube

RCA Victor's improved picture tube is one of the most important developments in the TV industry. The electron beam which produces the image has been refined to micro-sharpness. The image it now creates is more accurate, more lifelike than ever before. Secondly, the phosphor screen is now so superfine, it's coated with billions of tiny crystals.

3. New long-distance reception

For those in far-out fringe areas and for those in difficult city reception areas, picture performance has been stepped way up. Sound sensitivity has been increased, too. This means more relaxed television enjoyment for you, and finer listening than ever before through the famous RCA Victor "Golden Throat" tone system.

4. New Automatic UHF-VHF tuner

RCA Victor's new all-channel tuner can receive all stations in any area—and that includes the new UHF stations. By actual tests, this advanced, built-in automatic tuner has twice the sensitivity of many other UHF tuners. It gives you the finest performance possible. (Optional, at extra cost.)

5. New wider range of cabinets

More styles than ever before in RCA Victor history . . . Modern, Contemporary, Colonial, Provincial, Regency, Empire. Finishes include mahogany, walnut, limed oak, maple, and cherry. Screens have matching "picture frames" for easier viewing. This year, as in years past, RCA Victor is sure to be America's favorite for TV cabinetry!

MAY WE HAVE SOME MONEY FOR THE MOVIES, DADDY?

SURE. HERE YOU ARE

DARLING, I'M GOING SHOPPING-- I'LL BE GONE FOR A COUPLE OF HOURS

OH, BOY--I'LL HAVE THE HOUSE ALL TO MYSELF

AH--PEACE AND QUIET--THERE'S NOTHING SO GOOD FOR THE NERVES AS TO LIE IN A TUB OF STEAMING WATER AND SOAK

WHO'S AT THE DOOR?

IT'S MR. DITHERS, DAGWOOD-- I HAVE TO TALK TO YOU ABOUT THESE BLUEPRINTS AT ONCE

WE'LL SEND THAT SET AND KEEP THIS IN OUR FILES

THAT'S THE WAY I'D DO IT

OH, THOSE DELICIOUS-LOOKING BERRIES-- THEY'LL BE WONDERFUL FOR CANNING

I WANT MY HUSBAND TO SEE THEM BEFORE I DECIDE

I'LL DELIVER THEM PERSONALLY, MRS BUMSTEAD

HE'S UPSTAIRS IN THE BATHTUB--- FIRST DOOR TO YOUR LEFT

THANK YOU

HEY! WATCH OUT FOR THAT SOAP

WHERE DO YOU KEEP YOUR BROOM? I'LL HELP YOU CLEAN IT UP

I'M NOT GOING TO CLEAN IT UP--- I'M GOING TO GET DRESSED AND GO TO THE MOVIES

SOMEDAY I'M GOING TO STAY HOME AND SEE WHAT GOES ON AROUND HERE WHILE I'M AWAY!

THE BLUE★MAGIC SUDS

Exclusive NEW formula with BLUE★MAGIC WHITENER!

First and only clothes-washing detergent of its kind!

Next washday . . . win compliments with the whitest, brightest wash possible! CHEER can guarantee it. Here's why:

New CHEER's exclusive formula brings you a scientific discovery—a Blue★Magic whitener that whitens and brightens in the newest, most modern way. And it's safe for even the most delicate washable colors in your family wash!

P.S. You'll cheer blue CHEER for dishes, too! Even in hardest water, CHEER's instant, white "soft-water" suds make dishes and glassware sparkle, without wiping. No scum, no film. And CHEER is truly gentle on your hands!

Magic BLUE granules make Instant White Suds!

Everything in a single box—for everything you wash!

Presto! Just watch those blue granules dissolve in a flash into rich, white suds—long-lasting, magic-action suds that "unfasten" even the greasiest grime—and then keep it from settling back into the clothes.

So CHEER can guarantee you not only the whitest, but the cleanest washes possible!

Double-your-money back if you don't agree that CHEER gives you the cleanest, whitest washes possible. Just new CHEER alone—for everything in your family wash!

Great for all types of washers—conventional and automatic

New FAB WASHES WHITER

WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

BLEACH IF YOU LIKE! BUT WHETHER YOU DO OR DON'T—FAB WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

GIANT SIZE FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP NO DULLING SOAP SCUM WONDERFUL FOR DISHES, TOO!

A COLGATE-PALMOLIVE-PEET PRODUCT

NOTHING WHITENS LIKE FAB! You'll actually find that Fab washes most of your clothes whiter without a bleach—whiter than any soap, whiter than any washing product known with a bleach in the wash water.

IF YOU ADD A BLEACH TO FAB for your few stained, extra-soiled clothes, they'll come whiter, too—far whiter than with any other product and a bleach. For new Fab's exclusive whitening action is not affected by bleach.

WHAT'S MORE—FAB OUTCLEANS any soap! Washes out dirt; leaves no dulling soap scum.

SAVE WORK! SAVE HANDS! Fab immediately loosens dirt and keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking is needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out—even in hardest water. And Fab is wonderfully mild to hands!

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF! Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pots and pans shiny clean! If a bit of food clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring, no wiping—with Fab!

AND FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP ON EARTH!

When a woman wants to know if something is really clean . . . she uses her nose!

When a good housekeeper walks into a strange house, she hardly needs to look around to see how clean it is. The smell tells her.

It's the same with laundry. For ages women have judged it by its fragrance as well as by appearance.

It's not a superstition

Far from it. For your nose tells you what your eyes can't see. When your clothes are really clean, they smell clean. It's a wonderful smell.

This clean, sweet smell depends a lot upon the soap or detergent you use. Some products leave clothes with a stale smell, due to insoluble soaps. Some detergents leave a medicinal or chemical odor.

Every woman knows how her laundry ought to smell. It ought to smell as if it had been hanging outdoors on a fine Spring morning. And that is just exactly how it will smell when you use the SURF that's at your grocer's now.

For when you wash clothes with SURF, they smell like sunshine. They smell that way whether you dry them indoors or out, on a line or in a dryer. They smell that way in summer and in winter.

A promising invitation

You can prove this for yourself very easily. Buy a box of SURF and compare it with any other detergent. Use it for every cleaning purpose. Pack the kids off in SURF-sweet clothes. Button your man into a SURF-sweet shirt. Do up the dishes with it. And end the day in sheets that smell like a summer vacation.

Then, if you don't agree that SURF does a better job for you, send the box top to Lever Brothers, and we will return every penny you spent, plus postage—cheerfully.
